Dr Hull's Truss For the relief and cure of Hernia, or Hupture. Dr. AMOS G HULL, baving wit nessed, during twenty five years practice in Surgery, the distress and misery attending the disease of Rupture, and the fatal consequences fre quently incident to it, and being conzinced that the unhappy effects were generally the result of badly constructed Trusses, or the neglect to use any, was prompted from feelings of professional duty, and an anxious desire to witness a more effectual remesire to witness a more effectual remedy, to devote a share of his time to he construction of an instrument for that purpose. He is now satisfied that he has brought into successful opera tion a Truss, constructed on a principle and adapted to all cases of Rupture in both sexes; always, with out an exception, fulfilling the indi-cation of confining or keeping up the bowel, and often, especially in young persons and recent cases, effecting a permanent cure.

Let it be observed that the pad of this truss, instead of being convex ike that of all other Trusses, is slightly concave, like the open palm of the hand. This pad being placed over the rupture and the spring of the truss exerting its power upon the centre of it, the strong pressure is made by its circular margin, around the rupture opening and a diminished pressure by its centre. It thereby not only prevents the escape of bowel, but approximates, and often unites the ruptured part so as to effect a radical cure of the complaint.

The following testimonials in its fa your, are submitted to the public Extract from the second edition of .. Thatcher's Modern Practice of Physic." Poston 1826. "A great variety of Trusses, formdifferent principles, have been from time to time, introduced to pub lic notice; but with one exception it may be asserted, that they have been found altogether deficient in those just principles upon which such instru-ments ought to be formed. It is with mants ought to be formed. It is within a few years that a Truss has been invented by Dr. A G Hull, a respectable Physician and Surgeon of New York, and late President of the Onei da Medical Saciety, which is incomparably superion in its principles and properties to any of those previously in use. Dr. Hull is acclusively entitled to the credit of first adapting the true surgical principle for the rasical true surgical principle for the radical cure of Hernia He happily conceived due idea that the pad of the Truss should be so constructed as simply to ripport the muscular fibres around he ring or aperture as much as pos the ring or aperture as motion they are sible, in the state in which they are maintained in perfect health. Unless this be attained the parts can never recover their natural tone, whatever thay be the degree of pressure applied"

Valentine Mott, M D Professor of Surgery in the University of New York, deposes:

"The great and signal benefits which are produced by this Truss, result from its strict subservance to, and accordance with Scientific and Surgical principles. Its mechanical adaptation to the parts, the simplicity of its construction the limited motion nicely graduated by experiment, to the different attitudes of the body and to the action of the muscles; the permanency of its location on the bo dy, and its pressure on the circum ference of the abdominal ring, are qualities, the tendency of which is to strengthen and restore the weakened parts, to contract the aperture, and ultimately to accomplish a cure of the disease.

"The operation and effects of this Truss is therefore directly the reverse of all Trusses heretofore in use which being convex tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture open ing" 'I have adopted it in my own practice to the exclusion of all others and am of opinion that the union of physical design and mechanical struc thre in this instrument render it what has long been the desideratum of practical surgeons in Europe and A.

T. W. Hunter, M. D. of N. York is approved of by the most eminent Surgeons in the United States and Europe, particularly by the celebrat-ed Sir Astley Cooper, of London.

Joseph Evans, late of Philadelphia, Leather Merchant deposes as follows, "Having been ruptured about seven years ago, I applied to Dr. Hull, in person, who furnished me with one person, who furnished me with one of his Trusses, and after wearing it about six months, I found myself en irely cured, so much so that I can walk about with safety, without wear ing the Truss; and in my opinion it is one of the greatest improvements and blessings to mankind that is known. Extract from the Medical Review and Extract from the Medical Review and

FOR PRINTING The Journals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland.

Held in the City of Annapolis, in the years 1774, 1775 and 1776.

IF Sufficient encouragement be of fered, the Subscriber proposes to pub-lish, in one volume octavo, the Jour nals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland in the years 1774, '5 and '6. It is believed that there are no more than two copies of these Journals now extant; and from the circumstance that they were printed in pamphlet form, and unbound, it may be fairly concluded that they, too, must in a few years be destroyed by the mere decay of time. These Journals are the only authentic evidence of the Political Hisory of Maryland, during that interesting and unquiet period. Although we have, in abundance, histories Maryland, as connected with the asso ciation of Provinces and Colonies, at that time formed, for mutual protection against the improper assumption of power on the part of the Mother Country, yet none of these works embrace what may be termed its Domestic and Internal Political History.

This part of the history of Maryland it should be her pride to hand down to posterity, not only on account of its deep interest, but as a public State Record of the voluntary sacrifices, daring spirit, and determined re-solution, of her citizens, during this period of doubt and dismay.

In the confident expectation that the citizens of Maryland will consider the proposed publication of sufficient imortance to entitle it to their patron age, the Subscriber is induced to Issue these proposals.
