

HYMENEAL. Married, on Thursday evening last, this county, by the Rev. Mr. Watson, Mr. HOWARD LEE, to Miss J. J. daughter of Mr. WILLIAM COLE.

In Baltimore, on Tuesday evening last, by the Rev. Dr. Roberts, NICHOLAS BRADY, Jr. Esq. to Miss CATHERINE M. daughter of Mr. J. J. In this city, by the Rev. Mr. Watson, on Tuesday the 11th inst. Mr. JOSEPH FOREMAN, to Miss REBECCA JOHNSON, both of Anne-Arundel county.

JACKSON CANDIDATE. We are authorized to announce THOMAS W. HALL, Esq. as a candidate for the office of Elector of the United States, in the district composed of the city of Baltimore, Anne-Arundel county and the city of Annapolis; and to say, should the majority of the electors confer to him the execution of the high trust delegated to an elector, that he will vote for that distinguished General ANDREW JACKSON, as President.

Mr. HALL it will be recollected, was announced as a Crawford candidate in 1824, but was withdrawn before the election took place. The principles which he avows, and the character which he sustains, are as honorable to him now as they were at that period; and as what was then said by the friends of Mr. Crawford, we equally apply to him now, we will quote their language in speaking of him. They said—"In his principles he has been uniformly Republican. He is well known as a public servant, having been several years a member of the state legislature, and a member of the executive council, and discharged the respective duties of these stations to the satisfaction of the public. To his integrity, and the general correctness of his deportment in both public and private life, his fellow citizens of Anne-Arundel county can at all times bear testimony; and nothing would now be said of his merits, was it not possible, that remote parts of the district, there be some to whom his character is known."

From a letter received in this city dated "Baltimore, Sept. 11. The people here appear to be pretty well satisfied with the conduct of Mr. G. H. Stewart and Mr. Mahon; for both the laws of gallantry and loyalty forbade them again to press their claims. The knights took a hasty departure from the castle, and Hildever was shortly afterwards united to the object of his affection.

FROM ENGLAND. By the Packet Ship Columbus at New York, London papers to the 5th, and New York papers to the 6th August received. From the London Sunday Times, two important events have occurred the last week. Our Commercial Gazette will be pleased to hear, that the bootless struggle between the Emperor and the Republic of Brazil and Mexico, has been taught wisdom by error, and finding themselves mutually exhausted, have signed a preliminary treaty of peace. The other event is still more important. The Pacha of Egypt has declared his independence, and has officially signified his intention of no longer participating in a bloody struggle carried on by the Powers of Greece. This step may be considered as neutral support to her cause, and is, as we have seen, as a constant development of the Pacha's policy, who has ever had the advantage of his more active cooperation. The result will be important to us, especially as regards commerce. The commerce of the Levant is considerably what it would be if the Greeks were cultivated by the rules of modern agriculture.

It will be seen, from the last Commercial Gazette, that Russia will soon have a great and unusual force in the Mediterranean, under Adm. Bellinghousen. It consists of not less than 21 vessels of war, 9 are ships of the line. This looks like a determination to end the long protracted struggle in the Levant, and the reluctant assent of Turkey to the positions of the allies. But it is not to inspire caution and fear, but to show that our fleet in the above quarter will be employed by our allies. A great deal of hand, and more than usual discretion necessary. With proper precaution, we may be of inestimable advantage to our commercial interests in Egypt. We may congratulate ourselves on the prospect now held out to them of the restoration of their wants of the unbounded necessities of mankind, from the necessities of a close connection with the family of States must speedily intervene, both shores of the Levant. To connect Egypt and Greece, Algiers, Tunis, and into independent States, separated by the Grand Seligour. We promote the happiness of the human race, than any combination of Europe could have effected for the same purpose. A treaty is drawing on us, and it is not to be doubted, that it is about to be performed. To connect Egypt and Greece, Algiers, Tunis, and into independent States, separated by the Grand Seligour. We promote the happiness of the human race, than any combination of Europe could have effected for the same purpose.

ADAMS ELECTORAL CANDIDATE. The general committee of Frederick and Washington counties, friends of the election of Mr. Adams, have nominated GEORGE BALTELL, of the former county, and WILLIAM HALL, of the latter county, as electoral candidates.

LATE FROM LIVERPOOL. By the ship United States Captain Wilson, which arrived at New York on Friday evening, having left Liverpool on the 15th ultimo, the editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received London papers to the evening of the 12th, and Liverpool papers to the 15th instanter.

Mr. Canning died at Chiswick on the 8th of Aug. His disorder was inflammation of the intestines and gangrene, attributed principally to intense attention to his official duties. Intense interest was excited by the illness of Mr. Canning. The London correspondent of the Liverpool Courier under date of the 6th August, says—"No event within our recollection has excited a more intense interest in the city than the illness of Mr. Canning. The anxiety to learn the latest intelligence from Chiswick was unabated throughout the day, and the inquiries were so numerous and incessant that it seemed as if the merchants had abandoned their usual occupations for the purpose of making their way through the day as it is during the hours of transacting business. A very marked effect was produced on the public securities."

The London Courier of August 10, says of ministerial arrangements—"It would not only be premature, but idle to talk of what may be the ultimate ministerial arrangements. Lord Godefrich having received his Majesty's commands to form a cabinet, or to speak with more precision, to supply the vacancies occasioned by the lamented death of Mr. Canning, the noble viscount is of course to be regarded as the individual who will be at the head of his Majesty's government. Beyond this no step has yet been taken, but one thing we believe is certain, there will be no change in the principles upon which Mr. Canning's government was established. A Cabinet Council was held at the Foreign Office last night, which sat from 9 till half past 11, at which we may presume those general considerations only were discussed, which would necessarily precede any specific measures. A meeting was dissolved this morning by Lord Godefrich to the King communicating the result."

The Sun of the 11th states that the appointment of Lord Godefrich as First Minister, had given great and general satisfaction. Mr. Huskisson is spoken of for the office of Chancellor of the Exchequer. By the aid of telegraphic communication, Mr. Canning's death was known in Paris 10 hours after it had taken place. Mr. Canning's funeral was to take place on the 16th Aug. and was to be strictly private. He was to be interred in Westminster Abbey.

The following coincidences are both curious and melancholy. About the middle of June 1806—a few months after having formed an Administration, of which he was the head. Mr. Fox made his last appearance in Parliament. In August he was with difficulty removed to the Villa of the Duke of Devonshire, at Chiswick, where, after undergoing sundry operations, he soon afterwards breathed his last, aged 57 years and some months. He was buried in a vault in Westminster Abbey, near the remains of his great rival—Pitt. At the latter end of June 1827—also a few months after having been appointed the head of the Administration, Mr. Canning made his last appearance in Parliament. Illness assuming a still more serious aspect, (he had not been well since the Duke of York's funeral, and his agitations were increased on becoming Premier)—Mr. Canning was invited by the Duke of Devonshire to reside at the fine villa, Chiswick, in the hope that change of air might renovate his health. He also there underwent several operations; but soon afterwards breathed his last—about Mr. Fox's age, dying, it is mentioned, in the same room in which Fox expired. It is, therefore, Mr. Canning will be buried near the vault of Mr. Pitt and Mr. Fox, namely, in the aisle of Westminster Abbey, formed by the great western door. London papers publishes the following: "The Death of Mr. Canning predicted by Nizor the Astrologer.—In an old book, entitled the Prophecies of Nizor, printed in the year 1701, is the following prophetic declaration, which appears to refer to the late melancholy event which has deprived the English nation of one of her brightest ornaments—"In the year 1827, a man will raise himself, by whom the wisdom of the most exalted office in the state, His King will invest him with great power as a reward for his zeal. England will be greatly rejoiced. A strong party will enter into a league against him, but their envy and hatred will not prevail. The power of God, which reigneth over all, will cut him off in his prime, and the nation will bitterly bemoan her loss. O' England! beware of thy enemies." A great friend thou wilt lose in this man."

The imperial Russian fleet from Cronstadt, bound to the Mediterranean, consisting of 8 ships of the line, 7 frigates, and a corvette, under his excellency Admiral Sinavin, passed the back of the Goodwin Sands on the 7th August. Accounts from Bucharest, in the French papers, state the situation of Greece to be very deplorable, and that confidence in Lord Cochrane was much shaken. Difference between Redchid Pacha and Ibrahim Pacha were also said to exist. Accounts from Constantinople to the 10th of July describe the Greeks to be, as heretofore, ideal among themselves. Their affairs did not appear to be in a prosperous state, but on the other hand the Turks appear to be capable of following up their recent successes with effect. The intelligence from Spain in the French papers is very contradictory, and the Quotidienne describes the desertion of the Portuguese troops into Spain, as more considerable than ever.

Alexandria, June 19.—In the afternoon of the 16th, Admiral Cochrane, with twenty-three vessels, appeared before Alexandria. A Turkish brig which was cruising before the port attempted to enter precipitately, but ran aground. A fire-ship which was sent against it having failed, it was soon burnt by a second fire-ship. On the morning of the 27th the Pacha put to sea with thirteen ships determined to bring on a decisive action, but the Greeks were out of sight. The Pacha, who did not go more than a league or two, returned into port, and soon after the Greeks again appeared at some distance. Several of the Pacha's frigates and corvettes, which could not get out on the 17th, had got ready to sail on the 18th in the morning. Twenty-three ships left the port to approach the Greek squadron, which has disappeared. The Pacha has returned, his feet has orders to pursue the enemy to the Rhodes.

Philip E. Thomas, Esq. having resigned the position of President of the Mechanics Bank of Baltimore, George Brown, Esq. was on Saturday last elected President of that institution.

It is stated in the Savannah Republican, that Col. Edward F. Tsetnall, has resigned his seat as a representative of Georgia in the 20th Congress of the United States. His resignation may be attributed to ill health.

Norristown, Sept. 2, 1827. "The Rev. Dr. Ely, in preaching in this place this afternoon, from the word of Amos, 4, v. 12—"Prepare to meet thy God," said, that he heard Andrew Jackson say to a young man, about four years before he was spoken of as a candidate for President, "that there was no happiness either in this world or in the world to come, without true religion." And that he (Dr. Ely) knew that Andrew Jackson had lived up to the principles of true religion from that time to this."

OBITUARY. COMMUNICATIONS. Departed this life on the 5th of August, Mrs. ANN RITTY HAMMOND, aged 35 years, eldest daughter of Elihu Thomas esq. of Anne Arundel county. Yet! another has time consigned to the tomb and eternity! Yet we feel not that extreme awe which is generally attached to death—because her last moments were so calm and so tranquil, and her mind so perfectly resigned to the change, that we confidently believe her's was a change of a world of trouble and tumult for one of peace and quiet. Without a wish to remain, and without a murmur, she submitted to the decrees of Him "who gave and hath taken away." In her death the loss of a daughter, sister and friend is seriously felt, but more particularly will the loss of a kind mother be felt by her tender offspring.

Departed this life on 24th ult. ELIZABETH THOMAS, jun. in the 39th year of her age, eldest son of Ellis Thomas Esq. of Anne Arundel county, after an illness of some weeks. In the meridian of life he was summoned to appear before the awful majesty of Jehovah's just throne. His friends are soled by the evidences of faith in the merits and mercy of a crucified Saviour, which he exhibited in his dying moments—believing that it is not an eternal death, but only a sleep in the arms of that Almighty Saviour who is the resurrection and the life—that his spirit has only winged its flight to join the heavenly chorus, in celebrating God's eternal sabbath.

Manifesto of the Ottoman Porte. On the 9th and 10th of June 1827, a Document was delivered by the Reis Effendi to the Dragomans of the French, English, Russian, Austrian, and Prussian missions, containing the final reply of the Turkish Court respecting the propositions made in favour of the Greeks. The Porte insists to the letter the doctrine of the Holy Alliance, and haughtily rejects all foreign interference on behalf of the liberty of its subjects.

From the New-York Times. SPAIN. With regard to the situation of Spain our French papers received by the Bayard, contain a number of letters and other documents, which show that a revolution in Spain is a very probable event. The King and the Pope are at words points in relation to their respective prerogatives, and the partisans of each are unyielding. There is but one of the ministers in whom the King places any confidence, and after holding an audience with them, the King despatches them, with the exception of M. Colomarde, to a distance of 20 leagues, nearer than which they are not suffered to sleep. A letter published in Galignani's Messenger, says—"The news from Catalonia becomes more and more alarming every day. The bands of Carlists augment greatly, and the Marquis de Campo Sagrado will find himself unable long to prevent a general explosion."

Upon the approach of one of these bands to the small town of Igualada, the inhabitants went out in procession to meet them, carrying crosses, images, and banners, amidst the ringing of bells and shouts of welcome. Upon the banners were inscriptions of "Carls V. forever!" "No Inquisition for ever!" "Down with the Inquisition!" "Down with the Pope!" "Down with the Ministers!" After the inhabitants had joined the band, a multitude of emissaries went out into the country to spread incendiary proclamations among the peasants.

A rumour prevails that the Carlists have made themselves masters of Tortosa, but the general opinion is that the report is false. The existing evil cannot diminish, but on the contrary, must of necessity increase, for such is the exhausted state of the finances, that the Minister of War has been forced to write to the Captains general of the Provinces, authorising them to dismiss such of the officers on unlimited conge as they might think proper.

It will be conceived that these persons, who have no property, who belong to the lowest classes of the people, and who for the most part are disolute characters, will join the Carlists for the sake of pillage, which will enable them to spend an idle and licentious life. The affair relative to the Pope does not appear likely to be settled so much in favour of his Holiness as was expected, for among the reports sent to the Council of Castile by the Fiscals, that of M. Heredia, tending to support the prerogatives of the Pope rather than of the King, was sent back to its author, with orders to revise it, and threats of dismission from his post. As to the re-establishment of the Inquisition, although not formerly authorized by the Government, it has been effected at several places in Catalonia, such as Verga and Oleron towns.

FROM GIBRALTAR. Papers to July 31st, have been received at Boston. Gibraltar, July 28. We learn by a vessel two days from Oran, that a French brig had been taken and carried into that port, and her cargo landed and sold. Upwards of 100,000 Arabs were coming from the interior for the protection of Algiers.

There were 29 deaths in Baltimore during the week ending on Monday morning last—Males 18—females 11. Eleven of the 29 were coloured persons, 9 free, 2 slaves.

A Duel. On Monday last John Roll and Thomas Fernandez, both of whom belonging to the Spanish brig Andromeda, lying at Baltimore, arrived to go on of the city shore to a rural situation, and terminated a difference which existed between them, with honour; when John Roll received a wound which caused his death on Tuesday morning. Fernandez had fired.

ANNAPOLIS & BALTIMORE PACKET. The Subscriber respectfully notifies his friends and the public, that he has lately purchased the New and Substantial built Schooner FELICITY, which commenced running on Monday last as a regular Packet between this City and Baltimore. He offers himself, from his experience in this line of business, that he will obtain a share of public patronage. He will be happy to take freights of tobacco and grain, from any part of Severn and South Rivers, or any of the numerous creeks in the neighbourhood of Annapolis. No pains shall be spared to satisfy and please those who may entrust him with orders or place freights under his care.

The FELICITY, sails from the wharf below the Old Stone Store, in this city. Letters, &c. brought by the Felicity, will be left at the store of Joseph Sanders, next near the market house, where every information relative to the business of the vessel can be had. JOSEPH SANDERS, Jun. Sept. 13.

Table with 3 columns: Names of Lands, Amt. of Tax due. Lists various land parcels and their corresponding tax amounts.

September 11th, 1827. Ordered, by the Orphans Court of Anne-Arundel county, That notice be given in one of the Annapolis newspapers, that on the second Tuesday in October next, the court will proceed to bind Henry Powell, as an apprentice to Thomas King, unless good and sufficient cause be shown to the contrary, of which all persons interested will take notice, and appear on the said day. In the mean time the said Henry Powell is to remain under the care and instruction of said Thomas King, with whom he has lived for the last two years and upwards.

In testimony that the foregoing is a true copy taken from the proceedings of the orphans court, I hereto set my hand and affix the seal of my office, this 11th day of September 1827. Thos. H. Hall, Reg. Wills A. C.

Notice is hereby given, That unless the county charges aforesaid are paid within thirty days after the publication of this notice, that the said lands, or such parts thereof, as will be sufficient to pay the tax, and costs thereon, will be sold to the highest bidder, agreeably to the directions of the act of assembly, entitled, An act for the more effectual collection of the county charges in the several counties of this state.

By order, R. J. COWMAN, Clk. to Commissioners of the Tax & A. A. County. September 13.
