

lection, the Jackson... head in every ward in the accounts from the... and from the country, the... cheering character.

The die is cast. (The long agony is over.) NEW-YORK IS FOR JACKSON. Out of thirty-two Senators, we shall have twenty-eight in favour of the General, and out of one Hundred and Twenty Six members of Assembly, we shall have not less than Eighty, in support of the good old cause.

of Heaven upon their endeavours.—But, sir, this is the cause of all orders and classes of society; and my brethren of the Laity, who are present, will allow me to say it is a cause from which, no conscientious citizen, or a christian community, can innocently withhold that support which Providence has enabled him to afford.

men, and satisfied, as he cannot fail to be, of the utility of all human restraints upon the evil propensities of our nature when unaided by the moral power of religion on the heart.—he who does not, according to his opportunities, extend and diffuse this best of all knowledge among his fellow creatures, merits not the appellation of a good citizen—he incurs in the sight of his Maker a fearful responsibility, and to the judge of all hearts he must answer it.

Information having been communicated to Robert Lewis, Mayor and Coroner for this Corporation, of the death, by suicide, on Monday night, of Wm. Kilby of the county of Culpeper, and late teacher of the English Grammar upon a new and improved method, a Coroner's Inquest was called and held at the house of Boswell Alston, Tavern-keeper, in this place.

NEW YORK ELECTION. From the Commercial Adv. of Saturday. Adams Press. Election Returns. In every county from which we have heard this morning, save one, the Jackson men have succeeded. Even in Albany, but one of the Administration men has been elected, Mr. Sil. Messrs. Butler and Verplanck, Jackson candidates, are elected, Rensselaer, too—Rensselaer, where, three weeks ago, three hundred Jackson men could not have been found, and even week before last the best calculators awarded us a majority of 1000, has given 400 Jackson majority.

but what is far above all other praise, she was a sincere, pure, and humble Christian. During a tedious and languishing sickness of more than a year's continuance, which by a slow but steady progress, injured her way to the grave, she was never known to utter a fretful or repining expression; calm and serene, she at all times exhibited the most humble acquiescence and resignation to the will of her Divine Lord and Master. She was in the constant, habitual preparation for the awful change which awaited her, with a firm reliance for her acceptance with God, and a joyful entrance into the blissful mansions of never ending felicity, through the immaculate righteousness, and all sufficient merits and atonement of her blessed Redeemer.

Part II. Vol. VII. HARRIS & JOHNSON'S REPORTS, Is just published, and ready for delivery to Subscribers. Nov 15 DEMOCEDDES Second Edition (Revised) with an additional Scene just published, and For Sale—Price 18 cents. Nov 15 DR. DAVIS, Intends, on the first of January, to open a Classical and Mathematical school at his dwelling near the Poplar Spring. The annual charges will be—For Tuition, (stationary not included) $32 For Board, Lodging, Washing, Fuel & Candles, included $100 Total $132 Quarterly payments in advance will be expected. Nov 15 Notice. I hereby forwarn all persons trespassing with dog or gun, or in any other manner whatsoever, upon my farm called Pettibone's Rest, as I am determined to put the law in force against all such offenders. Nov 15 P. Pettibone. Public Sale. The subscriber will sell at public vendue, on Tuesday, 11th December, at five, if not, on the next fair day thereafter, on the plantation at present occupied by her, one mile above the Governor's bridge, in Anne Arundel county all the personal property, consisting of many Valuable Negroes, Men, Women and Children, Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, Plantation Utensils, Corn, Fodder, Hay, and Provisions of every description, and a variety of other articles too tedious to enumerate. TERMS OF SALE Six months credit will be allowed upon all sums of twenty dollars and upwards, upon the purchaser giving bond or notes with approved security, bearing interest from the day of sale for sums under that amount the cash will be required. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock, A. M. Rebecca Durall. Nov. 15. Public Sale. By virtue of an order from the orphans court of Anne Arundel county, the subscriber will offer at Public Sale, on Saturday the 1st day of December next, at the Overseer's House on the farm of John Mercer, West River. The Personal Estate Of James Davis deceased, consisting of a Board, Sideboard, two feather Beds, one dozen Chairs, Mahogany Table, and two Guns, &c. Terms of Sale—A credit of six months will be given for all sums of five dollars, or upwards, the purchaser giving bond, with security, with interest from the date; under that sum, the cash to be paid. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock Wm. E. Pesch, Adm'r. W. A. November 8, 1827.

Barthland Gazette ANNAPOLIS THURSDAY, NOV. 15, 1827.

JUNIUS. The writer of Junius was Mr. Lloyd, Secretary to George Grenville, and Brother to Philip Lloyd, Dean of Norwich. This will, one day or other, be generally acknowledged.—Dr. Parr.

From the (London) Literary Gazette. SIR WALTER SCOTT'S NEW WORKS. The Chronicles of the Canongate, about to appear from the pen of the Author of Waverley, are three in number. I. The Highland Widow. II. The Two Drovers. III. The Surgeon's Daughter.

UNNATURAL MURDER. In the London Sun is reported the trial and condemnation of Mary Wittenback, aged 41 years, for the wilful murder of her husband Frederick Wittenback, on the 21st of July, by administering arsenic to him in a pudding.

WISCONSIN, Maine, Nov. 2. AN ODD SHEEP. A correspondent has politely furnished us with the following account of a sheep, that was lately discovered in the flock of a farmer in an adjoining town, which exhibited a phenomenon equally interesting to the Naturalist and the Physiologist.

From Paulson's Amer. Daily Adv. Address of THOMAS DUNLAP, esq. at a meeting of the friends of the Bible, held in this city, on Tuesday, the 23d October, 1827, on offering the second resolution.

NORFOLK, Nov. 5. The officers of the French frigate La Circe, Com. Duval Dailley, yesterday celebrated the anniversary of the death of St. Charles, in honour of His Most Christian Majesty, Charles X. At sunrise, and again at noon, the frigate fired a royal salute, during the day was beautifully decorated with the flags of all nations.

Fredericksburg, Nov. 7. SUICIDE. Information having been communicated to Robert Lewis, Mayor and Coroner for this Corporation, of the death, by suicide, on Monday night, of Wm. Kilby of the county of Culpeper, and late teacher of the English Grammar upon a new and improved method, a Coroner's Inquest was called and held at the house of Boswell Alston, Tavern-keeper, in this place.

SINGULAR TRIAL. Breach of Promise of Marriage. At the Galway Assizes lately, an action was brought by Miss Doyle, the daughter of an apothecary, deceased, against Mr. Hugh Clarke, a partner in a mercantile house, for a breach of promise of marriage, damages laid at £2500. The plaintiff became a quondam with Mr. C. in 1819. In 1822 he proposed marriage, and was accepted. Various reasons were assigned by the defendant as causes of delay until 1824 when her brother thought fit to remonstrate with him. Mr. Clarke wrote a very civil reply, and stated that he could not conveniently marry immediately, and wished to have it delayed a little longer. The family refused to listen to any further postponement, and declared their willingness to have the match broken off and for ever put an end to.

Christianity alone has mitigated the horrors of war—has elevated the pursuits of peace—raised the oppressed—taught the proud man moderation—tamed the ferocious vices of the world—dignified the humble virtues and charities of life—brought peace and good will upon earth, and is hourly extending and confirming wherever her voice is heard, the universal reign of order, law, truth, charity and right.

From the Schuoharic Republican. ANECDOTE OF GEN. HAMILTON. During the life time of this distinguished statesman, and while on a journey to Albany, he chanced to put up for the night at a tavern in one of the small villages on the Hudson river, where a Mountebank had advertised a display of his ingenuity at slight of hand, black wire, &c. on that evening, he was induced by motives of curiosity, and a desire to while away the tedious hours of a winter's evening, the General took a front seat in the apartment allotted for the performances. His keen piercing eyes did not escape the observation of the Juggler, who, stepping up to him and handing him a silver dollar, politely requested him to hold it until he should call for it, adding that it might escape his fingers without his knowledge. The General, thinking some harmless trick was intended, and being desirous of humoring the joke, very readily took the dollar, & clenching it fast in his hands, waited in momentary expectation of some attempt being made to extricate it from his grasp without his privy. The Juggler, when he attempted to perform a new trick, would first cast an inquiring glance at the General, as much as to say, "now look out for the dollar!" when the former would immediately look into his hand to convince himself that he was yet in possession of it. After the performance was ended, the Mountebank requested his dollar of Gen. H. who on returning, observed that he could discover no trick in it. "I do, though," replied the Mountebank: "You had not been three minutes in the room, when I perceived that if I did not do something to divert your attention, you would detect me in every trick I attempted; I therefore gave you the dollar to hold, and managed to have it about so much of your attention, that I got thro' the performance much better than I anticipated when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me!

From the Schuoharic Republican. ANECDOTE OF GEN. HAMILTON. During the life time of this distinguished statesman, and while on a journey to Albany, he chanced to put up for the night at a tavern in one of the small villages on the Hudson river, where a Mountebank had advertised a display of his ingenuity at slight of hand, black wire, &c. on that evening, he was induced by motives of curiosity, and a desire to while away the tedious hours of a winter's evening, the General took a front seat in the apartment allotted for the performances. His keen piercing eyes did not escape the observation of the Juggler, who, stepping up to him and handing him a silver dollar, politely requested him to hold it until he should call for it, adding that it might escape his fingers without his knowledge. The General, thinking some harmless trick was intended, and being desirous of humoring the joke, very readily took the dollar, & clenching it fast in his hands, waited in momentary expectation of some attempt being made to extricate it from his grasp without his privy. The Juggler, when he attempted to perform a new trick, would first cast an inquiring glance at the General, as much as to say, "now look out for the dollar!" when the former would immediately look into his hand to convince himself that he was yet in possession of it. After the performance was ended, the Mountebank requested his dollar of Gen. H. who on returning, observed that he could discover no trick in it. "I do, though," replied the Mountebank: "You had not been three minutes in the room, when I perceived that if I did not do something to divert your attention, you would detect me in every trick I attempted; I therefore gave you the dollar to hold, and managed to have it about so much of your attention, that I got thro' the performance much better than I anticipated when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me! Gen. H. it is said, was highly amused when you first fixed your eyes upon me!

OBITUARY. COMMUNICATED. Departed this life on Thursday night the first instant, at the residence of her father, Col. John Done, in the city of Annapolis, Mrs. ELIZABETH B. MORTON, wife of Mr. John H. B. Morton, in the thirtieth year of her age. The subject of this short memoir was an amiable and exemplary pattern of the mild virtues of domestic life, a Daughter, a Wife, a Mother, a Sister, and as a Mistress of a Family. She was unostentatious in her disposition; without any ambition for display, she fulfilled all her domestic and relative duties with the warmest affection, and the most kind and assiduous attention; and in her social intercourse she was friendly, courteous and benevolent.

Public Sale. By virtue of an order from the orphans court of Anne Arundel county, the subscriber will offer at Public Sale, on Saturday the 1st day of December next, at the Overseer's House on the farm of John Mercer, West River. The Personal Estate Of James Davis deceased, consisting of a Board, Sideboard, two feather Beds, one dozen Chairs, Mahogany Table, and two Guns, &c. Terms of Sale—A credit of six months will be given for all sums of five dollars, or upwards, the purchaser giving bond, with security, with interest from the date; under that sum, the cash to be paid. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock Wm. E. Pesch, Adm'r. W. A. November 8, 1827.