The committee to whom was referred the memorial of sundry citizens of Harford county, relative to negro slavery,

That the important subjects of the memorial have commanded their most serious and anxious attention. While your committee are compelled to acknowledge the inexpediency of submitting to the house, at the present moment, any system of legislation which might have for its object the abolition of negro slavery in this state, they cannot refrain from expressing their entire confidence, that the time is fast approaching when we shall be relieved from this grievous national calamity. Your committee allude to the great and successful exertions of the American Colonization Society, in aid of which our state has not been backward in contribut-

While your committee are again compelled to deplore the impossibility of providing by law for the sudden removal of this great evil, they think their fellow-citizens are encouraged to press on in the use of those means which have already been resorted to, and to strengthen their hope of final success.

We cannot now, for obvious reasons, follow the examples which have been set us by our sister states to the north and

With them the evil to be subdued was a pigmy, with us it is a monster; with them a superfluous and decaying limb was to be removed; with us the destroying worm is sought for in the root. There, the system, full of health and vigour, submitted cheerfully to the simple cure; here the disvigour, submitted checkers in its greatest strength and worst form-must receive a different treatment, and be gradually subducd by persevering, but not abrupt remedies.

Such is the view your committee take of this subject.—
They beg rease to add, that at the last session of the legislature a donation of one thousand dollars was made to the colonization society, to be applied for the removal of free persons of co.our from this state to Liberia.

This appropriation is a permanent one, and the above sum is to be paid annually to the officers of the society as a contribution on our part to the great objects of their association.
Since the passage of this law, several of our sister states have followed our example to the extent of passing resolutions expressive of their confidence in, and respect for, this so-ciety, and from the growing importance and popularity of the institution, there is every reason to nope that in a short period of time, a targe proportion, if not all the state goveraments, will be found contributing pecuniary aid to onjects

In the opinion of Jours committee, the American Colonization Society is the great and last hope of the slave holding states. The plan of this society for removing gradually, and with there own consent, the whole black population of the country, to colonies on the western coast of Africa, is no longer a speculative one. The colonies have been established, and are fluorising to a great extent; hundreds of coloured persons have already been cransported unities at the expense of the company, and their population is constantly swelling with fresh arrivals from the United States. These colonies are widely extending themselves along the shores of that fertile and productive country: Civilization, letters, laws, religion and happiness, prevail among them, zation, letters, laws, religion and happiness, prevail among them, and the blessings of a free government are already theirs. Under such acspices, and with such advantages, both they and we der such auspices, and with such advantages, both they and we have the surest hope that no lew years, free and enlightened nations will take place of our infant settlements. Your committee say our infant settlements, for since our appropriation for their support, we surely claim may some little ment in the work, and succeed, at least, (as all other states under the same circumstates) have consistent with these colonies. With stances must do,) to a co protectorship of these colonies, with

Your committee have no fear that Maryland will ever lose sight of her great stake in this enterprise, nor but what she will again and always, shew nerself ready to act when suitable occasions present themselves. With our aid five hundred negroes were removed to Africa the last year, and when the society may find itself in sufficient strength to increase the annual number of emigrants from five hundred to five or ten thousand, your committee believe our government will not be found backward in making a proportional contubation. in making a proportional contribution.
