From the Pensacola Gazette, of January 16. ARRIVAL OF THE U. S. SHIP ERIE.

The U. S. Ship Erie, Master Commandant Connor, arrived at Pensacola from Vera Cruz on the 13th January.

The U. S. ship Falmouth, Com. Elliott, and the Peacock, Com. Call, were at Vera Cruz on the 9th of December, the latter to sail for Tampico the next day. Com. Elliott was waiting for the arrival of the mouth of the Mississippi or to Pensacola—Mr. Poinsett was expected to be in Vera Cruz the first week in January. The Erie touched at Campeachy and Sisal for the purpose of making enquiry into the cause of the detention of the schooner Ajax. The explanations received were perfectly satisfactory, and Capt. Connor thinks our commerce in that quarter will meet with no other obstacle.

The cause which have been operating to render the Government of Guerrero unpopular, with a large portion (perhaps majority) of the people (for rather many) of the United States of Mexico, are supposed to be known. The project to accomplish which, the province of Yucatan is now in array, and for which the troops at Puebla, have lately risen, is 'Centralism' by which for the present they wish to seat all power in one individual—that individual is to be St. Anna, and here is the proximate cause of the movements now in progress.

The large District of Campachy, is commanded by St. Anna's brother-in-law and there the ball received its first impulse. The truth is that there is no power known or felt in all Mexico, but the Army. The military power originates and prosecutes a revolution there, at its pleasure, 'the people' have no existence.

While the Erie was at Vera Cruz, it was scarcely possible for the officer left in command during a temporary absence of Gen. St. Anna, at his country residence to keep the troops from declaring for the revolt of Puebla. At Sisal the officers of the Erie understood that Guerrero had left the city of Mexico with 1500 men to march on Puebla & had ordered St. Anna to proceed from Vera Cruz with 500 men to meet him, having Puebla between them. Genl. St. Anna's brother-in-law declared his opinion, that the result would be the junction and co-operation of St. Anna's troops and those of Puebla and the immediate and total overthrow of Guerrero's government.

There is no doubt, that a bloody civil war is now raging in Mexico.

We subjoin a list of the officers of the Erie.

David Conner, Captain, Commandant.

Lieutenants—William Meram, James Goodrum, James Williams, William F. Lynch, Cary H. Hansford.

Surgeon—George S. Sproston.

Sailing Master—Jerome Callan.

Midshipmen—Florida N. Cady, Thomas J. Page, William Radford, Benjamin Moore, Thomas North, Alexander C. Maudslayi, Cicero Price, Richard Bacha, Todd, Captain's Clerk—Robinson.

SOLOMON ETTING.

Baltimore, Jan. 25th. 1830.

IN CHANCERY,

23d January, 1830.

George Conke, and Eleanor A. his wife, and Ellen D. Cooke, and others, their children.

Edward Ridgely, John Stewart, and Eleanor his wife, George Moore and Sally his wife, and John Arnest and Juliet his wife.

The object of this bill is to procure a new trustee to be appointed in the place of Eleanor Dall, late of Baltimore county, deceased, in order to carry into effect the trusts created by certain articles of agreement, made and entered into between the said George and Eleanor then sole, and Eleanor Dall, deceased, on or about the 20th day of June, 1814.

The bill states that said articles of agreement were made in contemplation of a marriage, to be had between said George and Eleanor (now) his wife. That by said articles it was covenanted and agreed that certain estate of the complainant, Eleanor, in the hands of the said Eleanor Dall, deceased, as guardian of the said complainant, Eleanor should be by the said Eleanor Dall (since deceased), invested in manner as therein specified and held in the event of marriage as aforesaid, in trust for the said Eleanor, the complainant, and of the said George, and of the issue of said marriage, in manner as therein specified. That the said Eleanor Dall (since deceased), did in her lifetime invest large sums of money in real and personal, and other securities and estate, in pursuance of said agreement. And has since died, leaving a will, by which she devised the residue of her estate to the defendant, Edward Ridgely; and that the legal title in the real estate so purchased by her in trust, has descended (subject to said trusts) to all the defendants as her heirs at law.

The bill further states, that the defendants, John Stewart and Eleanor, his wife, George Moore and Sally, his wife, and John Arnest and Juliet, his wife, reside out of the state of Maryland. It is therefore adjudged, and ordered that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, printed at Annapolis, once in each of three successive weeks, before the 20th day of February next, give notice to the said absent defendants of the substance and object of their bill, in order that said defendants may be warned to appear in this court, in person or by attorney, on or before the 19th day of June next, to answer the premises, and shew cause, if any they have, why a decree should not pass as prayed.
