Anne Arundel County Court, October Term, 1829.

ON application to Anne-Arundel county court, by petition in writing, of Thomas T. McPherson, praying for the benefit of the act, for the relief of sundry Insolvent Debtors, passed at November session, 1805, and the several supplements thereto, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his said petition, and the said Thomas T. McPherson, having satisfied the said court, by competent testimony, that he has resided in the state of Maryland, two years next, preceding the time of his application, and that he is in actual confinement for debt only; and the said petitioner having taken the oath prescribed by law, and entered into bond with security, for his appearance in Anne-Arundel county court, on the third Monday of April next, to answer such allegations as his creditors may propose to him, and having also executed to a trustee, by the said court, appointed a good and sufficient deed, for all his property, real, personal and mixed, the necessary wearing apparel, and bedding of himself and family excepted, and delivered the same to the said trustee, and the said trustee having also executed a bond for the faithful discharge of his trust, and certified the delivery into his hands, of all the property of the said petitioner, mentioned in his schedule: It is, therefore, ordered and adjudged, by the said court, that the said Thomas T. McPherson, be discharged from the custody of the sheriff of said county, and that the said petitioner, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the city of Annapolis, for three months, successively, before the said third Monday of April next, give notice to his creditors to be and appear on that day, before said court to shew cause if any they have, why the said Thomas T. McPherson should not have the benefit of the said act of assembly, and the supplements thereto as prayed.

For Sale by, JOHN WILMOT.

Jan. 7.

THE SUBSCRIBER

IS authorised by John T. Barr, Esq. to sell at public auction, in Vienna, Dorchester county Maryland, on SATURDAY the 27th day of February next, all the right title and interest in law and equity, which the said John T Barr has in the real estate, lying in Dorchester county, of which the late Robert Dennis died seized, and which was purchased by the said John T. Barr, the 25th day of March last, at a public sale decreed by the authority of the High Court of Chancery.

To those who wish to invest their money in this species of property, this sale is particularly inviting. This estate consists of the following very valuable property, to wit:

No. 1—The home place of the late Robert Dennis, lying in Dorchester county, on the Nanticoke River, three miles below Vienna—Vessels of 500 tons can load within fifty yards of the door. This property, known as LOT No. 7 of Nanticoke Manor, contains about three hundred and twenty-nine acres and a quarter; part of the land is very rich and part of it very heavily timbered, being covered with valuable ship timber.

The improvements consist of a good DWELLING, Kitchen, out houses, and a good barn; all of which require but small repairs to make them excellent.

No 2—Being LOT No. 9 of Nanticoke Manor, and containing about four hundred and thirty acres of upland, and about six hundred and fifty acres of marsh land embanked. This property lies also on the Nanticoke River, a few minutes walk from the home place, and is most advantageously situated as a grazing farm. On this place there are a good DWELLING HOUSE and out houses, and a sufficiency of wood to support the farm.

No. 3—Also the FARM consisting of three tracts of land, called Bridge Neck, Cox's Addition to Bridge Neck, and John's Industry, situated on the main road from Cambridge to Vienna, about three miles from Vienna and fifteen miles from Cambridge. This farm contains about five hundred acres of land, and is justly considered one of the most productive and profitable farms in that improved district of country.

On this place is an excellent apple orchard, DWELLING and out houses, corn houses, stable, &c. and the farm is under very good fencing.

No 4—Another FARM called Trippe's Enclosure, situated on Chiconecomico river, near the Bridge. This tract contains about three hundred and sixty acres of very good quality—a sufficiency of ship timber could be obtained from it to pay for the whole place, leaving still a sufficient quantity to support the farm. This farm is also well enclosed, and has upon it a BRICK DWELLING, &c.

No. 5—A WATER LOT in the town of Vienna, opposite Mr. Coltson's store, unoccupied.

No 6—I will also sell at the same time, the reversion belonging to Mr Barr in that well known and highly valuable property called Mitchell's Mills, which consists of a containing ten acres, one mill seat, one large and commodious grist mill in excellent repair, a good DWELLING HOUSE, kitchen, store house in an eligible situation, and other necessary out houses. The leasehold interest in this property will expire in eight or nine years.

THE TERMS OF SALE ARE—

One fifth of the purchase money cash on the day of sale, the balance to be paid in four equal annual instalments, with interest till paid; the purchase money to be secured by bond and security approved by the subscriber—and on the payment of the whole purchase money, the said John T. Barr will, by a good and valid deed, executed and acknowledged according to law, convey to the several purchasers in fee simple, all his right, title and interest in the property thus sold, free, clear and discharged from all claim of the said John T. Barr. If any person shall bid off any property and fail to comply with the terms of sale, the property will be resold, and the loss arising from the resale, if any, shall be charged to the person failing to comply.

THE JOURNAL OF HEALTH.

CONDUCTED BY AN ASSOCIATION OF PHYSICIANS.

"Health—the poor man's riches, the rich man's bliss."

The primary object with the conductors of the Journal of Health, is to point out the means of preserving health and preventing disease. To attain this, all classes and both sexes shall be addressed, in a style familiar and friendly, and with an avoidance of such professional terms and allusions as would in any way obscure the subject or alarm the most fastidious. The fruits of much reading, study, and careful observation, shall be placed before them, so arranged and applied as to conduce most efficaciously to their bodily comfort and mental tranquility. To whatever profession or calling they may belong, the readers of this Journal will find precepts susceptible of valuable application. Air, food, exercise, the reciprocal operation of mind and body, climate and localities, clothing and the physical education of children, are topics of permanent and pervading interest, with the discussion and elucidation of which the pages of the work will be mainly filled.

Recommendation of the work.

We approve of the plan on which the publication, entitled the 'Journal of Health" is conducted, and believe, that it is calculated to be useful, by enlightening public opinion on a subject of high importance to the welfare of society. The numbers which have appeared, evince talent, and may be viewed as a pledge of the continued usefulness of the publication while conducted by its present editors. We, therefore, feel no hesitation in recommending it to public patronage.

STATE'S BANK.

Sketch of Mr. Teackle's speech in the debate on the bill to establish the BANK OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, on the third day of the discussion of the question, the House having resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and the motion of Mr. Speaker, (Thomas) to strike out the first section of the bill being under consideration—

Mr. TEACKLE rose and addressed the chair to the following effect. The proposition of the Hon. Speaker, is in substance, to strike from the bill, the following, to wit:

"WHEREAS a great number of the citizens of this State, by their petition in writing, have prayed for the establishment of a financial institution, to be founded upon the invested monies in the treasury, for the supply of revenue and the general convenience of the people.

AND WHEREAS, it is deemed to be expedient and beneficial to erect a Bank upon the public funds, for the purpose of accommodations upon special pledges, and extending loans upon the security of real estate—Therefore,

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That there shall be established an institution to be styled the Bank of the State of Maryland"—Or in other words, to destroy the bill, and defeat the wishes of the people who have prayed for the establishment of a State's Bank; and he proceeded to state, that from the extraordinary course which had been pursued by the opponents of the bill, its friends were compelled to argue the merits, before the committee had had an opportunity of hearing the amendments which might be suggested to its various provisions.

The honourable Speaker, said Mr. Teackle, and my two friends from Charles, have urged this course upon the ground of precedents, to test the question in its incipient step, but the gentlemen's views have been directed to the British Parliament, or to the Congress of the United States, where weeks or months are often consumed upon a resolution. But according to the practice of this assembly, I must contend that the pending motion is most unusual, and in nowise calculated to elicit a proper understanding of the subject. And besides we know that it is impossible to command the patience of the house to the deliberate discussion of such a preliminary proposition, as we are scarcely seated, and prepared for business, before in fact we are made acquainted with the wants of our constituents, & the variety of matters to be introduced, when a message is sent "to bring the session to an early close," and to fix definitively a day for adjournment, the effect of which is to put hurry and confusion in the place of a dispassionate regard to the public welfare.

The honourable Speaker, in his argument of yesterday, supposed that a solid phalanx of one fifty or sixty of this assembly had prelatted a design to cut the throat of this in but Hercules—this gigantic bank, or mammoth institution, as he was pleased to call it, at the gentleman spoke hypothetically, and I humbly trust that his murderous hypothesis will not be carried into execution, for if it should be consummated, it would be absolute treason by the laws of England, and subject the traitor to be hung, drawn and quartered; but by the milder code of this republic, it would be merely confinement in the penitentiary, being what the lawyers denominate the crime of mayhem; it would only cut off the right arm of the sovereign power of the state of Maryland, in her principal source of revenue.

The Speaker's objection; for he made but one, is in point of fact, an argument in favour of the propositions as being removed; and I trust that I shall be able to effect its removal; he is left defenceless and must surrender—He objects that the state has granted charters to individuals for a valuable consideration, and consequently that her faith is plighted, and she is virtually precluded from the power to create another bank; even for the benefit of her treasury and the general relief and accommodation—and the gentleman referred to the act of 1813, in support of the supposed pledge;—but admitting the validity of that supposition, which I am by no means prepared to admit, it is strictly limited to the city of Baltimore, and cannot by construction, or any legitimate implication, be made to extend to another section of the state—But, said Mr. Teackle, I hold in my hand a little book (holding up the volume containing the constitution) which nullifies and puts to rest the pretended pledge, even in relation to Baltimore, for I contend, with confidence, that the legislature of 1813, had not the right to grant a monopoly to any community; but on the contrary, they were prohibited in terms almost clear and unequivocal, by the 39th article of the declaration of rights, which wisely declares, that monopolies are odious, contrary to the spirit of a free government, and ought not to be suffered." Now, as the pledge to the existing banks in the city of Baltimore,
