MURDEROUS BATTLE.

A Gentleman who arrived here yesterday, direct from the Western Creek agency, informs us that a war party of Osages returned just before he left from a successful expedition against the Pawnee Indians. He was informed by one of the Chiefs that the party had surprised a Pawnee village, high up on the Arkansas, and had it completely surrounded before the inmates were apprised of their approach. At first the Pawnees showed a disposition to resist, but finding themselves greatly outnumbered by their assailants, soon sallied from the outside of the mouth of the letter-box. outnumbered by their assailants, soon sallied forth from their village, and took refuge in the margin of a lake, where they again made a stand.—Here they were again hemmed in by the Osages, who, throwing away their guns, fell upon them with their knives & tomahawks and did not cease the work of butchery as long as any remained to resist them. Not one escaped! All were slain!! save a few who were taken prisoners, and who are, perhaps destinted to the same that been employed, our police officers were set to work, and, having found out the workshop where a particular part of the work was done, and thus obtained a clue to lead them the detection of the offender, soon traced escaped! All were stain; save a few who were taken prisoners, and who are, perhaps destined to suffer a more cruel death than those who were butchered on the spot. Our informant did not learn what number of the Pawnees for trial. We also learn, that the Osages are so much elated with this victory, that another war party was preparing to go on an expedition against some Choctaws who reside on Red River with whom they have been at variance for some time past for some time past.

THE CANAL.

We hear that the water has been let into the new cut of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, from the Powder-House down to the old Locks, and that the navigation, which has been for some time obstructed dy the operations on that part of the Canal, has been resumed, several boats having come down to Georgetown from the river above. This piece of Canal, about two miles in length is spoken of as a beautiful sheet of water, which answers all the expectations of its projectors and managers. It is believed that, from its dimensions and general construction, the travelling on this Canal will be more expeditious than has yet been realized on any known Canal. One of the boats, lightly laden, is said to have travel-led the two miles in fifteen minutes; that is, at the rate of eight miles per hour. Nat. Int.
