camble into the ditch, along with the laidher, Come hither Davy, and let us both watch by turniture, he fell on the straw pallet, and remained trembling, greaning, and crouching downward, while he glanced with a fearful eye on the picture near the fireplace.

After the first cry of wonder and affright had burst from his lips, Francis remained rigid in the attitude into which the sudden pas-sion had surprised him. With hands thrown back, as if in search of some support, with head put forward, with eyes full of a wild and lovous terror, he continued to stare upon the body, which began to alter fast beneath his ment more, and with a heavy sigh, ment more, and with a neavy sign, the opposed, and eyes of Esther Wilderming were visibly exposed.

This catalogue of destruction may be wound in motion.

die in sin, but 'tis risin' she is to us.'
Francis raised his hand, as if to impose silof the maiden, sigh after sigh burst from her lips and bosom; and, at length, the fringed lid rose, and the watery ball became re-

ourselves to a copious extract from the very aule report on the subject, by a committee appointed by the Philadelphia Medical Societ

"Your committee, in inquiring into the de structive effects of drunkenness, and the deep stake which society has in preventing them, have not felt any great room or necessity for an enlarged discussion. The disastrous conan enlarged uscussion. The disastrous con-sequences of this degrading practice are, un-happily, but too apparent to every one wino witnesses, with a humane interest, the good and evil fortunes of his fellow creatures. We benold them in the destruction of health strength, riches and respectability, and, according to the views which religion has given us of the counsels of the Supreme, in the future misery of an immortal soul.

To no class of men is this dreadful concate around of discourse respectively.

catenation of distresses more visible and more forced on the attention, than to physicians.— Theordinary course of our engagements, which brings us so perpetually in contact with disease and poverty, obliges us likewise to see, in the production of these exils, the prevalent and south influences of southern the second seed of the seed of and steady influence of spirituous liquors. Be gides a numerous class of maladies, of frequent occurrence, to which their use obviousand in a peculiar manner gives rise, the larger number. Their direct effect in exciting to action an existing tendency to gastric and hepatic disorders, or in creating a disposition to them among individuals exposed to the other causes of these morbific derange-ments, has often been commented on by writers of authority. Nearly as large a share may with safety, be ascribed to intemperance in the production of diseases of the brain. Although rom the best authorities, it would now appear, apoplex, palsy, hypothonodrasis and hysteria, it destructive effects minished scale, in whirlwinds—It was highly to rectain that preclaim and freedom the state of the common of the com that the agency of this cause in producing in

"Report of the Committee appointed by the Philadelphia Medical Society, January 24th 1829, to take into consideration the propriety of that Society experiments of the propriety of the society experiments of the propriety of powerful influence which mental anxiety, re-morse and mortification, during their calmer hours, unquestionably exert, in sharpening the pangs of disordered nature, and exhausting the vitality intended to support them.

Come hither Davy, and let us both watch by the fire during the next two hours, it will then be dawn, and we'll bury Esther together.' I the aggravation of mortality from this source, wish to my heart, she was fairly under the ground again,' returned Davy.

A wild cry, a shrick, sud-its who meet with fractures and other severits who meet with fractures and other sever ground again, returned Davy.

A wild cry, a shrick, sudden, hoarse, and horrid, which burst at this moment from the lips of Prancis, cut short annually occur among the labouring classes, of the narrative. It was echoed rushed in a paroxysm of terror towards the door. Stumbling, however, over some loose which arises from that affection furniture, he fell the state of the latter, with that affection furniture, he fell the state of the latter with that affection furniture, he fell the state of the latter with that affection furniture he fell the state of the latter with that affection furniture he fell the state of the latter with that affection furniture he fell the state of the latter with that affection for the latter with that affection for the latter with the state of the latter with the l quors. For the truth of this remark, it is enough to appeal to the experience of any one of those who attend our hospital and almshouse. It will there be found an observation familiar in the mouth of every one, that the intemperate perish of diversified injuries in a ratio altogether disproportionate to the mortality of the other sufferers; a remark which ought to have peculiar terrors for the intemperate among the poor; as the labouter thus finds himself unexpectedly deprived of the safeguard body, which began to alter fast beneath his of that strong constitution upon which he departed the other moved upon the bosom. One pure and fast beneath his pended for his power of supporting bardships. other moved upon the bosom. One mo- and for his recovery from those accidents to which, from his way of life, he is peculiarly

She's risin! roared David, that I mightn't up with those rate and dicadful events, so full ken. of wonder and horror, that credulity seems of wonder and horror. tasked to believe their actual occurrence, the ence, and continued to watch the movements of the maiden, sigh after sigh burst from her and incredible do these narratives appear, that the reader may well be excused from lightly yielding credence to their reality; though evieye lid rose, and the watery ball became revealed and fixed upon his own.

She lives! She lives! cried Francis, springing to his feet, and tossing his clenched hands above his head, while his hair stirred his eye shone, and his whole frame shook with an ecstacy of delight, Earth, air, and sea! she lives! O Death, I thank ye! I thank ye for this gift! My Esther, rise! Arise, my love, my life! Do you know me. Esther? Look on me, my dearest! Do you know your own Francis.

From the Journal of Health. From the Journal of Health.

On the Use and Abuse of Ardent Spirits.

A reference to the language uniformly held in this Journal will satisfy every reader of our opinions respecting the pernicious effects of the drinking of ardent spirits. Their use in any case may, with very few exceptions, be pronounced an abuse, reprobated by every consideration whether human or divine. In again introducing the subject, we shall restrict ourselves to a copious extract from the very consideration to the comparison of facts with others previously known, we can hardly refrain from tracting, in this terrific form of death, the direct and avenging interference of an insulted Deity. long life, in habits of intoxication, action to become food for the destroying element, to become food for the destroying while, we alive. While, from which we make the following extracts, shewing that the first accounts we had of it were far from being exaggerated.

THE WHIRLWIND IN OHIO. The 'Mad River Courant' of Saturday week contains a very particular accounts of the effects of the disastrous whirlwind which passed through Urbana, in Ohio, on the 22d ult.

[Nat. Intel. -From the best information that has been obtained, the Tornado, that, on Monday last, swept through this beautiful and Bourishing village, with such desolating fury, commenced about six miles in a southwesterly direction from this place. It would seem that two powerful currents of air from the northwest southwest, encountered each other, and after a short struggle for the mastery, united their forces and shot off in a northeasterly direction with a rapidity that nothing could withstand. No serious injury, as far as we have learned, marked its progress, until it reached this town as few farm houses lay in its course.

It may be proper here to describe the general appearances, and meteoric indications that characterized the tornado, as it will enable our readers to account for some remarkaly and in a peculiar manner gives rise, they are unquestionably the indirect cause of a still most inexplicable. — The width of the current was not more than one hundred yards; course was somewhat irregular—now shooting to the right—then darting to the left—now rising in the air, and again precipitating itself to the earth's surface. to the earth's surface, with inconceivable velocity. Occasionally, it would seem, portions of the great moving body of warring were detached and thrown out in lateral directions for many yards, where their forces were either spent or refurned to re-unite with the main current. The whole had a rotary dy; and to all this may be added the deep & arrow and hairbreadth escapes of property, life, and limb. Such indeed, is the fact, and would to God, there had been more. The delphia Medical Society, January 24th 1829, to take into consideration the propriety of that Society expressing their online, with treat to that Society expressing their online, with treat to the society of th

Mrs. Ross, her sister, was standing in the ber of Deputies, together with the speech from porch, on the south side of the house, with the throne. The opening took place at the feer infant in her arms—they were both thrown Louvre, on the 2d. His Majesty entered the 25 or 30 feet north over the forestation of Chamilton of The South Advanced in the second over the forestation of Chamilton of Chamilton of the second over the forestation of Chamilton of the second over the forest over the fores the house, into the street, and both escaped the Dauphin being on the The Dauphiness, the ting with her child in her arms, when their that, amidst such a mass of brick and other matter they should have received little or no

"It has been already stated, that the dwel national transfer of the stone foundation was rent from its speech:
bed. It was here that the tempest exerted of Gentlemen.—It is always with confidence bout 13 years of age the youngest an infant of nine months; Mrs. Nancy, wife of Robert Bell, with her daughter Janc, aged near 7 years, her little son William about 2 years; and also Mary Smith, a daughter of Mr. Wilmoderation of the victor and the amicable inand also Mary Smith, a daughter of Mr. Wil-liam Smith, whose wife is a sister of Mr. R. Bell. Of these, Elizabeth S. Thomas and Robott Additional Control of the Control o Robert, children of Mr. George Bell, met with an immediate and fearful death. Eliza-beth, the eldest, was dashed against the farther fence of the burying ground, and was taken up lifeless, with her face much disfi-gured, her body bruised, and her arm bro-found ten or twelve rods from the house, with his head and face most shockingly bruised and mangled; Robert, an infant, was found near a fourth of a mile from the house, with the back of his head dashed to pieces-they were all consigned to one grave on Tuesday. Jane found eighteen or twenty rods from the house, with her skull badly fractured, and she other wise injured—her spirit had not taken its fi-nal departure; surgical aid was resorted to. but in vain; she expired yesterday morning, and the ground has just closed over her man-

··Both of the Mrs. Bells were very dan gerously wounded; but Mrs. Mary Bell is in a situation that almost forbids the hope of reovery. Mrs. Nancy Bell is doing wiel, and ds fair to recover.

Mr. Smith's little girl, was much lacerated, and her skull slightly fractured. Her re-covery, though doubtful, is not despaired of. The remaining three children were all injured, but not dangerously."

Extract of a letter dated.
URBANA, 24th March, 1830. 'The most awful calamity that has ever visited this county, befel this unfortunate town on Monday, 22d inst. by a most dreadful tornado, which destroyed about one third of the town. It rose in the West, about fifteen miles from town and reached here about two or from town, and reached here about two or three o'clock. The destruction of property is immense; and the destruction of lives, and the wounds received, is much more awful, and may be imagined but cannot be described. George Bell, from Cincinnati, vesterday buried three children in one grave, and two others are badly wounded; his wife was so severely injured, as forbids even hope by the physicians. The three children were carried from two to five hundred yards by the storm perity of agriculture and commerce, the main—one was seen flying from forty to fifty feet tenance of fortified places, unfinished works in the air—it was an infant torn from the arms in the sea ports, repairs of roads and comple-of its mother!! The house in which they were tion of canals. Your attention will also be as entirely demolished-scarcely any veswas all destroyed; a bureau was found half a mile from the house, dashed to pieces. He is measures intended to meliorate the condition. left destitute of every thing except what was of retired soldiers. I have been afflicted at on his back. (he being at the store.) In addition to this unfortunate and distressing case ter has made to weigh heavily upon my peouany more heart rending scenes are presented to view whenever we look into the street. In addition to the above, we learn that the ornado demolished the Methodist and Presyterian Meeting houses in Urbana, the mart-house, and a number of other buildings.

ives were despaired of. Mrs Bell died of the LATE FROM EUROPE.

killed-many were so badly bruised that their

There are numerous arrivals at New York with late dates from England and France.-The packet ship Manchester, Sketchley, from Lowre, on the 2d. His Majesty entered the Chamber and took his place on the throne, the Dauphin being on his right, and Duke of Orleans on the left. The Dauphiness, the Duchess of Berri, the Dauphiness, the Duchess of Orleans and Madame d'Orleans, were present at the ceremony, in one of the tribunes. The assembly was standing and uncovered. The King said, 'Messieurs, Peers of France, be seated.' The Chancellor then communicated to the Deputies that the King gave them permission to be seated. The King then pronounced the following The King then pronounced the following 25 years in advance, which is probably for the chamber and took place that Prince Level hat Prince Level hat Prince that Prince that Prince the Prince on the Prince that Prince the Prince that Prince that Prince the Prince that Princ intery. Mr. Charles Mathias' wife was ait-ting with her child in her arms, when their Duchess of Berri, the Duke of Bourdeaux, the brick house fell, and it is truly extraordinary were present at the ceremony, in one of the o'It has been already stated, that the unver-ling house of Mr. George Bell, Merchant, was among those that were totally destroyed. Included so entire was the destruction, that a its most fatal energies .- In the house there that I assemble round my throne the Peers of were at the time ten persons: Mrs. Mary Bell my realm and the Deputies of Departments.

Since your last session, important events.

> moderation of the victor and the amicable intervention of the Powers, by preserving the Ottoman Empire from the misfortunes which menaced it, have maintained the balance and strengthened the ancient relations of the

Under the protection of the powers which signed the treaty of July 6th, independent Greece will be born again from her ruins; the hoice of the Prince called to reign over her makes sufficiently clear the disinterested and pacific views of the sovereigns.

Buring the important Europe was occupied, I deemed proper to suspend the effects of my resentment against that beach at Foul Point, from which the heads a barbarian power; but I can no longer leave unpunished the insult offered to my flag. The signal reparation I desire to obtain, will. They wrote from Lisbon on the 15th February, that a sergeant in while it satisfies the honour of France redound while it satisfies the honour of France redound the governor had placed great confidence, had run away from the Island of St. Michæls with a comrade and twelve other individuals, and

The accounts of receipts and expenses will be laid before you, and at the same time a statement of the wants and resources for the service of 1831. I have the satisfaction to observe that notwith-tanding the diminution of the revenues of 1829, compared with those of the previous year, they have exceeded the estimates of the budget. A recent operation has sufficiently ascertained the interest at which loans have become negociable, and shown the possibility of lightening the burthens of the State. A law in relation to the redemption of the debt will be presented to demption of the debt will be presented you; it will be limited to a plan of reimbursement of exchange, which we hope will equal-ly satisfy the expectations from our care for them, of those subject to taxation, and the justice and benevolence due to those public funds. The measures on which you will be called to deliberate, are intended to means of meeting, without new sacrifices, and in a few years, the expenses imperiously de-manded for the defence of the realm, the prostion of canals. Your attention will also be occupied with various laws relating to ple; but benevolence has multiplied its cours, and it is with the most lively gratifica-tion that I have seen the generous aid extended to the poor in all parts of the realir, and particularly in my good city of Pris. The first longing of my heart is to see France hapof her soil, and enjoying in peace the institu-tions of which it is my firm desire to estab-lish the blessings. The Charter has placed the liberties of the people under the safeguard of the rights of my crown. These rights are sacred: my duty to my people requires me to transmit them inviolate to my successors.

Peers of France, Deputies of Departments

eign Prince of Greece realizes his annuity for 25 years in advance, which is probably for some years longer than he will live. Prince Leopold arrived in London in the 27th of February. The Gazette de Frace states, in contradiction to the Opposition Isonals, that the three allied powers were annumous in their choice, and that Russia was in desirous of it as England.

Defeat of the French at Madagusdar Accounts had reached the Mauritius of the procuping the state of the procuping state of the process of the proce counts had reached the Mauritius of the recounts had reached the Mauritius of the re-pulse of the French squadron, in an attack upon Foul Point, in the Island of Madaguez, with the loss of thirty killed, among whom was the Commandant of the French Settle-ment, at St. Marie. This result excited mach surprize at the Mauritius, as it was supposed, from the known defenceless condition of Foul Point, that a successful resistance could not have been offered to any attack supported by heavily armed ships. It was therefore conjectured that the French must, in the first I am pursuing at present, in concert with my allies, negociations of which the object is to effect a reconciliation between the Princes to the doubt between the reconstruction of the country. No to effect a reconciliation between the Princes trate into the interior of the country. No of the House of Braganza, necessary to the doubt however, was entertained of their havenesse of the Peninsula.

During the important events with which in their subsequent progress, as dead bodies pose of the Peninsula.

During the important events with which arope was occupied, I deemed proper to of French troops were seen scattered upon the effects of my resentment against the beach at Foul Point, from which the beach at Foul Point, from the b carried to Count Villa Flor, at Terceira the London to the 4th of March, have been received. We subjoin a few items from the New York papers of Thursday. The most important feature in the intelligence is that important feature in the intelligence is that which relates to the price of cotton.

From the Liverpool Mescury of March 5.
The East India and China Trade.—The exertions of the Liverpool Committee and of their deputations to London, are unreasily devoted to the service of the public in the important question now under investigation by the Parliamentary Committee. the Parliamentary Committee. Several towns are co-operating in the good work; but many populous places may yet be reproached with most culpable apathy. A distinguished member of the united deputations in London, has said, 'if every town had done its duty, and furnished such evilence as Liverpool has supplied, the battle would be won with ease.'

W. Brown, Esq. of this town (of the highly respectable firm of Wm. and James Brown & Co.) and R. Milner Esq. of Manchester, have given the most important testimony before the given the most important testimony before the committee of the House of Commons. Mr. Brown stated, that he himself, since the year 1821, had exported British woollens and cottons in American ships to Canton, to the value of between £700,000 and £800,000 sterling; and he estimated that this might be from one third to one half of the whole quantity exported within the time in question. Mr. Brown, on being asked if the Chinese received the /mericans favourably, adduced as a proof that the losses sustained by them in a great fire, which took place in Canton in 1823, were made good by the Chinese Government Mr. Milne gave no American prices current of tess for ten years, with a comparative statement in which the American money was reduced to sterling, and these exhibited an enormous disproportion between the price of the Company's teas and the American. Mr. Milne further of the 3d. Liverpool of the 2d.

The Constitutionnel of March 1st, contains a speculation on the subject of the claims of American citizens on the French Government, is which the obligation of discharging them is strongly urged. The writer concludes by that the cabinet of St. James has constantly the United States to renew their demands, and that of France to reject them, hoping to the United States to renew their demands, and that of France to reject them, hoping to in the United States are steed of dispute between the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is remarked that the seas of the seas. It was observed, that of France to reject them, hoping to in the United States are the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas. It was observed, that all difficulties may be accommodatad, interested to between the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers interested in the free-dom of the seas.

It is present the two powers i

ANNAPOLIST

Thursday, April 15, 1880 There will be a meeting of the Execon Monday, 3d May.

An immence floating dock, for the of steamboats, is now erecting at Pittsb

The Legislature of Louisianna have y

and act suppressing a seditious publication led the Liberalist, under the penalt twenty years imprisonment of its publicational description at hard labour.

1200 persons are said to be engaged ing Gold in the Cherokee nation, and t much is lost in the clumay manner of pr ing and washing it, they nevertheless tinue to average five dollars a day.

The Editor of the New-York Evening of January, the safe arrival in that city Rt. Rev. Dr. Du Bois, Catholic Bish New-York. He was most graciously re his holiness Pius the 8th. and e tains the most confident expectations complishing the object of his mission.

The Louisville paper states, that an att was made on the night of the 15th Marchib the Vincennes mail; a short distance Hindostin, Ia. The rider was struck we dun-the blow injured his face, but die said there were three fellows in the gaing that they succeeded in getting hold or reins of the drove horse, as well as tho the horse on which the carrier rode, as same instant. The blow received by the frightened both horses, and they broke from the ruffians before they could get persion of the mail or the rider. This is w lieve, the first attempt to rob the mail the er was made in Indiana.

In the Circuit Court of Montgomery, bima) recently a verdict was returned ag Opothypholo and Jim Boy, two chiefs of Creek nation, by whose authority the plai James B. Reed, a white citizen of Alah had been taken up under the Indian I and whipped. The evidence shewed the p uff to have been tied to a tree, by the deants, and on his naked back received lashes with hickories five feet long, and he swooned under the infliction. The deants attempted to offer, in mitigation, an der from the sub-agent to commit the Verdict $4,500 damages.

GREAT SPECULATIONS.

A part of the mineral district of Miri, comprising twenty or thirty township parts of counties, is advertised to be sol auction on the first Monday in August at the Land Office in St. Louis. In add to lead, ores of iron, manganese. zinc, mony, arsenic, plumbago, and other min of minor importance, are to be found in district, which is also represented to be markably healthy, well watered, and tin ed with pine, sycamore, cotton wood, smaple, and other rich productions of the

The store of Messrs. Jno Boggs & Co. found open by the watch on Tuesday eing, before nine o'clock. The thief or this it appears, had secreted themselves in store during the day, but after breaking the desks, drawers, &c. and finding not to reward their villany, decamped. Balt.

The government have lately caused to erected at West Point, a spacious Hotel the accommodation of strangers visiting interesting establishment. The spot sele for the erection of this mansion is one of most eligible, and commands the gran view of the North River, that is to be for in the whole extent of that noble stream. The house is tastefully furnished with e The house is tastefully furnished with econvenience, and in point of comfort is in way inferior to the Adelphia or Bunker's tell in this city. The writer spent a few of there some little time since, and was higratised with the prompt attention of mailre d'hotel, and particularly with the tem, order and arrangement of every parthis great establishment. The proprieto this hotel is Mr. Bispman, late of Trentor His name is most favourably known to eperson who has visited that place, where person who has visited that place, where kept one of the best houses in the Un States for many years. We wish this establishment all success, and do not do hat every future visiter will be as well pl.
das I hase been. N. Y. Mer. Add ed as I have been.

The vine appears to be becoming an art of much regard and consideration in the S of Alabama. The Mobile Commercial Riter speaks of the peculir adaptation of the in those, parts to its cultivation; and refer to some specimens exhibited in connex with an advertisement of its sale, says, wine has been tasted by great number gentlemen in whose judgment he utmost sance may be placed, and it is pronoun by all to be of excellent native quality, an capable by proposition hagement, of being by all to be of excellent native quality, and capable by proportional agement, of being is dered a very fine wine. The sample is pure juice of the grape, neither managed mixed in any way. It has the colour, in a measure the flavour, and the astringency Bursundy. Bargundy.

CONSUMPTION.

Last year 632 persons filed of consump in Philadelphia, in New York 880. Wet thin dresses, tight lacing, kill more than k your Brandy or Squire Whiskey.