DICKINSON COLLEGE.
The winter session of this institution commenced the last week, and we are gratified to learn that all the students of the last session have returned; that a considerable number of new ones have already been examined and admitted; and that many more are expected.

TRACT SOCIETY.
The Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church is not connected, nor ever has been, with the American Tract Society. This has been repeatedly published, that we should not have deemed it necessary to repeat it at this time, had not the question been recently asked. But while each society acts upon its own responsibility we hope there may be no other strife between them than to see which can do the most good. The field is large, and therefore there is room enough for all to enter in and work.

THE IRISHMAN'S VISIT.—An Irish sailor once visited a city, where he said, "My copper bottomed the tops of their houses with sheet lead."

NOTICE.
The Committee of Anne-Arundel county will meet at the Court House, in the city of Annapolis, on Monday the 17th day of January next, for the purpose of settling with the Inspectors of Tobacco, bearing appeal and making transfers, and transacting the ordinary business of the levy court. All persons having appeals to make to the said court, and those having transfers to be made, are hereby notified, that at the time of said meeting the books of the said commissioners will be closed for the year 1850.

IN CHANCERY.
18th November, 1850.
Henry Marck, Michael Marck, and others, vs. Louis Wicky, and others.

REPRESENTATIVES TO CONGRESS.
The following schedule will show the changes which have taken place in the Representatives to Congress from New York, by virtue of the late election:—

ANOTHER REVOLUTION.
Under this head, the Montreal Gazette mentions a sort of insurrection among the students of the College of that city. They were dissatisfied with the excess of discipline, the retrenchment of their hours of relaxation, and the remarks of their French teachers on the ignorance of the Canadians. They accordingly rose in rebellion, in close imitation of the revolution of Paris; boasting the tricolour, singing a parody of the Marseilles hymn, and holding out against the instructors for three days; during which time the effort of one of the masters was suspended in front of the college, and placards were pinned in every direction, encouraging the students to persist. It seems they were successful in obtaining a new Charter, and the points they contended for were conceded. A few were expelled, however.

MR. RANDOLPH.
The ship Fama, Capt Larkin Turner, from St. Petersburg, arrived at this port on Saturday the 16th instant, having on board part of Mr. Randolph's baggage, and one of his servants. We learn from Capt Turner, that the accounts which have been recently published in regard to Mr. Randolph, are materially incorrect. He represents the equipment and domestic arrangements of Mr. R. and his appearance, when abroad, to have been in a style becoming his character and station; that in due time, and with the customary forms, he was presented to the Emperor, and had repeated official interviews with the Prime Minister, &c. It is true, that Mr. R.'s distinguished reputation, united with his peculiarity of manners, attracted much notice that in St. Petersburg, as in other capitals, there is a certain class of gentry, who delight in Court scandal; which there as elsewhere, passes away with the breath that gives it utterance. He represented Mr. R. to be in bad health—afflicted with a severe cough, and altogether unable to endure the shocks of a northern winter. This extreme debility confined him, for the most part, to his lodgings, rendered his official duties and the etiquette of Court exceedingly irksome, and determined him at once to leave the country. But it is even doubtful whether he will be able to reach the U. S. This is the substance of the account given by Capt. Turner, who is a shipmaster, and gentleman, of the first respectability.

FOR RENT, for the ensuing year, the Half-Way House between Annapolis and Baltimore, now occupied by Mrs. Barrett. Attached to this House is a good Garden, Stables, Ice House, and all the conveniences for a country house; about twenty or twenty five acres of excellent cleared land, and abundance of firewood. The stage from Annapolis to Baltimore stops here to breakfast. Terms low to a good tenant. Apply to JAMES MURRAY.

THE STEAM BOAT.
WILL stop in future to land passengers at CASTLE HAVEN, instead of CAPE BRIDGE, and leave Annapolis at half past one o'clock for Baltimore, Oct. 31.

ARRIVAL OF THE LEXINGTON.

The Norfolk papers announce the arrival of the U. S. ship Lexington, Capt. HURMAN, from the Mediterranean: She sailed from Port Mahon on the 22d Sept. when she left the U. S. ship Jans, Com. BIDDLE, who would, it was expected winter there. The ships Constellation, Capt. WADSWORTH, having on board Mr. LEX, late Consul General to Algiers, and lady, and Fairfield, Capt. PARKER, sailed on the same day with the Lexington, for Naples. Mr. LEX and lady would embark from some port in France for the United States.

Complete returns from all the counties in New York have been received at the office of the Albany Argus. Through a majority as ascertained by these is 8,500 voters. The same paper states that the New York delegation to the twenty second congress, will consist of 24 friends of the National Administration, 5 friends of Mr. Clay, and 5 Antislaverys. The friends of Mr. Clay claim a far larger number.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.
On Thursday last, Mr. Samuel Little, of Uniontown, Pa. was engaged in making cider, his gun, about 10 or 12 years of age, assisting at the press, the pins which support the beam gave way, and discharging to relate, the beam caught the head of the boy and crushed it to atoms.

Experiments relative to the adoption of the climate and soil of South Carolina to the cultivation of the Sugar Cane, have resulted very favourably at Cheraw, in that State. Similar experiments in the vicinity of Mobile have also been attended with flattering results.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.
Capt. Aken, of the Mary Howland, arrived at New York on Friday, from Cork, has brought papers of that city to the 21st of October, inclusive, containing London dates of the 18th.

The commercial accounts from the Continent continue very gloomy; there are no day accounts of the stoppage of the leading manufacturing houses in France, at Havre, of a small banking establishment at Paris, one extensive firm at Madrid, and one at Bordeaux, besides several others of minor importance.

The letters by the Spanish post state that every thing was tranquil. One letter from Madrid, however, alludes to an attempt at rebellion in the capital, but says it had been instantly suppressed by the government authorities. It is not clear whether this is a new affair or a repetition of what appeared two weeks ago.
