DR. HULL'S TRUSS. FOR the rejief and core of Merbin or Repture. This Surgical instrument is now well known to the Wedical profession, and a well known to the Medical profession, and well known to the Medical profession, and well known to the Medical profession, and we extensivly used by unfortunate sufferers labouring under the disease of Hernia, that a particular account of its mechanical construction of its surgical effects, is thought unaccessory. The subjoined remarks from Physicians and Surgeous of high respectability in our country, are the results of much practical experience in the use and application of this truss.

James Thatcher, M. D. author of the Modern Practice, in his second edition, under the subject of Hernia, remarks "Dr. Hull is exclusively entitled to the credit of first adapting the true Surgical principle for sheradical care of Hernia. He happily conceived the idea that the pad of the Truss should be so constructed assimply to support the muscolar fibres around the ring or aperture as much as possible, in the state in which they are maintained in pertect health. Unless this be attained the parts can never recover their natural tone, whatever may be the degree of pressure applicative.

Samuel Ackerly, M. D. in his excellent edition of 'Hooper's Medical Dictionary,' under the head of 'Truss,' after enumerating the evils resulting from the use of the defective trusset formerly worn, says. 'Phis evil was not followed.

resulting from the use of the defective trusses formerly worn, says. 'Phis evil was not fally remedied until Dr. Amos G. Hull, of New ant may be restored to his former rank; if he make up is deficiencies by vigorous application.

Candidates for admission into the Freshman class, must be able to pass a critical casmination in the Grammars of the Latin and Greek languages, in Casar's Commentaries. Cicero's Orations against Cataline, ves, has rendered it certain that all recent rups. Virgil's Eneid, in Latin; Dalzell's Collectanea Graca Unions, and the Gospel of John, in Greek; and the Gospel of John, in Greek; and the granding, maye in many cases, also be remestanding, may in many cases, also be remedied. The pid of Dr. Hull's Truss is concars and not convex; and hence the raised circular margin, by proper adaptation, presses upon the sides of the hernial opening, and tends to close the aperture and cure the hernia."

M. L. Knapp, M. D. late Physician and Surgeon to the Baltimore General Dispensary, in a communication to Doctor Hull, says: It have applied your trusses in several hundred a have applied your trusses in several hundred cases during the last three years. A great many upon whom I have applied your trusses, have been radically cured; and some of these were cases of long standing, where all other trusses had failed. I send you note of thanks from Mr. P. a citizen of great respectability, who was cured of a bad scrotal rupture, of thirty-five years standing, by wearing one of your trusses for two years. He had woon other trusses twenty nine years. His son, also, the ther trusses twenty nine years. His son, also, aged 16 years, ruptured from his infancy, was cured under my care in less than two years .-A case of scrotal rupture, of twenty years standing, in a labouring man forty years o'd, was cured under my notice by one of your trusses in vix mooths. A case of groin rupture, from lifting, in a labouring man, thirty years old, on whom I applied one of your trusses, the day after the injury, was cured in three months.—

Experience alone, can make known to the Surgeon the full nowers and excellence of these ry, says, The great and signal benefits which are produced by this Truss, result from its strict subservience to, and accordance with Strentific and Surgical principles.

The operation and effect of this Truss is directly the reverse of all Trusses heretofore in use; which being convex, tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture opening. Is an of opinion that the union of Surgical design & mechanical structure in this instrument render it what has lone been the desilers une of Peach it what has long been the desideratum of Practical Surgeons in Europe and America.

Professor Mott also in lecturing upon Her nia, recommends Dr. Hull's Truss to the exclusion of all others.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. Communicated to both Houses of Congress, at December session.

1830. Idlan Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives, and House of Representatives,

The pleasure I have in congratulating you on your pleasure I have in congratulating you on your pleasure to your constitutional duties is much heightened to the satisfaction which the condition of our belead country at this precied justly inspires. The bejedent Author of all good has granted to us, during the present year, health, peace and plenty, and nuacross causes for joy in the wonderful success which straig the progress of our free institutions.

Was a population unpartilelled in its increase, and pencing a character which combines the hardibood denterprise with the considerateness of wisdom, we get in every section of our happy country, a steady ee in every section of our happy country, a stea pergreement in the means of social intercourse, a ordent effects upon the genius and laws of were retried republic.

The apparent exceptions to the harmony of the proper are to be referred rather to inevitable divergiasin the various interests which enter into the the various interests which enter into the tion of so extensive a whole, than to any want emporition of so extensive a whole, than to any want fistschment to the Union—interests whose collisions are only, in the end, to foster the spirit of conciliation and patriotism, so essential to the preservation of the Union, which, I most devortly hope, is destined by prive impersishable.

In the male of these blessings, we have recently wisesed changes in the condition of other nations, which may, in their consequences, call for the utimest rigiance, wisdom, and unanimity in our councilists and the exercise of all the moleration and patriotism of our people.

wrawed changes in the consequences, call for the utmost veloce, wisdom, and unanimity in our councils; and the exercise of all the mo leration and patriotism of or people. The important modifications of their government, effected with so much courage and wisdom by the people of France, afford a happy presage of their future correct, and have naturally elicited from the kindend feelings of this nation that apoptaneous and universal barst of applanse in which you have participated. Is congratulating you, my fellow-citizens, upon street to asspicious to the discrete interests of manhad, I do an more than respond to the voice of my sentry, without transcending, in the slightest degree, this allutary maxim of the illustrious Washingbox, which enjoins an abstinence from all interference with the internal affairs of other nations. From a people receising in the most unlimited degree, the right of self government, and enjoying, as derived from this proof characteristic, under the favour of heaven, such of the happiness with which they are blessed; a people who can point in triumph to their free institutions, and challenge comparison with the fruits they here, as well as with the moderation, intelligence and energy, with which they are administered; from such a people, the deenest sympathy was to be expected in a struggle for the sacred principles of linerty, conducted in a spiritevery way worthy of the cause, and crowed by an heroic moderation which has disarmed knowled by an heroic moderation which has disarmed which, if sustained to the end, will secure to him the produppellation of Patriot King of the French, and which, if sustained to the end, will secure to him the produppellation of Patriot King – it is not in his success, but in that of the great principle which has been him to the throne—the parsmount authority of the public will—that the American people rejoice. In happy to inform you that the anticipations which were includged at the date of my last communication of the subject of our foreign affairs, have be
