IN CHANCERY,
18th November, 1830.
Henry March, Michael March, and others, vs.

Louis Wickly, and others.
THE object of the bill filed in this cause, is to obtain the appointment of a receiver, and for a decree to compel the defendant to deliver to the complainants the leasehold property, and the monies and moveable property hereafter mentioned.
The bill states, that Michael March departed this life, leaving a will, which was duly proved and admitted to record, leaving a widow, Philippina March, and five children, namely, Henry March, Michael March, George March, and John March, and a daughter, Dorothea March, who departed this life intestate, and without issue. That Michael March took upon himself the execution of the said will, his co-executor having removed and declined to act, and that said Kraft returned an inventory of all the personal estate that came to his sight and knowledge, and discharged all claims against the said testator, and agreeably to the directions of said will, delivered to Philippina March, the widow aforesaid, all the personal estate of said testator, embraced in said inventory, and rendered to the orphans court his final account. That said testator died possessed of no other chattels real, than those specified in said inventory, and died seized of no freehold or real estate whatsoever. That said testator died possessed of a much larger personal estate of at least fifteen hundred dollars in money, over and above the monies, and other personal estate, included in said inventory, and that said Philippina secretly appropriated to herself, on the death of said testator, the said sum of $1500, and never informed said executor of said additional personal estate, or caused it to be allowed the same to be returned or accounted for. That if said $1500 and a mount of money and of movable property contained in said final account, and delivered to said Philippina, be considered as having been paid more than one third of the estate of said testator. That after receiving the property aforesaid, said Philippina informed said executor of the defendant, Louis Wickly, and offered to do so.
That neither said Philippina, nor said Wickly, has ever returned or delivered or accounted for any part of the personal estate aforesaid. That said Philippina having departed this life, her complainants are entitled to the possession of the personal estate aforesaid, and of all that any, but that, at least they are entitled to one third part of said personal estate, and that the money and movable property aforesaid, as a foresaid, exceeding in amount and value one third part, and not being in existence, or used by said Wickly and Philippina. The orphan's court is entitled to the immediate possession of all the leasehold property specified in the said property, being the only property of the testator's estate now specifically remaining.
That complainants have demanded of said Louis Wickly the delivery of said leasehold property, but said Wickly has possession of the same, and refuses to let complainants possess or profit the real, and that said Wickly refuses to deliver over to the complainants any part of the monies or moveable property before mentioned. The bill also states, that said Louis Wickly resides out of the State of Maryland.
It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted once in each of the successive weeks, in some one newspaper, before the 18th day of December next, give notice to the absent defendant of the substance and contents of the bill, that he may be warned to appear in this court in person, or by a solicitor, on or before the 18th day of April next to show cause, if any he hath, why a decree should not pass as prayed.

DR. HULL'S TRUSS,

FOR the relief and cure of Hernia, Rupture, This Surgical Instrument is now so well known to the Medical Profession, and so extensively used by unfortunates laboring under the disease of Hernia, that a particular account of its mechanical construction of its surgical effects is thought unnecessary.
The subjoined remarks from Physicians and Surgeons of high respectability in our country, are the results of much practical experience in the use and application of this Truss.
James Thatcher, M. D. author of the Modern Practice, in his second edition, under the subject of Hernia, remarks "Dr. Hull is exclusively entitled to the credit of first adapting the true Surgical principle for the radical cure of Hernia. He happily conceived the idea that the pad of the Truss should be so constructed as simply to support the muscular fibres around the ring or aperture as much as possible, in the state in which they are maintained in perfect health. Unless this be attained the parts can never recover their natural tone, whatever may be the degree of pressure applied." Samuel Ackerly, M. D. in his excellent edition of Hooper's Medical Dictionary, under the head of "Truss," after enumerating the evils resulting from the use of the defective truss, formerly worn, says, "This evil was naturally remedied until Dr. Amos G. Hall, of New York, turned his attention to the subject, and by his improvement in the construction of trusses, has rendered it certain that all recent ruptures and those of children, may be permanently cured, and those of old people, and of long standing, may, in many cases, also be remedied. The pad of Dr. Hull's Truss is concave and not convex; and hence the raised circular margin, by proper adaptation, presses upon the sides of the hernial opening, and tends to close the aperture and cure the hernia." M. L. Knapp, M. D. late Physician and Surgeon to the Baltimore General Dispensary, in a communication to Doctor Hull, says: "I have applied your trusses in several hundred cases during the last three years. A great many upon whom I have applied your trusses, have been radically cured; and some of these were cases of long standing, where all other trusses had failed. I send you a note of thanks from Mr. P., a citizen of great respectability, who was cured of a bad scrotal rupture, of thirty-five years standing, by wearing one of your trusses for two years. He had worn other trusses twenty nine years. His son, also, aged 16 years, ruptured from his infancy, was cured under my care in less than two years—A case of scrotal rupture, of twenty years standing, in a labouring man forty years old, was cured under my notice by one of your trusses in six months. A case of groin rupture, from lifting, in a labouring man, thirty years old, on whom I applied one of your trusses, the day after the injury, was cured in three months—Experience alone, can make known to the Surgeon the full powers and excellence of these instruments. Your trusses are exclusively preferred by the Professors in both of the Medical Schools in this city, and the Faculty in general."
Baltimore, January, 1830.

Valentine Mott, M. D. Professor of Surgery, says, "The great and signal benefits which are produced by this Truss, result from its strict subservience to, and accordance with Scientific and Surgical principles." "The operation and effect of this Truss is directly the reverse of all Trusses heretofore in use, which being convex, tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture opening." I am of opinion that the union of Surgical design & mechanical structure in this instrument render it what has long been the desideratum of Practical Surgeons in Europe and America." Professor Mott also in lecturing upon Hernia, recommends Dr. Hull's Truss to the exclusion of all others.

INTERESTING NARRATIVE.

In travelling through the Western States, I have heard and seen a few things which I have deemed worth recording. In another journal of this city, I have published some of them: the following if you think proper, I will thank you to insert in the Chronicle.
The individual whose story is given below, I met in the State of Indiana, and learned he was a mere accident, that his life had been somewhat peculiar. He at first refused to give me his history; and I had to use some address to overcome his obstinacy. It was with manifest repugnance that he entered upon the relation, pleaded haste, and finally left me unsatisfied as to some parts. Gentleman present assured me that I had been particularly fortunate—that they had never known him so communicative on these subjects before, but that I might, in their opinion, place implicit reliance in his statements, as his character for veracity was fair. He will endeavour to give his narrative, as nearly as his own words, assisted by a few happy notes, will enable me.

STORY OF GEORGE ASH.

My father, John Ash, was one of the earliest emigrants to Kentucky, and settled near Barlston, Nelson county, many miles from any other white settlement. In the month of March 1790, when I was about ten years of age, we were attacked by the Shawnee Indians, a part of the family were killed, the rest taken prisoners. We were separated from each other, and excepting younger sister, who was taken by the same party that had me in possession, I saw none of my family for seventeen years. My sister was small; they carried her two or three days, but she cried and gave them trouble, and they tomahawked and scalped her, and left her lying on the ground. I was afterwards transferred from one family to another several times, and treated harshly, and capitally ill, till at length I was domesticated in a family, and considered a member of it. After this, my treatment was like that of other children of the tribe. The Shawnees, at this time, lived on the I-Miami, about twenty miles above Dayton.
Here we continued until Gen. Clark came and attacked us, and burnt our town. We then fled to St. Mary's and continued there some years. While here, Gen. St. Clair came out against us. Eight hundred brave warriors went out to meet him; and their way, were joined by fifty Kickapoo.
The two armies met about two hours before sunset. When the Indians were within about half a mile of St. Clair, the spies returning back to inform us, and we stopped. We concluded to encamp, if it was too late to begin the fight. They were to refer the spot till the next day. Gen. St.
Clair was our commander. After dark called all the chiefs around him, to "listen what he had to say." Our fathers, said, "we had to do as we now do—drift with the light breeze, till they could trust to own strength and their numbers, but in

From the Kentucky Reporter.
Let no one mourn when I am dead, My weary wanderings o'er For then, at least, my aching head Will throb and think no more.
Let no one weep when I am dead, For then my tears shall cease; Reposing on no restless bed, I'll find a lasting peace.
Let no one grieve when I am dead, O then, my grief how calm!
No more my heart, by anguish led,
Shall seek for friendship's balm.
Let them but say, "Her heart was kind, Her spirit high and pure—That e'en the calm and patient mind Not always can endure."
Let them but say—Her weary feet, At last, have ceased to roam; Fast, with unrest, in Heaven she'll seek,
What earth denied—a home!

THE THISTLE DOWN.
Lightly soars the thistle down;
Lightly doth it float;
Lightly seeds of care are sown—Little do we note.
Lightly floats the thistle down;
Far and wide it flies;
By the faintest zephyr blown Through the shining skies.
Watch life's thistles holl and blow, Oh! 'tis pleasant folly!
But when all our paths they saw,
Then comes melancholy.
