COURSE OF STUDIES, EXPENSES. &C. The following information, by order of the Board, will show the present state and prospects of the Institution.

The Professor of Grammar, will take charge of the English Department, and will have its classes under his inspection, at the College, during the hours prescribed by the Board. Besides the ordinary course of instruction in this department, Students will be fitted for admission into College, and they may take standing as Fredmen, whenever they shall sustain an examination on the following in Rhelorick and Oratery; and one forencon of es of its numerous friends, and especially of each week, will be spent drilling the Students, in a thorough course of Reading and Speaking. These exercises will be conducted by the Principal; and the Members of the Senior Class, will always be required to declaim pieces of their own composition. The Classification, which takes place at each general Examination, which takes place at each general assumination, subjects those who are deficient, to the necessi-y of remaining in a lower grade; white, on the other hand, the hope of reaching a high standing, in a shorter than ordinary period, is held out to other hand, the hope of reaching a high standing, approbation and co operation of the alumni of in a shorter than ordinary period, is held out to all who are ambitious to advance at a more rappublic favour, as may seem due to an ancient pid rate, than the usual average of a Class. pid rate, than the usual average of a Class. A permanent record of the relative standing of he Members in each Class, is kept by the Fathe Members in each Class, is kept by the Fa-culty, and serves as a guide, in awarding the honors of the College. The principal test of the Student's proficeacy, will be found in the Lecture Room, where he will undergo an Exam-nation of one hour's duration, for each Lesson: and those Members of the higher Classes, who are permitted, under the discretion of the Prin-cipal, to have their rooms out of Co'tege, will it any time, leave the City, without express eave obtained from the Principal. That the public may rest assured of the prevalence of no particular sectarian influence at the College, the following clause is extracted from the Charer; with the letter and spirit of which, th Officers of instruction, will invariably comply. The second section of the thirty seventh, chapter of the daws of Marsland, required, that the said College shall be founded and main tained forever, upon a most liberal plan, for the tained forever, upon a most most in the pendit of youth of every religious denomina-tion, who shall be freely admisted to equid pri-vileges and advantages of education, and to all the literary honours of the College, according to their merit, without requiring or enforcing any religious or civil test, or urging their ateducated in, or have the consent and approba tion of their parents or guardians to attend." A record of all deficiencies at College exercises will be kept, and sent to each parent or guardian, at the close of every term. And, whenever a Student shall be found failing to secure the end for which he will have been placed at the College, he may be sent home priately, except in cases of a misdemeanour, or offence against the laws, when he shall be pu-nished by the ordinary ponalties. By the adoption of a kind and parental demeanour, on the part of the Officers, it is hoped that such extreme cases will be avoided; and from the various advantages of location for the College, it is believed, that few places promise this immenity, in a higher degree, than the City of Annapolis. Its population is not large—the Annapolis. Its population is not large—the situation is central—its healthfulness, is surpassed by that of no place in the Southern States—access to the College, from all parts of the Union, by which paragraphs much with the lines. the Union, he which parents would wish to hold communication with their sons, is most frequent and easy, and the expenses of living tre comparatively small. Annapolis is the Seat of the Government of the State; and the time of the Annual Commencements, which hap oens during the Session of the Legislature, affords a high incentive to young men, to distin guish themselves, by their literary performances.

Candidates for any standing in the College, will be required to bring from their teachers, testimonials of good moral character; and, in no ise, will a Student be received from any other College, to the same standing in this, unless he shall bring, from the President, or other author ity of such College, a certificate of his honorble dimission.

EXPENSES, &c. It has not been thought advisable to establish any commons. Beard, including bedding, washing, and roomrent, may be had, however, in private families in the city, for 120 dollars per annum. The charges in the regular College tures on Taste, and a Revision of bills, will be, as follows: and are payable quarterly, and in advance-English Department, - -

Samuel Ackerly, M. Hull, of New York, turned his attention to the subject, and by his improvement in the construction of trus-ses, has rendered it certain that all recent rup-tures and those of children, may be permanent tures and those of children, may be permanently cured, and those of old people and of long standing, may, in many cases, also be remedied. The pad of Dr. Hull's Truss is concave and not convex; and hence the raised circular margin, by proper adaptation, presses upon the sides of the heroial opening, and tends to close the aperture and cure the heroia.

The twilight was deepening slowly into The twilight was deepening slowy into arkness, relieved only by the pale star-light sinffith had listened with rapture to the soft ones of the younger maiden; and he had seen by the waning light, the quick colour of impassioned feeling flit over her beautiful cheek, as he spoke to her in that softened and sub-lived tone of the voice of manhood, that so readily finds its way to the heart of the listener. He knew at that hour that she loved him: and then he whispered in her ear the words of his gratitude and joy.

"What means that light yonder?" asked the elder of the maidens, as she pointed towards the still waters of the harbour.
