TO THE SIAMESE TWINS.

TO THE SIAMESE TWINS.

Mysterious tie by the Hand shore,
which nothing below must part!
Thou visible image of faithful love—
Firm union of heart and heart—
The mind to her utmost bound may rin,
And summon her light in vain
To seen the twain that must still be one—
The one that will still be twain?

The one that will still be twain?
The heat of this hosem for bears to reach.
Where the other distinctly goes;
Yet, the stream that impurples the reins of ear.
Through the breast of his brother flows!
One grief must be felt by this two-fold mark,
As the points of a double dart;
And the joy lit up hy a single spark
Is anoshine in either heart.

e, monder to baffle poor human skill in clay of the human mould!

In clay of the human mould!
But, a greater mystery all must still,
In the union of souls, behold. In the union of souls, nenoto, ye are living harps, by your silken strings.
In a heavenly concord hound:
And who o'er one but a finger flings,
