From the Maryland Republican. r. he utter uselessness of these liquors—the titudes they destroy in spite of all the reints of reason and religion, are plainly forcibly set forth by the memorialists what they have seen and known. But they erred in remedy—their shopes of an cient remedy for these evils in the wisdom power of Congress, like many other hopes I plans of philanthropists to save their felcreatures from intemperance were delu-

Respectfully sheweth, That they have seen the great pleasure the operation of a Nation-Government, which has established order in a United States.
They rejoice to find amongst the powers lich belong to this government, that of retaining by certain duties, the consumption distilled spirits in our country.

It belongs more peculiarly, to men of other ofessions to enumerate the pernicious efets of these liquors upon morals and man-rs. Your memorialists would only remark, at a great proportion of the most obstinate, inful and mortal disorders which affect the man body, are produced by distilled spirits.

nat they are not only destructive to health

Your memorialists have no doubt that the mour of a plague or any other pestilential sorder, which might sweep away thousands their fellow citizens, would produce the ost vigorous and effectual measures in our vernment, to prevent or subdue it. Your emorialists can see no just cause why the ore certain and extensive ravages of distill; spirits, upon human life, should not be arded against with corresponding vigilance d exertions by the rulers of the United

d effects of heat or cold, nor render labour ore easy, nor more productive; and that here are many articles of diet and drink hich are not only safe and perfectly salutar, but preferable to distilled spirits for each the above mentioned purposes.

Your memorialists have beheld with regret, the feeble influence of reason and religion, in estraining the evils which they have enumented. They centre their hopes, therefore, an efficient remedy for them, in the wissom and power of the legislature of the United States; and in behalf of the interests of umanity to which their profession is closely lifed, they thus publicly entreat the congressation of the united constituents, and by their regard to the haracter of our nation, and to the rank of ur species in the scale of beings, to impose such heavy duties upon all distilled spirits, as hall be effectual to restrain their intemperate use in our country.

SPAINOFIELD, May 23d.

"You are doubtless by this time aware, as the northern part of our stafe has been noted by the Indiana. It was for a while hought that they might be driven from the tate, as last year, without bloodshed, but on Monday the 14th inst. a, war party found a avourable opportunity of attacking and detecting a detachment of our army of about 175 men, under the command of a Major Stillman. It appears that Stillman's battalion was ecoyed by a white flag shown by the Indians, ecoyed by a white flag shown by the Indians, nto an ambuscade, laid by them and totally outed. When the main body of our twops arrived at the battle ground a scena of horfor was witnessed, such as has not been seen in this country since the settlement of the state. The slain were scaled, and mutilated to a degree of savage barbarity seldem before the from their homes, actually starving and without a day's: provisions before them.
