gradually increases, marticularly with respect to the nature of the communities required to be shown.

The case of militia, ser, i.e., i.e., however, different. There are no roll, of the militia in this department, except those of the State of New-Hampshive. There can, the Vefore, arise no presumption against the applicable to be New-Hampshire. There can, the vefore, arise no presumption against the application to be met by stronger evidence than uno'er other circumstances would be required; and sime has so reduced the number of those vete, and, and of the witnesses of their services and sufficiency that the demand of them. and of the witnesses of their services and suf-ferings, that to demand of them positive proof-independently of their own statements, would be to deprive many of them of the benefit of the act. My impression is, that the applicant should produce the best evidence in his power. If he has no living nor documentary evidence of his services, he should transmit as detailed.

of his services, he should transmit as detailed, a statement, under oath, as he can prepare, showing the time, places, and manner of his employment, the corps to which he belonged, and such other circumstance connected with the subject as he may be able to excellect, and as will serve to guide an examining officer in his investigation of the Justice of his claim. To this should be added the certificate, under oath, of at least two respectable persons, whose characters can be established at the department, stating the general impressions of whose characters can be established at the de-partment, stating the general impressions of the neighbourhood where the applicant resides, red. or has resided, that he was engaged in the re-volutionary war. I imagine there are few or none of the survivors whose claims to this even character are not recognized in the vicinity where they live. This traditionary evidence, was in the absence of other proof, will corroborate the statement of the honest applicant, and P. check the attempts of those wh rine. (cst; and it appears to me to be as far as it will

These are my impressions, hastily written, that the opinion of Mr. Edwards, in whose experience and judgment I place great relian was And I think the committee will agree that they pursue a just medium between a latitudinous construction, which would throw the doors of and the treasury open to all who are willing to i the fabricate documents which would insure them ed a the benefit of this act, and such a rigid adlong | ministration as would render nugatory the bethen nessent provisions of the law.
