wood, Earl Beauchamp, Viscount Escombe, Lord Ashley, Lord Milton, Lord Skelmersdale, Right Hon. Sir H. Peel, Right Hon. J. W. Croker, Mr. Justice Gales, Sir C. Wetherill, Sir J. Scarlett, Sir C. S. Hunter, Sir J. Malcolm, besides many Aldermen, Members of the House of Commons, &c. After many loyal speeches, and loud cheering, among other toasts we had the following: The health of his Grace, the Duke of Wellington, Citizen and Merchant Tailor, which was drunk with great enthusiasm. The Duke returned thanks. The Master of the Company next proposed another distinguished Merchant Tailor, the Right Hon. Sir H. Peel, which went down with enthusiastic applause. Many others of the distinguished guests were also complimented with a toast, Lord Eldon, Earl Harwood, &c.

dispute like that between Mr. Woolcombe and himself, and he should be glad to meet him there, and the consequence would then be able to judge who was in the wrong. Our fighting handies of all descriptions may take a lesson from the conduct of Admiral Codrington. There are few men who possess that species of moral courage which dictated this avowal on the part of Sir Edward. London paper, Sept. 10th.

THE CHOLERA. This fell destroyer has again made its appearance in our village with tenfold virulence. The past week has indeed been to the citizens of the place, one of serious and solemn warning. Since this day week, seventeen persons, seven whites and ten blacks, have fallen victims to the insatiate archer; on the list is registered several of our most estimable citizens, and one of the number the Editor of this paper. On Monday he followed to the grave the remains of one of his household, and on the Thursday morning following, after a very few hours sickness, his bereaved family were called on to pay the same sad ritual to him; his many private virtues are embalmed in the bosoms of his afflicted family and sympathizing friends, and in their hearts let his epitaph be written.

REMARKABLE DEATH. The Boston Galaxy, of Saturday, contains a statement, subjoined, with an avowal of its editor, that the deceased was personally known to him—had always been a man of temperate habits, and at the time the accident happened, was in perfect health.

THE COMING CONTEST. The Governor's election having just passed away, and the noise and confusion between the friends of Wolf and Ritter having subsided, our next object is the approaching election for President and Vice-President of the United States.

THE INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM BUENOS AYRES, IS CONFIRMED BY OTHERS FROM RESPECTABLE SOURCES IN THAT CITY. The recent prosecution, or rather persecution, of an American minister of the Gospel for an alleged infraction of a law in relation to the solemnization of a marriage, is an evidence of the present feeling of that government and people towards our citizens; and those who know the Buenos Ayreans well, are prepared to see that act followed up with similar testimonies of ill will on their part, upon as slight pretexts as the one just mentioned.
