The driver of the mail coach between Muucy and Easton, Penn. was arrested last week. on the charge of abstracting a letter containing $170, from the mail bag. The money was found upon his person, and, on close examination, the bag was found to have been cut near one of the ends which doubled over so as to conceal the incision.

A case of slander was recently tried at Easton, Penn. in which the jury found a verdict for four thousand dollars damages. The plaintiff was a young woman of 20 or 21 years of age, and of good character. The defendant was a cabinet maker of little property.

EUROPEAN INTELLIGENCE. We extract from the New York journals of Friday, some additional items of intelligence, urnished by London papers to the 3d ult. nclusive.

It is stated that the whole of Sir Walter Scott's debts have been paid. The creditors met in Edinburgh on the 29th October, when the remaining sum of 253,000 was settled in the following manner:- £22,000 life insurance—£11,000 cash in hand for works re-cently sold, and £20,000 paid on the part of the family. Thus, says an English paper, in the period of six short years, this enormous sum has been actually produced by the work ngs of one man's unassissisted intellectual powers!-a fact, in the history of literature, which there is no example in past times, and probably never will be again. The subject of raising a splendid monument to his memory was to be brought before Parliament.

A postscript to the London Courier of the 2d November, contains advices from the Hague dated at 2 o'clock, P. M. of October 31st Affairs are rapidly drawing to a crisis! The British and French Legations have addressed to the Dutch Government a perempory summons to surrender the Citadel of Antwerp. A Cabinet Council sat immediately, and though very rarely any thing transpires of the deliberations of Cabinet Counis held there, and although the contents of upon, we are assured that measures were taken into consideration at that council, of a nauce to prove still more effectually the determined resolution of perseverance.

The project of law for allowing the employment of the sums afforted to the war expenditure for the month of November and December of this year (10,895.215 florins,) was adopted by the Second Chamber.

The British Consul at Rotterdam had declared to the captains of British vessels, that by the orders of the British Charge d'Affaires, he was to advise them to be prepared to leave, at a moment's warning: the Consul afterwards d the several ship brokers and owners invited to an interview, and repeated to them

From the Correspondent of the Commercial London, Friday Evening Nov. 2, 71 o'clock. The uncertainty respecting the steam ver-sels from Holland continued till late in the The uncertainty respecting the ateam versels from Holland continued till late in the day, whom it was announced that the Atempod, which is owned by the English company, had arrived in the river, with the letters of Thesday from Amsterdam. The Balay er, which is Dutch property, remains at April aterdam, and, it is understood, it to cease running to England. The circomatance, eccurring in a time of much auxiety, respecting the affairs of folland, wait variously, commented on by the city: politicians, some contending that the rexact has been detained for a warlike purpose, or unwillingness to risk the chances of embargo in the Thames; ethers that her voyages are merely suspended, as has been betweetedore the case at this time, for the winter acaton. The suspension has however, it appears, whatever the metire, taken place by the order of the Gavernment. Nothing authentic has transpired by this irrival, respecting the decision of the king of Holland. The reports were that it is peremptory against anny act of submission whatever, and the English Consul at Motterdam, has even actice, it seems, by the captains of merchant vessels, to leave the part as specially as possible. This t seems, to the captains of merchint veisels, to leave the part as specific as possible. This This may be, however, merely a precaution and, on the whole, we incline to the belief that disting whatever had been decided, and that the Lighting government aream vessel, which had carried out the departches, was which had carried out the departches, was will waiting for the Dutch King's answer.
