It is desirable to preserve a memo-Church in this country, so interesting and im Church in this cognity, so interesting and in bortant as that of its Bishops. Their alliance is no doobt peculiarly endearing to the diocess over which they are chosen to preside, and the power of their doctrine and example is must felt in these parishes among which they have gone, with the authority of a ruler, the vigi-lance of a shepherd, and the tenderness of a parent. PERIODICAL.

SELECT CIRULATING LIBBART.

THE striking features of this periodical are, that

THE striking features of this periodicial are, that books are published in it in a form which allows of their being carried by mail, and at a rate so reasonable, that every intelligent educated person in the community can procure them. The publisher receives from England all the new books of merit; and from these, selections are made from the best class of Novels, Memoirs, Travels, Sketches, Tales, and Hiography. These are printed as rapidly as an extensive printing office will admit, and forwarded by mail, esercially packed so as to carry to the most distant post office if the Union, uninjured.

This periodical commenced in October, with the popular novel of Waldstein, or the Swedea in Prague, which cost in London six dollars; it is contained entire in two numbers and a half of the Circulating Library, costing subscribers least than twenty-five cents. This was succeeded by the Memoirs of Lavallette, which cost the publisher to import eight Collars; it was likewise contained in the same space and at the same price. The sixth number commences the travels of Mr. Vigne, costing in London six dollars; it will be printed entire in the "Library" for at most thirty cents! I his enumeration of prices the publisher trusts, with the facility of transportation by mail, will be sufficient to induce those who receive this prospectus, to use some exertion to extend the circulation of the work in their respective neighbourhoods, as, if encouraged hereafter as he has so far been, it is his intention to lay before the American public in this form all the best books which issue from the London press.

The price is five dollars for $2 numbers, which will he London press.

The price is five dollars for 52 numbers, which will The price is five dollars for $21 numbers, which will contain as much matter as 1200 pages, or three to-lumes, of Rees'a Cyclopædis. This volume will comprise at least from twenty-five to thirty entire works, printed on good paper, and with the same accuracy as book work. It will form two volumes of 416 pages each, well worthy of preservation for reference, and a valuable addition to every public and private library. The publisher feels confident in stating, that the entire $22 numbers, when bound, will sell for more than the subscription price, as after a few more numbers are issued, no more will be printed than will supply actual paying subscribers.

than the subscription price, as after a few more numbers are issued, no more will be printed than will supply actual paying subscribers.

Still further to increase the facilities of subscribers, the publisher has added another inducement for cluns to join together in their remittance. I wenty dollarwill be received in full for the subscription of five individuals. This deduction will pay all postage.

These who design to patronize this new and popular mode of publishing good books, will oblige the subscriber by forwarding their remittances as early as practicable. A five dollar note deposited in the post office will supply good reading to a family and circle of acquaintance for a whole year.

The gentleman who makes the selections for this periodical, to literary taste and education; has, from his situation, facilities for knowing what is popular and of high reputation possessed by few; to this he adds a proper sense of the responsibility he has assumed in catering for an extended and moral community. The publisher therefore confidently recommends the Circulating Library to heads of families, as a work which they need have no fear of introducing into any circle.
