PRICE—THREE DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

THE JOURNAL OF
BELLES LETTRES.
NEW AND STRIKING CHARACTER ADDED TO WALDIE'S
CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

THE Proprietor of this work, anxious to gratify his readers to as great an extent as his means will allow, respectfully announces to the public that the very liberal patronage he has received has enabled him to add a new feature to this periodical, which he believes cannot fail to prove interesting and valuable.

The Journal of BELLES LETTRES, embracing three to four pages of additional new matter, will be given every week as an accompaniment to the Circulating Library, and will consist of—

1. Early reprints of the reviews and notices now published in the weekly and monthly journals of London, &c. These reviews, if carefully selected with reference both to the quality of the original and to the interest of the subject, will be reprinted in America, to convey literary intelligence in regard to books which rarely find their way across the Atlantic. As great exertions will be used to make this department instructive and entertaining, the proprietor is confident that it will be considered an important addition, by means of which his numerous subscribers will frequently avoid the expense of purchasing such books as are pointed out in the calculation of their titles or the reputation of their authors.

This part of the Journal will embrace a considerable amount of extracts from new books of travels, memoirs, biography, &c., and in fact present a bird's eye view of new publications, early diffused through the Union, by means of the facilities of mail transportation.

The London Literary Gazette will be culled for this purpose, while the "Critical Notices," of the London Metropolitan, the Monthly Review, the Gentleman's Blackwood's, &c., Edinburgh, Fraser's, and other Magazines, will be regularly received by the editor, and be freely used.

2. Varieties, embracing literary anecdotes, discoveries in science and the arts, sketches of society and manners abroad, literary and anecdotal transactions, short notices of new books, and every species of information interesting to lovers of reading, with occasional specimens of the humorous departments of the press, which are within the bounds of good taste, and are now published in no other journal in America.

3. A regular list of the new books published and in progress in London and America.

4. Occasional original notices of new American publications, with extracts embracing their prominent features of excellence or defects.

No additional charge will be made for this great increase of reading matter. It will be contained on the pages of the cover of the Journal, and therefore subject subscribers who receive their numbers by mail to no additional expense of postage.

A. WALDIE.
Several applications having been made to ascertain the manner in which the original decision of notices of new books will be conducted, we take the present early opportunity of stating that, at least they shall most unequivocally be—UNBOUGHT. The presentation of a copy by the publisher shall not be a passport to praise, when the merits of the work do not warrant it; so that our readers may be assured of two things: First—books shall not be noticed the next day after they are received; and, secondly, they shall not be reviewed before they have been read. We have no royal road to puffing, and will be the less likely, therefore, to fall into the error of an unlucky critic, who, in his anxiety to be the first to blow the bellows of criticism, read the preface only of a duodecimo, and gravely entered his approbation of two chapters which, unfortunately for his critical acumen, had been omitted, while the preface reference to them had been, by mistake, retained! This predicament was worse than that of the London editor, who criticised some passages of Coake's acting, and found when he rose next morning, and his paper was all over London, that they had been postponed.

For the rest, time must develop our course and our capabilities; in cases where the usual courtesy of the trade is not extended to this Journal, unlike most of our contemporaries, we shall buy what books we want, and give to such as deserve it a careful perusal.

The prospectus, and some technical difficulties always attending the first issue of a new Journal, make the present number but a partial specimen of its future promise.

SAMUEL C. ATKINSON

PROPOSES to issue from the office of the Saturday Evening Post, in the month of May, 1835, the 1st number of a monthly publication, entitled, The

BOOK OF NATURE,
Edited by an Association of Scientific Gentlemen of Philadelphia.

EACH NUMBER WILL CONTAIN FROM EIGHT TO TEN FINELY ENGRAVED QUARTO COPPER PLATES,

In the various departments of Natural History, each plate to contain from four to ten distinct figures, making from 30 to 100 figures in each number. With a view to diversify the publication as much as possible, a selection of one plate from each of the following subjects will illustrate each number:

- |                |                        |
|----------------|------------------------|
| 1. QUADRUPEDS, | 8. VERMES & ZOOHYTES,  |
| 2. BIRDS,      | 9. BOTANY,             |
| 3. AMPHIBIA,   | 10. VEGETABLE ANATOMY, |
| 4. FISHES,     | 11. GEOLOGY,           |
| 5. CAUSTACEA,  | 12. MINERALOGY.        |
| 6. INSECTS,    |                        |
| 7. SHELLS,     |                        |

Each plate will be accompanied with a brief but satisfactory description of every subject or figure it may contain, so written as to convey a good idea of the subject, without being either tiresome length, or so technically written, but that all may be read with pleasure. Every department of the great field of Natural History will be explored, its branches and its affinities unfolded, and the thousand charms which nature to her votary yields, by the power of the pen, the pencil, and the press, will be laid before the eye of the intelligent admirer of the great works of a Divine Architect. No collection of engravings more valuable, we may confidently promise, can for many years be offered to the public at so cheap a rate. More than one hundred of these fine engravings will be given annually to the man of taste, they will furnish subjects which he can admire from year to year, and present with pleasure to his friends the artist, and the student in Natural History, may confidently refer to them on all occasions of doubt which the juvenile portion of society will become acquainted with the inhabitants of the air, the ocean, and the earth. Geography can be learned only from maps or from travels—"The Book of Nature," without taking us further than the book-shelf or the closet, will unfold to us the congregated curiosities of the whole earth. The increased taste for this study, which the public have of late years evinced, induces the publisher to hope for extensive patronage for a work, which necessarily involves great expenditure, and which will combine great interest, accuracy, and beauty.

As the subjects embrace the whole range of Natural History, in order to make it as complete as possible, several scientific gentlemen have been engaged at a great expense to conduct the work; their united researches, it is believed, will render this periodical extremely valuable.

One great source of the patronage anticipated by the proprietor is from schools and colleges, and as the figures represented will be models of elegance and correct drawing, it will form a work for consultation by the Painter, Engraver, Drawing Master and Student, and will be of inestimable advantage in the prosecution of their practice. In short, it will be adapted to the capacity and suited for the use of every class in the community, from the crude naturalist to the early learner—for the one a book of reference, and for all a source of pleasing study, amusement and instruction.

This work is not got up with a view to temporary popularity, or to a subscription of two years, in about which period it will certainly be completed; it will long as the plates last. After the term of two years, the price will be greatly enhanced, thus making the advantage on the side of those who now come forward to patronise an extensive and novel enterprise.

TERMS.
"The Book of Nature," will appear near the first of every month, with from eight to ten fine engraved plates in each number, making above 100 engravings in each volume, which will contain from five hundred to one thousand separate figures. The price will be $20 per annum. Agents or clubs receiving $20 will be entitled to free copies. No subscriber will be received without payment in advance, or satisfactory reference. Single numbers 50 cents, to those who wish to examine the work previous to subscribing. Address (always free of postage), SAMUEL C. ATKINSON, Philadelphia.

IN CHANCERY,

25d September 1833.

George G. Bell, Trustee of Lewis Helms

Charles F. Mayer and Lewis Helms.

THE object of the bill filed in this cause is to obtain a decree to compel the defendant, Mayer, as executor of Anna G. M. Helms, to pay to the complainant the sum of money hereinafter mentioned.

The bill states, that a certain Lewis Helms, formerly of Baltimore, but now of the state of New York, filed his bill of revivor in this court on his intermarriage with a certain Anna G. M. Newhouse, otherwise called Anna G. M. Wardlebor, to revive a certain proceeding, which had heretofore been instituted by the said Anna against John Francis and Philip B. Sadtler, executors of Euseb Newhouse, deceased, the brother of said Ann, to recover from them the amount of a legacy which had been bequeathed to said Anna by the last will of her brother—That said Ann after her said marriage with said Helms, did also file in this court, by her next friend, her supplemental bill of complaint against the said Francis Sadtler and Helms, in which said Anna, among other things, prayed that the property intestate left to her by her said brother might be delivered into her hands by the said Francis Sadtler and Sadtler, executors as aforesaid, as her sole property and separate from the use and control of her said husband Lewis Helms; that on said bills such proceedings were had that a final decree was passed in favour of the claim of said Anna, whereby, amongst other things, it was directed, that the money and property of said Anna, in the hands of said Francis Sadtler and Sadtler, the executors as aforesaid, should be against the claim of said Helms invested and sold in trust for the sole and separate use of said Anna during her life, and in the event of her death in the lifetime of said Helms, the whole to go according to her appointment by will, and if no appointment, the whole to go to her children, or next of kin, by the law of this state capable of taking by which said decree, the said Helms was wholly excluded from all benefit or participation in the enjoyment of the said property of his said wife, and that an appeal was prayed and granted from said decree by the said Helms to the court of appeals.

That by a decree of the said court of appeals, against the said Francis and Sadtler, they were ordered and directed to pay over, and did pay over, a large sum of money, viz the sum of nine thousand dollars and upwards, to be invested and settled according to the decree first mentioned—That when the said first mentioned decree was passed, and that he was in the most desperate circumstances, and without any means to pay his creditors—that whilst in this condition a proposal was made to him, either personally, or through agents, to pay him the sum of sixteen hundred dollars if he would refrain from prosecuting, and strike off his said appeal; that said Helms for some time refused to take the sum offered, but agreed to receive the sum of twenty five hundred dollars as a consideration for dismissing the said appeal—that after considerable negotiation between the said Anna and the said Helms personally, of their agents, the said Anna agreed to pay, and the said Helms agreed to receive, the sum of six hundred dollars as a compensation and consideration for striking off and dismissing his said appeal—That the terms of said compromise were adjusted and finally arranged about the middle of March 1831, and that in execution of his part of the agreement, did cause to be filed amongst the records of the court of appeals, an order signed by his counsel and himself, withdrawing his said prayer of appeal out of the said court, that said order bears date the 28 of March 1831—That said Helms afterwards on the 8th of April 1831, did petition for and receive the benefit of the insolvent laws of Maryland—that the complainant was afterwards duly appointed by the commissioners of insolvent debtors permanent trustee for the benefit of the creditors of Helms, and as such gave bond, with security approved by said commissioners—That said Helms at the time of his application for the benefit of the insolvent laws, was indebted to various persons, and to a much larger amount, than appears by the schedule of his creditors by him filed—that said debts are still due and unpaid, and that the complainant has never received any property or effects belonging to said Helms—that the said sum of sixteen hundred dollars, and upwards, due as aforesaid from the said Anna to the said Helms, was wholly due and unpaid at the time of his application for the benefit of the insolvent laws, and that the said Anna had immediate notice of his said application, and was specially warned not to pay the said money to said Helms—that the complainant, as trustee, has repeated by demand of said Anna the said money, so as aforesaid due to the said Helms; that said Anna at one time expressed her wish to pay the same to the complainant, but finally refused to do so, and paid the same to the said Helms, having obtained an advance of that sum from her solicitor Charles F. Mayer, Esq. with an understanding that he should be reimbursed out of the monies recovered under the decree aforesaid—That the sum of money was in fact paid and advanced by the said Mayer on account of said Anna, and at her request to the said Helms after his insolvency, and the appointment of the complainant as trustee, and after both these facts were known to the said Anna—that said Anna made and published her last will and testament on the 7th of January 1832, and afterwards, on or about the 14th of March in the year last aforesaid, departed this life—that by her said will she nominated and appointed the said Mayer her executor, and that she has since obtained Letters Testamentary, and taken upon herself the burden of the execution of said will—that by said will it is amongst other things, devised, that out of the monies, property and estate, decreed to her in the cause in Chancery of Helms and others against Francis and Sadtler, and others there be paid to said Mayer such sum as he has paid to a certain Lewis Helms, being the sum of sixteen hundred dollars and upwards, which complainant avers and charges was the same sum of money which the said Anna had agreed to pay to said Helms as a consideration for striking off and dismissing his appeal as aforesaid—that the said Mayer, executor as aforesaid, refuses to pay to the complainant the sum of money, so as aforesaid due from the said Anna to the said Helms, at the time of his application for the benefit of the insolvent laws.

The bill also states, that the said Lewis Helms resides out of the state of Maryland.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted once in each of three successive weeks in some newspaper before the 28th day of October next, give notice to the said absent defendant of the substance and object of the bill, that he may be warned to appear within this court in person, or by a solicitor, on or before the 23rd day of February next, to shew cause, if any he hath, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

For Publishing by Subscription, at Bel-Air, Harford county, Maryland, A HUMOROUS PUBLICATION, TO BE ENTITLED

THE MIRROR OF MIRTH.

"Mirth that wrinkles care divides,
And laughter holding both its sides."

THE subscriber, fully aware himself, that innocent mirth tends more to blunt the arrows of adversity, and promote health and happiness among mankind, than almost any other means which can be used, is induced to try the experiment of starting a publication which will bear the above title. It is unnecessary, perhaps, to state, that he will expect, before he commences the publication, the names of a sufficient number of persons to pay all the expenses which will be incurred; and when he assures his friends that his calculations on the score of expense are not very extravagant, he hopes the public may be the more inclined to favour the contemplated publication.

The pages of the MIRROR OF MIRTH will be perfectly free from party spirit, whether in religion or politics. And while the most scrupulously devout will find nothing to condemn, those who make no profession of religion will find in every line something to please, to amuse, and delight.

The publication will contain witty Anecdotes, pithy Epigrams, Bun Mots, Enigmas, Conundrums, Epitaphs, Choice Sentiments from the best writers of the age; and a collection of the best Maxims, on various subjects, which are to be found in the most approved writers. The Editor of the MIRROR OF MIRTH will strive to make it worthy of the support of the community in all parts of this State, and indeed of the country.

TERMS.
The MIRROR OF MIRTH will be printed on a royal sheet of beautiful paper, and good type, and will contain 8 octavo pages weekly, at the very low price of $1 per annum, payable on the delivery of the first No.; $1 25 if paid at the end of six months; and $1 50 if payment be deferred until the end of the year. Fifty-two numbers will comprise a year, or one volume of 416 pages.

* Should a sufficient degree of encouragement be given, the MIRROR will be embellished, occasionally, with humorous engravings.

* Gentlemen procuring five responsible subscribers will be entitled to a sixth copy gratis. Those who procure ten or more subscribers, and forward the money, will receive an extra copy and ten per cent. on all money which they collect.

* If a sufficient number of names shall be obtained to justify the expense, the publication will be commenced as soon after the first of January as practicable; of which due notice will be given.

* Persons holding subscription papers will please return the same previous to the first day of January, 1834.

* As there is no work of the kind printed in Maryland, and as the price will suit the convenience of almost every one, the subscriber confidently calculates on a large number of patrons.

LANKIND AT THE BEGINNING OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY.
They had neither looked into the heavens nor earth, neither into the sea nor land, since been done since. They had philosophy without experiments, mathematics without instruments, and geometry without scales.

They made war without powder, shot, or mortars—may the mob make their wars without squibs or crackers. They sailed the sea without compass, and sailed with the needle. They viewed the stars without telescopes, and measured the air without barometers. Learning had no printing press, writing no paper, no ink. The lover was forced to send his mistress a deal board letter, and a billeted dove might be the sign of an ordinary trencher. They were clothed without manufactures, and their richest were skins of formidable monsters.
