PROPOSALS
For Publishing by Subscription, at Bel-Air,
Harford county, Maryland,
A HUMOROUS PUBLICATION,
TO BE ENTITLED
THE MIRROR OF MIRTH.

With that wrinkled care denotes,
And laughter holding both its sides."

THE subscriber, fully aware himself, that a recent mirth tends more to blunt the ardent activity, and promote health and happiness among mankind, than almost any other amusement can be used, is induced to try the experiment of starting a publication which shall bear the above title. It is unnecessary, he trusts, to state, that he will expect, before commencing the publication, the names of a sufficient number of persons to pay all the expenses which will be incurred, and when he has ascertained that his calculations on the probable expense are not very extravagant, he trusts the public may be the more inclined to favor such contemplated publication.

The Mirror of Mirth will be published for the first time, on the 1st of January, 1834, and will consist of eight octavo pages weekly, at the rate of $1 per annum, payable on the 1st of January. The first No. is $1 25 if paid at the end of six months, and $1 50 if payment be deferred until the end of the year. Fifty subscribers will comprise a year, or one volume of 400 pages.

It is a sufficient degree of encouragement, if the MIRROR will be embellished occasionally, with humorous engravings.

Persons procuring five responsible subscribers will be entitled to a sixth copy gratis. Those who procure ten or more subscribers, and forward the money, will receive an extra copy at ten per cent. on all money which they collect.

If a sufficient number of names shall be obtained to justify the expense, the publication will be commenced as soon after the first of January as practicable; of which due notice will be given.

Persons holding subscription papers will please return the same previous to the first day of January, 1834.

As there is no work of the kind printed in Maryland, and as the price will suit the convenience of almost every one, the subscriber will calculate on a large number of subscribers.

Editorial brethren who copy the above, will confer a favour on the publisher, and hereby certify themselves to the publication without sending their papers. Please mark the advertisement when you insert.

THE JOURNAL OF BELLES LETTRES.
A NEW AND STRIKING CHARACTER ADDED TO WALDIE'S CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

THE Proprietor of this work, anxious to gratify his readers to as great an extent as his means will allow, respectfully announces to the public that the very liberal patronage he has received has enabled him to add a new feature to this periodical, which he believes cannot fail to prove interesting and valuable.

THE JOURNAL OF BELLES LETTRES, embracing three to four pages of additional new matter, will be given every week as an accompaniment to the Circulating Library, and will contain:

1. Early reprints of the reviews and notices of new books, from the weekly and monthly periodical press of London, &c. These reviews will be carefully selected with reference both to imparting correct information respecting such new books as are reprinted in America, and to convey literary intelligence in regard to works which rarely find their way across the Atlantic. As great exertions will be used to make this department instructive and entertaining, the proprietor is confident that it will be considered an important addition, by means of which his numerous subscribers will be enabled to avoid the expense of purchasing such books as are printed on the calculation that their titles or the reputation of their authors will sell the edition. This part of the Journal will embrace a considerable amount of extracts from new books of travels, memoirs, biography, novels, and in fact present a bird's eye view of new publications, early diffused through the Union, by means of the facilities of mail transportation.

The London Literary Gazette will be culled for this purpose, while the "Critical Notices," of the London Morning Post, the Monthly New Monthly, the Gentleman's Blackwood's, Fair's, Edinburgh's, F. Ser's, and other Magazines, already regularly received by the editor, will be freely used.

2. Various, embracing literary anecdotes, new discoveries in science and the arts, sketches of society and manners abroad, literary and learned transactions, short notices of new books, and every species of information interesting to lovers of reading, with occasional specimens of the humorous departments of the London press, which are within the bounds of good taste, and are now published in no other journal in America.

3. A regular list of the new books published and in progress in London and America.

4. Occasional original notices of new American publications, with extracts embracing their prominent features of excellence or defect.

No additional charge will be made for this great increase of reading matter. It will be contained on the pages of the cover of the Library, and therefore suit of subscribers who receive their numbers by mail, to no additional expense of postage.

A. WALDIE.
Several applications having been made to ascertain the manner in which the original department of notices of new books will be conducted, we take the present early opportunity of stating that, as long as they shall meet unequivocally the UNBOUGHT. The presentation of a copy by the publisher shall not be a passport to praise, when the merits of the work do not warrant it; so that our readers may be assured of two things: First—books shall not be noticed the next day after they are received; and, secondly, they shall not be reviewed before they have been read. We have no royal road to puffing, and will be the less likely, therefore, to fall into the error of an unskilful writer, who in his anxiety to be the first to blow the bellows of criticism, read the surface only of a dud-volume, and gravely entered his approbation of two chapters which, unfortunately for his critical acumen, had been omitted, while the prefatory reference to them had been, by mistake, retained! This predicament was worse than that of the London editor, who criticised some passages of Cook's sailing, and found when he rose next morning, and his paper was all over London, that the play had been postponed.

For the rest, time must develop our course and our capabilities; in cases where the usual courtesy of the trade is not extended to this journal, unlike most of our contemporaries, we shall buy what books we want, and give to such as deserve it a careful perusal.

The prospectus, and some technical difficulties, always attending the first issue of a new journal, make the present number but a partial specimen of its future promise.
