Author. EDITED BY THE REV. RICH'D. CATTERMOLE, B. D.

THE REV. HENRY STEBBING, M. A. O other country is so rich as England in Sacred Literature. Her greatest Poets and Philosophers have shared with her Divines, in setting forth and establishing the truths of Revelation; while her Divines have been distinguished alike by the copiousness and the depth of their learning.

The soundness of character thus given to the standard Theology of England has, thro' a variety of circumstances, been happily prevented from degenerating into the harshness of scholasticism; and thus the whole series of our Sacred Classics, is a sell of truth and consolution, as open to the general reader as to the most learned student. It is intended to comprise in this collection, the best verks of all the most celebrated wri-ters, whose labours have been devoted to the fucidation and practical enforcement of the principles of revealed truth, whether in their upp leation to the immortal interests of individuals, or to the order and well being of so crety. Treatises on the Doctrines, Morality, crety. I reatises on the Doctrines, Morality, and Evidences of Christianity, which have received the permanent stamp of general appropriate of select Sermons of the most eminent Divines; the most interesting specimens of Reorgious Bio graphy; and the choicest examples of Devotional and Sacred Paetry, will succeed ca hother in the order wholl may be judged anot conductive to the benefit and gratification and the reader.

To the productions of each author, or to tach separate production, as the case may seem to require, will be prefixed an introducory Essay, pointing out their characteristic excellencies; and, in some instances, compre-mending a biographical sketch of the Author, with remarks on the state of religion in his

BY WILLIAM DARBY, ESQ. OF MARYLAND.

AUTHOR OF A VIEW OF THE UNITED STATES AND

THEODORE DWIGHT, JR. ESQ. OF NEW YORK.

The importance to the citizens of the U nited States, of a copious and accurate Gaz-etter of our country, will not, is believed, for a single moment be questioned. Whatever be a man's station in life, whether public or private, he frequently, almost daily, feels or private, he frequently, almost daily, feels the convenience and necessity of such a book of reference. Of similiar works, embracing the Universe, it may with truth be said of the most voluminous of them, that they are necessarily brief, and greatly deficient in reference. o our own country. This is undeniable-nor could it be otherwise in a work, which in the compass of 800 or 1000 pages, comprises so wide a field.

No such work, exclusively devoted to the United States, is now extant. None has ever been published-and the only one of a similar kind ever issued from the press, was a pocket volume of less than three hundred pages; nor has that been re printed in ten years. Within that period, important changes in the country, which it is the object of a Gazetteer to embrace, have taken place; new States have beer formed-new counties erected- new township the civil, literary, geographical and statistical condition of the country, assmaterially changed; and these changes are not to be found reorded in any single volume.

This deficiency, the compilers of the pro-used Gizetteer have undertaken to supply And in presenting it to the public for their pa-tronage, the publisher feels confident that it will be found as copious—as complete—and as accurate—as the nature of the case will admit. The names of the respectable gentlemen who It is the desire of the Proprietors, in undertaking "The Cabinar Library of Divisity," to already well known as the author of several its immediate rivals the distinguishing charactery waluable geographical works—will, it is believed the resisting of a literary in our natural with those of a literary in the control of the public at such a valuable geographical works—will, it is believed to resist the distinguishing charactery. valuable geographical works—will, it is believed, be a sufficient guaranty of the fidelity and accuracy of the proposed volume. The labour of more than two years has, already been besynch cannot fail to afford him guidance and upport in the highest exercises of his facul ies, and under every vicissitude of life.

The work will, be handsomely printed in Foolscap 8 vo. on good paper, cold-pressed, neatly bound in Morocco Cloth, lettered; and published (in Volumes of about 400). work, and the rapidity of its sale—(it having been entirely disposed of within four months from the day of its publication)—induces the publisher to undertake a second and improved edition. A Map of the United States, (not contained in the former) will be added to the work; and the publisher confidently believes, that such measures have been taken to secure a careful revision of the first, as will ensure the accuracy of the forthcoming edition.
