ON application to the subscriber, one of the Justices of the Orphans Court of said county, by petition, in writing, of John T. Larmer of said county, stating that he is now in custody for debts he is unable to pay, praying for the benefit of the act of the general assembly of Maryland passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, annexed thereto, and the said John T. Larmer having satisfied me that he has resided two years next preceding the time of this his application, and the said John T. Larmer having taken the oath for giving up his property as stated in his schedule, and having given security for his appearance at court, I do hereby order and adjudge, that the said John T. Larmer be discharged from confinement, and that he give notice to his creditors by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette once a week for three months before the fourth Monday in October next, to appear before the county court for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause, if any they have, why the said John T. Larmer should not have the benefit of said act and supplements, as prayed. Given under my hand this 14th day of April 1834.

From the above it will be seen that the undersigned has been compelled to resort to the provisions of the Insolvent Laws of this state, and in order to prevent misrepresentation, he will state the circumstances which led him to adopt this disagreeable alternative. He became security for an individual at Anne-Arundel county court for a considerable sum of money, for which sum the individual alluded to has left the state of Maryland, and the person to whom the money is due has sued for and obtained judgements against us. The undersigned, therefore, feeling himself unable to pay the debt, has been compelled to resort to the above.

WORSHIP BY THE ROSE-TREE.

Author of beauty, spirit of power,
Thou who did'st will that the Rose should be,
Here is the place, and this is the hour
To seek thy presence, and bow to thee.
Bright is the world with the sun's first rays;
Cool is the dew on the soft, green sod,
The Rose-tree blooms, while [illegible] birds sing praise,
And earth gives sight [illegible] Nature's God

Under this [illegible]

"A discourse on the Professional Character and Virtues of the late William Wirt, delivered in the Hall of the House of Representatives, March 18, 1834. By S. L. Southard.—8vo. pp. 59.

A beautiful edition, in pamphlet form, of the Discourse bearing the above title, has just issued from the press of the National Intelligencer. The perusal of this address as well calculated to reward the curiosity which has eagerly expected its publication from the time when it was pronounced.

Of the many eminent men to whom our nation has given birth, few have acquired and maintained so strong a hold on public admiration as WILLIAM WIRT: and yet fewer of such instances has this sentiment been so closely and so extensively associated, with one of cordial and almost affectionate regard.
