NAVY DEPARTMENT.
November 12th 1834.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Extract of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, by Capt. Henry E. Bland, dated, U. S. Frigate U. States, Narpina de Romania, August 22d, 1834.

"I do myself the honour to inform you, that in obedience to my instructions, I reached this anchorage three days ago from a cruise amongst the Islands—all well—and that I shall sail for Athens and Smyrna, as soon as the land breeze comes to us to-night.

"We had the pleasure to learn, a day or two previous to our leaving Voula, (about the 11th inst.) that the Commodore in Chief was at Alexandria, in the Delaware, all well.

"The young King of Greece did me the honour to visit my ship yesterday, for two hours, and, together with his Ministers, expressed themselves highly delighted with the order and condition she is in, as well as with the kind reception given them."

OLD MR. PARSONS.

Speaking of old Mr. Parsons reminds us of a story.—When first engaged in navigation, he kept a ship chandler's and grocery at the head of Hancock's wharf, (it's now we are speaking of) and had fitted out three schooners loaded with American produce for the West Indies, which, with his stock in store, constituted all his property. For fitting out these vessels he became considerably in debt, and as they had been long absent without being heard from, it was supposed they were lost.—The tradesmen found it inconvenient to wait longer for their pay, and were at length clamorous. Mr. P. whose cash was expended, dealt out most of his goods to his creditors. There was one blacksmith, however, to whom he was considerably in arrears, but who never mentioned him the subject of his debt. Mr. P. called upon, and told him if he ever expected to be paid, it would be too late. "Never mind that," said Vulcan, "I am not worried, if you are not." A short time afterwards, one cold winter morning, Mr. P. was roused from his slumbers by a loud knocking at his door, and on popping his head out of the window he saw his friend of the bellows. "Mr. P.," said he, "I believe that is one of your schooner's just this side of the castle." He lost no time in throwing on his clothes and repairing to the wharf, and to his joy found the blacksmith's suspicions correct. She had arrived with a return cargo of gold and silver, having sold all her produce at a great profit. It was under similar circumstances. She afterwards the foundation of the great fortune he afterwards accumulated. It is needless to say that the blacksmith was paid to his heart's content—and more than that, on the return of each annual thanksgiving, till the end of Mr. P.'s life, his family was presented with a box of raisins and a barrel of flour. Such was the character of that eminent merchant, EZEKIEL PARSONS.—N. Y. Com. Adc.

BAIT FOR RATS.

One of our subscribers informs us, and his veracity is unquestionable, that he was advised in baiting a wire trap to catch rats, to mix a paste of corn meal and eggs; he did so, and the first night he caught seven, the second night the trap contained 14—from half grown to full grown ones. To use his own words the trap net being very large, they were literally piled on one another for want of room. Rate, are the most destructive, whole might be sunk in shoal water with the crew on board without danger. Ample means were provided for supplying the vessel with fresh air. The plan was, to sail up at night, within a short distance from St. Helena, and sink the vessel until the next or subsequent night; when Bonaparte would be enabled to make his escape to the beach, at which time the vessel was to be raised, Bonaparte to get on board, and sail away in the dark. It happened, however, that Bonaparte died before the vessel was quite finished, and it is a curious coincidence that the vessel was to be coppered the very day the news of his death arrived. Johnson was to receive £40,000 as soon as the vessel got into blue water, exclusive of the reward to be given in case the enterprise succeeded.

This Johnson had previously offered his services to the Admiralty, and affirmed that he could blow up any ship without doing any hurt. Accordingly, a trial was given him in the Thames accompanied by a boatswain of one of His Majesty's ships who had been married only a week before, in a boat of similar construction to the one before described, to a barge moored in the middle of the stream.—They sunk their boat, made fast the torpedoes to the bottom of the barge, and lighted the match. Johnson then perceived that his vessel remained fast, having got (as the sailors express it) atwart hawse of the barge. Upon which he pulled out his watch, and having looked at it attentively, told the boatswain that he had only two minutes to live. Upon this the boatswain began to make lamentations: "Oh my poor Nancy!" said he, "what will she say?" "A vast blessing," said Johnson, "if it's your pocket, and he ready to start it into the haws hole, while I cut the cable." Upon saying this, Johnson seized a wax candle, cut the cable, and they got out of the torpedo, which blew up the barge.

FOREIGN.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival of the packet ship France, Captain Foy, at New York, from Havre, Paris dates of the 24th of September, and by the ship Henry, Capt. Gray, London dates to the evening of the 26th, have been received. The news they bring is not of an interesting description.

Great Britain.—The Parliament of England was further prorogued by commission, on the 25th of September, to meet again on Thursday, the 23d Oct.

Spain.—The Excoy of the Sublime Porte delivered his credentials to King Louis Philippe, at an audience, on the 23d Sept. His excellency and suite then proceeded to the Tuilleries in his Majesty's carriage, and were introduced by the Count de St. Maurice, Intro-ner of Ambassadors, and M. Jarnun, Chief Secretary and King's Interpreter for the Oriental languages.

The Constitutionalists.—It is stated to be contemplated to issue, on the second anniversary of the majority of the Duke of Bordeaux, a manifest signed by all the members of the other branches of the House of Bourbon, renouncing the abdication of August 2, 1830, and making it more distinct in favour of the Bourbons.

Spain.—Don Carlos is stated in the French papers to be in the city of Madrid, owing to fatigue, privations and disappointments. It is also rumoured, that his partisans have in contemptuous manner, to the tone of Spain the dissolution of the present Regency, who is about seven years of age. The Carlists being in possession of no seaports, find great difficulty in procuring supplies of arms and other necessaries of war.

Extract of a letter of the 12th of September from Madrid.—"The four battalions of the garrison destined for the insurgent provinces have not been able to march for want of money; the Minister of the Finances not having sent them the 2,000,000 rials, required for this purpose. If this policy can be raised, these battalions will move to reinforce the apathetic army of Gen. Ballester."

Carlos V. is said to have received with the resignation and firmness of a christian the fatal news of the death of his well beloved spouse.

PORTUGAL.

Accounts from Lisbon are not later than were received a few days since, but they con- firm the intelligence of Don Pedro's approaching dissolution, and that he had given orders to be conveyed from the Ajuda to the Queluz Palace, the place of his birth, and was left lying in the very room in which he was born. He had expressed a wish to perform some act which should show his father, that he did not depart this life at variance with his brother Don Miguel, which, it is added, his Ministers took care to prevent.

The intrigues respecting the Regency were going on the present Ministers imagining that their existence in office depends upon the Duchess de Braganza's holding the supreme power, in opposition to the charter, which would place the Regency in the hands of the Princess Isabel Maria, who held it when Don Pedro's new Constitution was put in force.

The insurrection in the interior provinces evidently increases. The guerrilla parties are strong and formidable, at the same time that the desertions and emigrations to Spain continue.

GERMANY.

The Leipzig Gazette has the following from Munich of the 12th inst:—It is asserted in the higher circles, that the French Government has consented to the marriage of Leuchtenburg, and that negotiations have already taken place upon the subject. The Duke at present resides with his mother at a country seat, three leagues from this place.

TURKEY.

Advices from Constantinople to the 26th of August state that the plague, which had been more destructive than for many years past, seems now again on the decrease. The Turks are beginning to lose their prejudices with respect to sanitary precautions. They have recourse to European fumigation which formerly they despised. The practice is adopted, at least by the higher circles and most of the ministers of the Porte. The number of victims has been between three and four thousand daily.

GREAT NATIONAL WORK.

AMERICAN MAGAZINE

Of useful and entertaining knowledge. To be illustrated with numerous Engravings by the Boston Engraving Company.

THE success which has attended the publication of the best Magazines from the English Press, has led to preparation for issuing a periodical more particularly adapted to the wants and tastes of the American public. While it will be the object of the proprietors to make the work strictly what its title indicates, it will, nevertheless, contain all articles of interest to its patrons which appear in foreign Magazines.

Extensive preparations have been entered into, both with artists and authors, to furnish from all parts of the Union, drawings and illustrations of every subject of interest, which the publishers confidently believe will enable them to issue a work honourable to its title, and acceptable to the American People.

The first number of the American Magazine, illustrated with upwards of twenty splendid engravings, will appear on or before the first of September, and be continued monthly, containing between forty and fifty imperial octavo pages, and be furnished at the low price of two dollars per annum. It will comprise—

Portraits and Biographical Sketches of distinguished Americans; Views of Public Buildings, Monuments and Improvements; Landscape Scenery; the boundless variety and beauty of which, in this country, will form an unceasing source of instruction and gratification; Engravings and descriptions of the character, habits &c. of Beasts, Birds, Fishes and Insects, together with every subject connected with the Geography, History, Natural and Artificial resources of the country, illustrated in a familiar and popular manner.

FREEMAN HUNT, Agent of the Boston Brick Company 47 Court st. Boston, July 17.

Editors throughout the United States who will give the above Prospectus a few insertions in their respective papers, shall be entitled to one year's subscription to the same.

CASE IN MARKET,

FOR ONE HUNDRED NEGROES of both sexes, from 10 to 30 years of age. I will give more for that number of slaves than any other Purchaser in the market, or that may come. All communications will be promptly attended to if left at James Hunter's Hotel, Annapolis, at which place the subscriber can be found.

PROPOSALS

TO RE-PUBLISH THE LONDON EDINBURGH FOREIGN AND WESTMINSTER QUARTERLY REVIEWS, FOR $9 PER ANNUM.

THE above Journals are already so well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well sustained reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the mid order of things, but as the wittest and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The EDINBURGH, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, is an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The FOREIGN QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radicals, and the mouth piece of Benthamism. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put to press immediately after they shall be received from Europe, and will contain the entire matter of the above work; making four annual volumes of upwards of six hundred pages.

They will be executed in as good style, and be printed in a shape but little differing from that of the European editions.

The price will be $9 per annum, payable three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than $30. Of the three at present republished, two of them alone cost $10.

Any individual procuring four subscribers, and remitting $30 on the receipt of the first Number, will be allowed an additional copy.

Subscription papers to be returned, and all communications to be addressed, post paid, to Theodore Foster, Albany, N. Y.

Subscriptions received at this office.

In St. Mary's County Court as a Court of Equity.

Charles Nathan and Margaret Bean vs. Clement Dorsey and Vernon Dorsey.

ORDERED, that twenty fourth day of September 1834, that the sale of the negro man David decreed to be sold in the case of Charles Nathan and Margaret Bean, against Clement Dorsey and Vernon Dorsey, made and directed by John Greenwell of Philip, Trustee, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary be shown by the first Monday of November next, provided a copy of this order be inserted in some news paper published at Annapolis once a week for three successive weeks before the twenty fourth day of October next. The report states the amount of sales to be one hundred and fifty-five dollars.
