

GREAT NATIONAL WORK.
AMERICAN MAGAZINE
Of Useful and Entertaining Knowledge. To be illustrated with numerous Engravings by the Boston Bewick Company.

The success which has attended the publication of the best Magazine of the English Press, has led to preparation for issuing a periodical more particularly adapted to the wants and tastes of the American public. While it will be the object of the proprietors to make the work strictly what its title indicates, it will, nevertheless, contain all articles of interest to its patrons which appear in foreign Magazines.

Extensive preparations have been entered into, both with artists and authors, to furnish from all parts of the Union, drawings and illustrations of every subject of interest, which the proprietors confidently believe will ensure them to issue a work honourable to its title, and acceptable to the American People.

The first number of the American Magazine, illustrated with upwards of twenty splendid engravings, will appear on or before the first of September, and will contain monthly containing between forty and fifty large octavo pages, and be furnished at the low price of two dollars per annum. It will comprise—

Portraits and Biographical Sketches of distinguished Americans; Views of Public Buildings, Monuments and Improvements; Landscapes; Scenery; the boundless variety and beauty of which, in this country, affords an inexhaustible source of instruction and gratification; Engravings and descriptions of the most interesting habits and customs of the various Tribes; the most interesting and interesting events of the day; History, Navigation and Antiquities of the country, illustrated in a familiar and popular manner.

FRANKLIN HUNT, Agent of the Boston Bewick Company, 47 Cornhill, Boston, July 17.

Editors throughout the United States who will give the above Proprietors, for a number of years, their respective papers, shall be entitled to one year's subscription to the same.

THE SACRED CLASSICS, OR CABINET LIBRARY OF DIVINITY.

With an original introductory Essay to each volume.

EDITED BY THE REV. RICH'D. CUTTERMOLLE, B. D. AND

THE REV. HENRY STEBBING, M. A.

Of the same country is so rich as England, in Sacred Literature. Her great Divines and Philosophers have shared with her Divines, in seeing her, and establishing the truths of Revelation, while her Divines have been distinguished alike by the copiousness and depth of their learning.

The soundness of character thus given to the standard Theology of England, has, in a variety of circumstances, been happily preserved from degenerating into the narrowness of sectarianism, and thus the whole series of "Sacred Classics," is a work of truth and consolation, as open to the general reader as to the most learned student.

It is intended to comprise in this collection, the best works of all the most celebrated writers, whose labours have been devoted to the circulation and practical enforcement of the principles of revealed truth, whether in direct application to the material interests of humanity, or to the order and well being of society.

Treatises on the Doctrines, showing the Evidences of Christianity, which have received the permanent stamp of general approbation, select Sermons of the most eminent Divines, the most interesting specimens of Religious Biography, and the choicest examples of Devotional and Sacred Poetry, to be printed each other in the order which may be preferred, most conducive to the profit and gratification of the reader.

In the production of each author, or of each separate production, as the case may seem, a reply will be printed in Latin, French, Italian, pointing out their characters, excellencies, and, in some instances, comprising a biographical sketch of the Author, with remarks on the state of religion in his times.

It is the desire of the Proprietors, in under taking this Cabinet Library of Divinity, to present the collection to the public at such a price, that he who purchases at present the cheapest of episcopal publications, may, for the same money, possess himself of works which cannot fail to afford him guidance and support in the highest exercises of his faculties, and under every vicissitude of life.

The work will be handsomely printed in Foolscap on good paper, with pressed, neatly bound in Morocco Cloth, lettered and published in 10 Volumes of about 400 pages each, on the first day of every month.

PROPOSALS TO REPUBLISH THE LONDON, EDINBURGH, FOREIGN AND WESTMINSTER QUARTERLY REVIEWS, FOR $8 PER ANNUM.

THE above Journals are already so well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well sustained reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, as the witness and most entertaining of the times, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The Edinburgh, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, is an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reformers.

The FOREIGN QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to controversial literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Royals, and the mouth piece of the Establishment. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and fast increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put to press immediately. They shall be received from Europe, and will contain the entire matter of the above publications, four annual volumes of upward of six hundred pages.

They will be executed in as good style, and printed in a handsome little differing from that of the European editions.

The price will be $8 per annum, payable in three months after the delivery of the first number. The English copies cannot be had for less than $30. Of the three, of present value, at least one more than cost $10.

Any individual procuring four subscribers, and retaining the receipt of the first number, will be allowed an additional copy.

Subscriber papers to be returned, and all communications to be addressed, post paid, to the Editor, Foster, Albany, N. Y.

Subscriptions received at this office.

COMPANION TO WALDIE'S LIBRARY.

The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

THE Select Circulating Library had been long in existence, it was discovered that there was still something wanting—that many occurrences in the literary world must pass unknown, as regards our agency, without an extension of the plan.

To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprietors to give that gratuitously as an evidence of their acknowledgments.

More extended experience has shown other desiderata which the "Companion" is intended to supply. While reading for the "Library" a large mass of material accumulates on the hands of the editor, of an interesting, entertaining, and instructive description, such as would properly come under the designation of Magazines, intermixed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this nature which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Library" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret.

To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines, &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little further to be desired. Being published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. The short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies, and quarterlies.

The following plan is respectfully submitted.

1. The "COMPANION" will contain the earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the British periodicals.

2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Library—each number containing sixteen pages—thus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little or no more expense, and making a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library itself, a volume every year, of 416 quarto pages of the size of the present.

3. The price will be three dollars for a subscriber—five dollars for two—and clubs five and upwards will be supplied at two dollars each.

4. As the work will not be commenced, unless a sufficient patronage be obtained, no payment is required at present, only the name, sent free of postage. Those wishing to support the publication will be pleased therefore to announce their intention as early as possible, as it is intended to commence the work on the first of January next. On the issue of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will evince a sufficiency of patronage.

The proprietor of the "Select Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of the advantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work, all the really valuable matter of the English literary and amusing publications may be comprised in this form at a rate of subscription and postage, so trifling as scarcely to be felt. It will form the cheapest reprint of reviews and magazines ever attempted in any country; a comparison with others it were needless here to enter upon, the "Library" itself being the best test by which to judge of the difference between an octavo and a quarto page. It will be the study of the Editor to embody a record of the day, adapted to the wants of this country, which can have no competitor for value or cheapness; how far he is likely to do this he must leave at present to the decision of his readers.

Clubs of five individuals, who subscribe to the "Library" and "Companion" both, will obtain the two for six dollars, the postage to very important consideration to the most distant post office, on the two, will be one dollar and ninety five cents, divided into seventy eight payments, and half that sum for 100 miles or a less distance from Philadelphia, while the same matter, in the usual American reprints of reviews and magazines in octavo form would be eighteen dollars, and the postage as three to one. We make this assertion advisedly.

Subscriber, to the "Companion," will be taken either with or without the "Library."

The proprietor trusts that his punctuality and exactness in executing his part of the contract in the publication of the "Library," will be considered a sufficient guarantee of the completion of his proposed undertaking.
