magnificent work, commenced forty years ago, and which Burns wrote his immortal lyrics to, now republished in five volumes, folio, with all the original plates, flute, violin and violoncello accompaniments. Haydn, Beethoven, Weber and Hummel.

Prussia of Frussia Education.—Austria with 11 millions of inhabitants, has only one ninth the number of towns possessing printing presses that Prussia with the same population has, and one third less than Saxony, which has but a million and a half of population. Leipsic is the greatest book mart, then Berlin, then Vienna, which publishes one third more than Vienna. "Ignorance is bliss," says the Iron crowned empire of Austria.

It is conjectured that trains are soon to be worn in the ladies' dresses. Then farewell to quadrilles and waltzing.

FOREIGN.

From the New York Commercial, April

A MONTH LATER FROM EUROPE.

After a long interval, we are at length enabled to announce important intelligence from Europe, by various arrivals, viz: the Utica, Sheffield, Poyster, from Havre, 28th February; the Columbia, Graham, and Roscoe, Delano, from Liverpool, (16th and 24th February packets) the former having sailed on the 1st, and the latter on the 12th, of March. By these arrivals, the editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received a large supply of European papers to the latest dates—the 11th of March from London being the latest. These papers announce the opening of the new British Parliament—the election of Abercrombie as Speaker, by a majority of 10 over Sir Charles Manners Sutton—a decisive defeat of the Ministry, on the address—a change in the Ministry—the death of the Emperor of Austria, &c. We have endeavoured to cover up the most striking features of the intelligence before us—reserving numerous articles opened papers for future examination.

The American Indemnity bill had not been acted upon by the Chamber of Deputies, when we find that the Committee had made their report. A Paris date of February 26th reports that they would do so in about a fortnight—which would carry it beyond the date to which our present advices extend. The members of the Committee had called for additional papers.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The new Parliament was opened on Thursday, the 19th of February. Great crowds of people thronged the entrances both of the House of Peers and the House of Commons. Strong bodies of the Police were in attendance to preserve the peace; and the mob amused themselves by cheering the popular members of both Houses and hissing and hooting the friends of Ministry. The Tory Lords and Bishops were received with tremendous yells. The liberal Peers were loudly huzzaed. The hostility to the Duke of Cumberland was manifested in a manner almost equivocal as to require the most active exertions of the police to prevent actual outrage.

The Lord Chancellor entered the House precisely at two o'clock. Shortly afterwards Sir Robert Ley, Chief Clerk of the Commons, appeared at the head of about one hundred members, and the Commission was read by the Lord Chancellor. The Lord Chancellor then announced that, as soon as the members were sworn, his Majesty would declare the cause of calling the Parliament—directing the Commons in the mean time to repair to their usual place of meeting, and make choice of a Speaker. The Commons thereupon withdrew—prayers were read by the Bishop of Hereford, and the oath of office were administered to the Lord Chancellor and the Lords.

There was a great rush of members at the doors of the Commons, at 12 o'clock. The Irish members mustered in great force. At one o'clock four hundred members were present. At 2 o'clock Sir Robert Peel and about one hundred members proceeded to the House of Lords, as already stated, and having heard the Royal Commission read, returned in about ten minutes.

FRANCE.

There has been another breaking up of the French Ministry; but of the causes of the explosion, we are unadvised. The Parisians were occupied with speculations as to the construction of the Cabinet, and one of the papers positively asserts, that M. Dupin will be the Minister. All that is known, however, on the subject is that both Soult and Sebastiani have been sent for and both have arrived in Paris.

The London Morning Herald of the 1st March contains the following:—

From France we received last night by express the Paris papers with our usual correspondence, of Monday. No progress had then been made in the Ministerial arrangements. As the public and the press were beginning to presume that the cabinet would be furnished by the joint ingenuity of Marshal Soult, Count Molé and M. Baraute, the work appears to have been suddenly spoiled by the outbreak of an internal dissention, and it is now as much out of joint as ever. The rock upon which these elements split is thought to be the amnesty—a measure which, however, notwithstanding the King's personal dislike to it, and the continuance of M. Thiers in office, is likely to be, and it is said will be conceded. Opinions still differ as to the result. The Courier Francais persists that Marshal Soult holds the commission of formation of the Ministry; another, Marshal Gerard, the Chief of the Ministry; another, Marshal Gerard, the Constitutionnel, that it has been intrusted to M. Thiers; our own correspondent, to M. Thiers; the Temps to M. Dupin; the Messager maintains a prudent silence upon the subject.

When the Utica left France it was generally believed that the bill of indemnity would pass the French Chambers—but the subsequent advices, by way of England, announcing the dissolution of the French Ministry, may retard the settlement of that question. At the sitting of the Deputies, on the 14th of February, a Royal Ordinance was read, appointing M. Desmousseaux Assistant Commissioner for the discussion of the bill relative to the American Treaty. This is the only mention we find of the American question. This appointment had excited some surprise, as heretofore it had not been usual for the committee to choose a reporter, until they have agreed upon the questions upon which they have to decide, and arranged the basis of the project which they may have to submit. It appears that in the present case, the committee have divided the labour among all the members, each one having a special question given to him to examine, and after they have all got through, their reports are to be submitted to M. Dumon to be collected and presented to the chambers. It was supposed that the committee would not get through before the middle or latter part of March.

The Paris Moniteur, the official paper of the 12th February, expresses a doubt whether the Chambers will allow the Americans the three millions of interest, as well as the principal, and it is uncertain whether the government will recommend it, in addition to the twenty-five millions, agreeably to the treaty. The same paper says, "The hesitation on the part of the Ministry, is represented as arising from their anxiety to see such a middle course as at once to avoid all cause of quarrel with the United States, and at the same time secure the adoption of the bill by the Chambers. But the treaty of 1831, recognizes the interest equally with the principal."

FRENCH LETTERS OF MARQUE.

Paris, Feb. 28.—The Americain (a Brest Journal) publishes the following article in its number of the 24th.

"Several applications for letters of marque have been sent from our department to the Ministry. The Minister of Marine has replied to one of these applications that in the uncertainty which prevails respecting the issue of the difference with America, he could not at present positively accede to the application; but that he would take due notice of it, promising to pay attention to it if occasion should arise."

From the Baltimore American.

The reader will have seen, in examining the Foreign Intelligence which occupies the preceding columns, that up to the 9th March—the latest Paris dates—no definite action had taken place in the French Chambers on the subject of the American indemnity bill. The editors of the New York Journal of Commerce, in their second edition of Monday, say—

The opinions expressed in the letters received from France are uniformly favourable to the passage of the indemnity bill. We have had access to a good many from the most respectable sources, and find no difference of opinion on the subject. Some of them speak in the most positive terms, such as "whoever may be Ministers, the bill will certainly pass." The language we have quoted is used by members of the Chamber of Deputies, who are also merchants and Bankers, and write to their correspondents here for their guidance in business of mutual interest.

The following extract of a letter from a gentleman in Paris to his house in New-York, dated 23d of February, will be read with interest by many of our citizens.

"Don't be frightened at a change of Ministry here. Whoever Louis Philip makes Minister must pledge himself to make the 25 million law, a cabinet question. Mr. Livingston told me, the day before yesterday, that he felt very confident of our success. My friend, Mr. Mechin, who wrote the book lately, on the American claims, and who was the only man in Paris who predicted the first rejection, (which he did to me,) now predicts 50 to 60 majority in our favour, as he told me."

OBITUARY.

Died, on Saturday last in this city, RICHARD HARWOOD, of Thos., Adjutant-General of Maryland, in the 61st year of his age, leaving a large and amiable family, and an extensive circle of friends and relatives to mourn his loss. He was blessed with a liberal education, with which he imbibed the principles of integrity and honour. His virtues were many, his foibles few. Never was he known to turn away from a spectacle of pity—never did he shut his ears to the voice of distress—never by a reproach silence the cries of poverty, nor denied his bounty to the necessitous. The numerous concourse of citizens and soldiers who attended his remains to the grave, best attest the estimation in which he was held by his fellow-citizens.

Departed this life on Friday morning last, 3d instant, at his residence in Cambridge, Dorchester county, admired, honoured and beloved by all who knew him, the Honourable WILLIAM BOND MARTIN, Chief Justice of the 4th Judicial District in Maryland, in the 66th year of his age.

LITTELL'S MUSEUM
FOREIGN LITERATURE,
SCIENCE AND ART.

PRICE.—Six Dollars a year, in advance—seven dollars and a half, if not in advance.

POSTAGE.—Five sheets, under 100 miles 7½ cents; over 100 miles, 12½ cents.

☞ This work will be sent to any Post Office in the United States, carefully wrapped up, upon receipt of five dollars in part payment. A few complete sets are for sale.

ENLARGED SERIES OF THE MUSEUM.

MR. LITTELL has much pleasure in announcing to the patrons of the Museum, that he has made arrangements for the future publication of the work in a style much superior to the present—and nearly approaching what he has always desired that it should appear in. The circulation of the work is now so large, as to make it important to the proprietor that he should be able to give his whole attention to it. This has hitherto been prevented by the care and labour attendant upon a multifarious and widely extended business. With the view of completing more quickly the publication of Lodge's Portraits and Memoirs of Illustrious and Noble Characters, (a splendid work now in hand)—of effecting a settlement of accounts extending over the whole of the United States—and of making arrangements in all parts of the country for the vigorous prosecution of the publication of the Museum, he has made a contract with Mr. Adam Waldie of this city to print the work, attend to its distribution, and manage all the financial concerns appertaining to it after the present year.

Mr. Waldie is a practical printer, not surpassed in taste by any other in the country; and as he is advantageously and generally known as the publisher of the Select Circulating Library, it is supposed that he will have it in his power greatly to promote the sale of the Museum. He has contracted to issue it promptly, and thus will be corrected the greatest fault which has heretofore attended its management. The changes in the appearance of the work will be as follows:

1. It will be regularly and promptly published.
2. Will be uniformly and handsomely printed.
3. On better paper.
4. Will be considerably enlarged.

As the sale of the work has increased, Mr. Littell has always been desirous of devoting the enlarged profits to its improvement—and although he does not wish the appearance of the next volume to be considered as entirely carrying out his plan, he trusts that the subscribers will be convinced, upon comparing it with any other work, that it is richly worth the price asked for it.

We shall not have satisfied our own wishes, in respect to this work, until it shall be so far enlarged and improved as to make it clear to every purchaser that he will receive all that is desirable to an American reader from all the Foreign Periodicals. That we can do so in a single work, by making it contain four or five times as much matter as an ordinary periodical, we have no doubt.—A great part of the Reviews and Magazines is composed of subscriber notices, we confidently appeal to the subscribers to the Museum who have been receiving over the British Journals, if we have not already in a very great degree succeeded in copying all that was [illegible] conservation.

As the work will now be considerably enlarged, we shall be able more fully to accomplish this object.

In order that he may, by frequent journies from home, be the earlier able to [illegible] other business, and devote himself exclusively to the Museum, Mr. Littell has made arrangements with the Editor of Waldie's Library to edit this work after December, 1834. However deficient the proprietor may be in other qualifications, he has always felt so zealous an affection for the Museum that he would not be willing to commit it, even for a time, to the care of another, were he not confident that the facilities, the experience and the ability of the new Editor, will render it more worthy of the patronage of the public than it has heretofore been. No change takes place in the Proprietorship.
