A fire broke out yesterday forencon about 11 o'cool in the old Jacob Tidd distillery, in Distil-House spar now occupied by A. H. Bowman; the interior of which together with most of the stock, was either consumely ogether with most of the wind at the time was high otherwice destroyed. The wind at the time was he and water scarce, it having to be brought a consideral distance; and but for the unremitted exertions of our cellent fire department, which is ever on the abrt, it devastation must have been very extensive. The belting destroyed was surrounded nearly on all sides by of cre of a similar description few people being swirst the control of timelar houses was in existence in city. We never saw such a strange mixture of X to against the first of the fir insured for $2000—the other half not insured at all. A melancholy accident remains to be recorded

A herastic the opposite side of the way, in another building eer ed by Bernard and Trull, as a distillery, a very cu sive well was nearly completed, having already of gressed into the bowels of the earth about sixty feet. the time of the alarm, there were 8 men at the lotte viz:—seven Irishmen, and Mr. Bowman's theorers an American. Tho tub was down and fearly full, at those stationed above at the windlass, all Irishman larmed, nay entirely bewildered, by the sudden bent out of the flames, shouted to those below at the up their lungs—fire fire!—jump in, save yourselves, for God's sake make haste .- If those above were the larmed, the feelings of those below may be imagin but never can be described, suffice it to say not wither he Chaldean ing the remainstrance of Mr. Bowman, who beson them to hold back, and go up two at a time, they all s, it would er, and show once sprang at the tub, and as many as could got Some clung to the rope, and others hung on the a and called out to those about to hoist away. This cone, and no accident occurred till they were within or 20 th of the surface, when there of them fell, is alarm or exhaustion, and Mr. James Burns and iose highest er than that re to honour, upon a rock, was immediately killed .- The other were very much injured, but to what extent we h d hate and cing in the boon unable to ascertain.

Mr. Bowman is entitled to a great deal of emit his presence of mind, and luckily escaped uninput Had the Irishmen possessed a particle of the same qu fication, not the least injury would have ensued as well was in a different building, and there was in fac real danger whatever .- Host. Gar.
