Fourth Year of Waldle's Library. BOOKS BY MAIL

PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW YOL-UMES FOR 1856.

THREE years have no classed since the proprietor of Waldies Select Circulating Library laid before the public his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the facility of a rapid transportation by mail. The most ample success has attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading community, it is believed, have been whole

The fourth year will commence on the first Tuesday of January, 1836, at which period it will be necessary to determine the additional amount of copies to be printed, subscriptions being taken only from January of each year. The entire success of the Library is the best guarantee that can be given of its continuance. It was the first to supply books by mail at a more per centage of their former cost; it has outlived more than thirty puerile attempts at initation; and has now an extensive list of patrons who are of the most solid and valuable class of citizens in every part of the Union, as well as in foreign continues. The object of Waldie's Labraryngs use and purpose, is enjoyment liberal and intellectual. To all who love a mental banquet. without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication furnishes a most valuable desideratum, supplying polite literature of a character to enlarge and im-prove the mind. The time and attention of the editor, himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procurement of works of an elevated standard of intellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most fasti-dious, and become a rullying point for all its members, promoting social belles lettres readmembers, property is a cell before lettres reading and conversation. The variety thus collected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches, Tales, and Scheet History, personal memoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure, &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty London duodecimo voivines is thus annualis furnished in weekly numbers, at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole range of popular iserature, and the work has now become so universally diffused in every part of the Unionas to form no inconsiderable portion of the literature of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for those who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted disseminates books to all parts of the country in from five to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in the way will supply good reading for a woole circ or family: for a cent and a half a day, post age included, a duodecimo book is sent week, making in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia. One volume of the Library, containing from fiftee: to twefity entire works, are be bound at a expense little exceeding to be binding outer separately, and constitutes a concentrate collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must spontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with minds unoccupied, or thrown Waldie's Library is published every Tuesday, accompanied by a cover of four quarto pages, entitled, The Journal of Belles Lettres, containing reviews of new books, litera-ry intelligence of all kinds, tales, lists of new books, &c. thus combining the advantages of a Library, and the amusament of a magazine and newspaper; the whole for $5.00 per annum, or clubs of five individusis out in five copies for $20.00, a reduction which pays the postage. COMPANION TO WALDIE'S LI BRARY.

The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

EFORE the Select Circulating Libratory had been long in existence, it was source of regret to every intelligent and obdiscovered that there was still something serving Catholic in America. So limited has wanting—that many occurrences in the litewanting-that many occurrences in the lite-To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprie-spersed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this and tree which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Library" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret. To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines, &c. &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little further to be desired. Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. short interval of two weeks between the pubfication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and

Those wishing to support the publication will be pleased therefore to announce their intention as early as possible, as it is intended to commence he work on the first of January next. On the issuing of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will erince a sufficiency of patronage.

The proprietor of the "Sclect Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of he advantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that, with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work. all the really valuable matter of the English ry' itself being the best test by which to judge of the difference between an octavo and a quarto page. It will be the study of the Editor to embody a record of the day, adapted to the wants of this country, which can have no competitor for value or cheap-ness; how far he is likely to do this he must leave at present to the decision of his readers.

Clubs of five individuals, who subscribe to the 'Library' and 'Companion' both, will distant post office, on the two, will be one dollar and ninety-five cents, and half that sum for 100 miles or a less distance from Philadelphia, while the same matter, in the usual American reprints of reviews and man obtain the two for six dollars, the postage (a very important consideration) to the most ANY NUMBER OF NEGROES, al American reprints of reviews and maga-including both sexes, from 10 to 35 years of azines in octavo form would be eighteen dol-

Such a publication as that which the subscriber proposes to issue, has long been called for by the exigencies of the Catholic community; and the rapidly increasing number of the members of our Holy Church seems fully to justify him in the expectation that it will meet with sufficient encouragement to enable him to conduct it sucthe expense and risk attending it, and confiding entirely in the liberality and generosity of his fellow Catholics of the United States and the Canadas has resolved to put it to press forthwith; and he therefore throws himself on his Catholic brethren, and calls on them for their support and patronage.

In this undertaking he is principally en couraged by the hope that it will meet with the cordial approbation of the clergy in geneal, and that he will be aided by the assistance of that learned and devoted body of men. The undertaking is one which is eminently calculated to disseminate the principles of our holy religion widely throughout the community, and to assist the clergy in the discharge of their parochial duties by affording, at an uncommonly low rate, all the necessary knowledge and instruction. The subscriber, therefore earnestly requests that the Bishops and Clergy in general will exert their powerful influence in order to increase the popularity of the work and to obtain a sufficient number of subscribers to enable him to carry it on with success. By these means they will augment the spiritual comforts of their charges, and contribute, in a great measure, to dispel the prejudices by which our brethren of the other denominations are unfortunately blinded.
