PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW YOL. UMES FOR 1836.

THREE years have now elapsed since the proprietor of Waldie's Select Circulating Library laid before the public his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the facility of a rapid transportation by mail The most ample success has attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading community, it is believed, have been whole-

The fourth year will commence on the first Tuesday of January, 1836, at which period it will be necessary to determine the additional amount of copies to be printed, sub-scriptions being taken only from January of year. The entire success of the Library each year. The entire success of the Library is the best guarantee that can be given of its continuance. It was the first to supply books by mail at a mere per centage of their former costs it has outlived more than thirty puerile attempts at imitation; and has now an extensive list of patrons who are of the most solid and valuable class of citizens in every part of the Union, as well as in foreign countries.

The object of Waldie's Library, its use and purpose, is enjoyment liberal and intel-lectual. To all who love a mental banquet, without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication furnishes a most valuable desideratum, supplying polite interature of a character to enlarge and im-prove the mind. The time and attention of prove the mind. The time and attention of the editor himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procure-ment of works of an elevated standard of intellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most fasti dious, and become a rallying point for all its members, promoting social belies lettres reading and conversation. The variety thus col-lected from the whole mass of published nected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches, Tales, and Select History, personal memoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty London duodecimo voio nes is thus annually furnished in weekly numbers, at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus emprices the whole range of popular litcriture, and the work his now become so unithose who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted disseminates books to all parts of the country in from live to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in this way will supply good reading for a whole circle or family; for a cent and a half a day, postage included, a duodectmo book is sent every week, making in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia. One volume of the Library, containing from fifteen to twenty entire works, can be bound at an expense little exceeding that of binding either separately, and constitutes a concentrated collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must always be worth the price that has been paid for it. The most ample testimony has been spontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with minds unoccupied, or thrown into unprofitable and uncongenial society. This immense supply of periodical reading has thus been welcomed every where as a means of improvement, and a substitute for means of improvement, and a substitute for however, be so unjust to our subscribers as the small talk or idle listlessness so apt to to make the Mirror an arena for the unskilemploy a large portion of the time of the ma-

HE subscriber having pur hased the Washington Mirror from its former proprietor, will in future be its confunctor. The general plan of the Mirror is, we be lieve, satisfactory to all our subscribers-af-fording a comp cheusive view of the city affairs in a manner unattempted by any other paper. This plan will be strictly ashered to. Our leading object being "to lay hold of those local subjects and occurrences which have not been noticed in the daily papers," those local subjects and occurrences which versally diffused in every pirt of the Union as to form no inconsiderable portion of the literature of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for diffusion to the results of the valuable services of Mr. William Theorems of the country of the valuable services of Mr. William Theorems of the valuable services of Mr. including Police Reports, and all such mat-Thompson as assistant editor, whose spirited THOMPSON as assistant cuttor, whose spirred and untiring exertions to establish this paper nave been so emmently successful.

We propose to turnish brief abstracts of all judicial decisions which shall more particularly interest the citizens of this District. Also, a brief but comprehensive summary of Congressional proceedings.

We propose further, during the session of Congress, to publish an Evening Edition, by which a rangement our distant subscribers will receive the latest Congressional Intelligence one day and a half sooner than through we intend, if possible, to furnish a week-ly list of all New Patents; a Bank-note Ta-ble, and Prices Current of Washington, Alexandria, and Georgetown, corrected with the greatest accuracy: also, Stage, Steamboat, and Rail Road Registers.

We shall exert our best endeavours to ele vate the literary character of the Mirror. - This can only be done by the co-operation of those minds which are able and willing to aid in the advancement of letters. We cannot, ful, since far more desirable, it must be allowed, would be judicious selections than with the prospects of Washington demand such a paper as we intend to publish. She is already closely allied, by her rail road, to a great and flour thing city, and is destined to be her compeer, after than rival, in exchanging the products of the country; by means of her stupendous canal, she is about to be thrown, as it were, into the centre of an immense territory, where the resources of industry dely the reach of ima-gination, and where an amount of capital must oon be created, which will astonish the most Waldie's Port Folio and Companion to the Library.

B FORE the Select Circulating Libra by had been long in existence, it was discovered that there was still something wanting-that many occurrences in the lite rary world must pass unknown, as regarded our agency, without an extension of the plan. To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Jour-nal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprietor to give that gratuitously as an evidence of his acknowledgments.

More extended experience has shown ther desiderate which the "Companion" is intended to supply. While reading for the "Library" a large mass of material accumulates on the hands of the editor, of an interesting, entertaining, and instructive de-scription, such as would properly come under the designation of Magaziniana, interspersed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this nature which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Li-brary" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret. To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines. Sec. &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of Catholic community; and the rapidly increas the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the couragement to enable him to conduct it sucan acquaintance with the interactive of the couragement to enable into conduct its accessfully. He, therefore, notwithstanding the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal of the captules of the United States and the Captules has resulted to put its to more readily corrected when they do. short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and quarterlies.

The tollowing plan is respectfully submitted.

1. The "Companion" will contain the earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the British periodicals.

2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Lihrary-each number containing sixteen pathus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little or no more expense, and the Bishops and Clergy in general will exmaking a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library itseer a volume crease the popularity of the work and to obtain a collection and the crease the popularity of the work and to obtain a collection and the crease the popularity of the work and to obtain a collection and the crease the popularity of the work and to obtain a collection. every year, of 416 quarto pages of the size present.

3. The price will be three dollars for a subscriber five dollars for two-and clubs five and upwards will be supplied at two dollars each.

4. As the work will not be commenced, unless a sufficient patronage be obtained, no payment is required at present, only name, sent free of postage. Those wishing to support the publication will be pleased herefore to announce their intention as early s possible, as it is intended to commence the work on the first of January next.

the issuing of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will evence a sufficiency of patronage.

The proprietor of the "Select Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of the advantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that, with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work. all the realty valuable matter of the English literary and amusing publications may be comprised in this form at a rate of subscrip-tion and postage, so trifling as scarcely to tion and postage, so trifling as scarcely to Faith of Catholics, by Kirk and Berrington; be felt. The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

The Catholic Periodical Library, Which is designed to be a reprint of all the best Catholic Works in the English Banguage, in weekly numbers, at 8 cents such.

THE dearth and bearcity of the best Catholic works must long have been a THE dearth and scarcing of the Catholic works must long have been a source of regret to every intelligent and observing Catholic in America. So limited has been the sale, and so great the expense of printing these books, that but few individuals in the country have been sufficiently enter-prising to undertake their publication; and their price, in consequence, has been more than proportionably high. In fact, so dear have Catholic books in general been, that it has been entirely impossible for the poorer members of the Catholic community, who stand most in need of instruction, and for whom the books have in general been campil-them for their support and patronage.

In this undertaking he is principally encouraged by the hope that it will meet with he cordial approbation of the clergy in general, and that he will be aided by the powerful assistance of that learned and devoted body of men. The undertaking is one which is eminently calculated to disseminate the principles of our holy religion widely throughout the community, and to assist the clergy in the discharge of their parochial duties by affording, at an uncommonly low rate, all the necessary knowledge and instruction. The tain a sufficient number of subscribers to enable him to carry it on with success. By these means they will augment the spiritual com forts of their charges, and contribute, in great measure, to dispel the prejudices by which our brethren of the other denomina tions are unfortunately blinded. TERMS:
