The Quotidunne takes notice of the maritim preparations now making by different powers and gives its conjectures to the causes of them It adds that France at Utrecht, and afterward under Louis XVI, and Nanoleon, wishood the flag should always cover the cargo and crews of a nation, and that the rights of neutrals should be respected. This is what Sardinia, Naples, and Holland, who are at war neither with Paris, Madrid, nor London, demand at this moment. These Powers wish that their commerce should do that for Don Carlos which the commerce of England is doing for Maria Cristina. The latter Power is alone interested in preventing this, but it is the duty of France to cause the independence of the seas to be recognized. If France remains passive her position is false, and nothing honourable can result from it. It is contrary to her interest both as a maritime and as a continental power.

The Courier Français endeavours to calm the apprehensions of war entertained by the commercial world; and turning to the side of the United States, says that Congress, by merely expressing their intention of not menacing or insulting France, would give all the explanations required.

It is intended that all our vessels affoat shall be put in a condition for reinforcing our navel divisions cruising at different points of the Mediterranean and the ocean. Our strongest force will, it is expected, be concentrated in the Levant. Although no ometal communications respecting the amendment of General Valuze and its required explanations were made, from delicacy Although no official communications respectno doubt on the part of the French Government, yet many unofficial communications have taken place between influential personages on both sides of the Atlantic, which have rendered each party for a long time aware of the consequences which have ensued and which are have only coajec-irnals before us. Sequences which have ensued and which are likely to ensue. After the debt was acknowledged and the treaty signed, payment was deferred and denied. This called forth from the President a calm statement of what must follow if the payment were still denied. The Chamber of Deputies voted the payment, demanding at the same time reparation for what they considered an insult, but which was a remark, sanctioned by the after vote of said Chamber, acknowledging the justice of the debt. Reparation was impossible, nor was any fresh insult intended; but most certainly if payment be still denied, the statement to Congress of the necessary consequences of such non payment, will be repeated, and una-

Your reasoning is just (reputes the French Ministers). So justif is, and so fully convinced are we of its truth, that we will not tolerate your noninterpolarse law an instant. We will consider its declaration of war.

In resty to his, the Americans urge that the French go upon a most unjustifiable principle, for that every nalion has a right to pass companyial restrictions without being called to accommendate the strictions without being called to accommendate the strictions.

mercial restrictions without being called to account for it. The French they represent, will be the aggressors in such a war, and that how-over unwilling the Americans might have been to rush at their own accord into a contest, the nation is of a spirit not to refuse a challenge. I date, which state, 'Our President is mad to have been so rude with you, but you are equally mad should succeed in arrying a bill of nonintercourse."

It remains to be seen whether the President will succeed in obtaining this. Most certainly his address to congress will point it out as the only remedy for non payment. Yet, even should so improbable a vote as that of nonintercourse take place, after somo delay in America, it then remains with the French Government to decide certainly has made, of considering an act of scamen at the disposal of Government. ទី១១ ស្នាស់ខេល់ មិយិធិ ១៤៤ 🕏 EMBELLISHED WITH A MULTITUDE OF COMIC ENGRAVINGS.

NEW PERIODICAL, of a novel cha-cacter, bearing the above appellation, will be commenced on the beginning of Jan-uary, 1836. While it will furnish its patrons with the leading features of the news of the day, its principal object will be to serve up a humorous compilation of the numerous lively and pungent sallies which are daily float-ing along the tide of Literature, and which, for the want of a proper channel for their pre-servation, are positively lost to the Reading world. Original wits and humorists of our time will here have a medium devoted to the faithful record of the scintillations of their genius. It is not necessary to detail the many attractions which this journal will pos-sess, as the publisher will furnish a specimen number to every person who desires it—(those out of the city, will forward their orders, postage paid)—> and he pledges himself that no exertions on his part shall be wanting to make each succeeding number superior in every respect to the preceding ones.

THE SALMAGUNDI will be printed on large imperial paper, equal in size and quality to that which is at present used for the Gentle-man's Vade Mecum. It is calculated that MORE THAN will be furnished to the patrons of this Jour-nal in one year—these, in addition to an ex-tensive and cnoice selection of Satire, Criticism, Humour and Wit, to be circulated through its columns, will form a Literary Banquet of a superior and attractive order; and the publisher relies with perfect confi-dence on the liberality of the American pubuence on the liberality of the American pub-lic, and the spirit and tact with which this expensive undertaking will be prosecuted, to bear him successfully and profitably along with it.

The Terms of THE SALMAGUNDI will be TWO DOLLARS per annum, payable inva-riably in advance. No paper will be furnishriably in advance. No paper will be furnished unless this attipulation is strictly adhered to. IP Clubs of three will be supplied with the paper for one year, by forwarding a five dollar note, postage paid. Clubs of seven will be supplied for the same term, by forwarding a ten dollar note. The papers that are sent out of the city will be carefully packed in strong annalysis. packed in strong envelopes, to prevent their rubbing in the mail.
