Col. Lewis, a Commissioner from Ter-as, has stated to us a fact, which, when known, will show the people of the Undel States, hat a portion of them, even now, to not secure from the machinations of Santa Anna, the Mexican butcher. A few weeks ago, Colonel Manny, commander of the U.S. garrison at Fort Jessup, situated about 20all es fron the Sabine, accidentally learned, thata rafluential Mexican, living 9 or 10 miles from that place, had received from Santa Anna an important communication. Col. M., suspecting mischief and resolved to exercise the utmost vigilance, immediately seat out some three or four men under his command, who had the good fortune to obtain possession of the original letter in Santa Augua's own hand-writing, which they placed in the hands of their commander. urged the Mexican to arouse the Indians in his vicinity against the Texians, and to promise them, if necessary, the full possession of all the Texian lands after the extermination tion of the inhabitants. Another injunction was, that he should, by himself, or through emissaries, excite the slaves of Louisian to rise up and cut the throats of their masters, and then, under the promise of unlimited rethe Texian country. Col. M., having real the letter, instantly despatched it to the Go. varde, to vernment of the U. States at Washington

WISCONSIN TERRITORY.

This Territory is fast gaining on public attention. The following notice of it is from Gennesee (Le Boy) Gazette, of the 17th inst Two years ago, nearly, we heard a person, who was well acquainted with the west, speak of the Rock River country in terms of as decided praise as those we now copy. The editor of the Gazette says:

"We have now in our possession a letter written by a young gentleman, formerly from Livingston county in this state, and who has sent considerable time in travelling in Mickey gan, Illinois and the Wisconsin Territory. speaks well of this latter Territory. Be speaks well of this latter Territory. The Bock river country is the finest country he ever say for farming purposes. He says: 41 though Grand river surpassed any thing in the western world, but it will not compare with Look net country. Rock river is nevigeble for them. country" Rock river is navigable for steam boats to Rockport, where there is water power equal to the Genesoo river at Rochester. There are two steamboats now making at Pine burgh, to ply on this river the coming season as far up as the raids at Rockport. The land directly west from Milwaukee on Bock river, is very heavily timbered with pricily ash. It is so thick that it is almost impenetrable—and it is where Black Hawk and his tribe had themselves in the war with the whites. Milwaukee, in the most important point in the territory of the pricing of which is the most important point in the territory, is attracting the attention of emigrants from all parts of the United States. We received a letter from an individual, resident there, Feb. 26, which states that 200 fimilies from Virginia are coming in there early in the spring: One of the capitalists of the place is now building a large three story public house, which will be finished about the first of June.

NOTICE.

How few, like him, inquire the wretched out, And court the offices of soft humanity; Like him, reserve their raiment for the naked, Reach out their brand to feed the crying orphan, Or mix their pitying tears with those who weep.

Practising the cardinal virtues, he gently sunk into the arms of that unsated monster, Death, without fear or awe. To him, whose religion was that of Christ, and his Apostics, Why should the grave be terrible?

He knew that, where the true Christian bends under the weight of his sorrows, there is a hand that props him; where he sighs and weeps, there is a voice that comforts and en-courages him. He knew that the heart which is alien from God, finds no object on which to fasten itself-none that answers its deepest and sweetest wants. With God he held communion in the unobtrusive silence of retired prayer, and bent his knee in homage to his supreme and adorable essence. -The sorrow of those who mourn for him is no external show, but comes from hearts wearing the deepest mourning of distress, for that father, and that friend, who has gone to a higher destiny than that of earth. why should we regree this transient separa tion? Why let loose the useless wail of grief? He who has departed will rest in the bosom of a merciful Saviour, and therefore unavail ing is the tears of regret or the sigh of his sarvivor. Oh! let not tears embalm his tomb, None but the dame had his tomb, None but the dews by twilight given! On! let not sighs disturb the gloom None but the whispering winds of Heaven.

Died, on Monday morning last, at his residence near this City, of consumption, Mr. RICHARD GARDINER, of George, leaving a Widow and three infant children, to mour. the loss of an affectionate Husband, and tender Father. It may be said with truth, of the deceased, that he sustained thro' his short life, the character of a sober and industrious man. He died as he lived, an unostentatious christian.
