CARROLL COUNTY.

The citizens of Westminster, as soon as the intelligence was received by them of the passage of the bill to creet Carroll county, determined upon a public celebration of the egloririous and triumphant event" by a procession and an illumination of the town. Carroll county is one of the prettiest counties in the State, and will soon, we have no doubt, be one of the most populous and wealthy. We take the following notice of it from the Westminster Carrolltoni. [Chronicle.

The number of Election Districts will be 9. Commissioners will be appointed shortly to lay them off.

Judges Dorsey, Kilgour, and Wilkinson, of the Montgomery, Calvert, and Anne-Arundel county courts, will sit upon the bench of Carroll county. The time of holding the Courts will be designated by law. The County Clerk, it is supposed, will be appointed by the judges

The Register of Wills will be chosen in a weck or two by the legislature.

SINGULAR CASE OF POISON.

A friend of ours who was called in on the occasion, has been kind enough to communicate some facts relative to the poisoning of twelve persons. It seems that some relative of her's ill the blank with "first in New York, sent a plumb cake to a free negro oman living at Rockkets, with a letter, which il the blank with "first is said to be almost illegible, by the pack of Leonline. The woman gave several of her friends fill the blank with "se-mber." portions of the cake, and all who ate of it soon became very ill—these were eleven negroes and became very ill—these were eleven negroes and fill the blank with "se one white woman. CONNUBIAL AFFECTION.

A correspondent of the Newark Advertiser gives the following incident, which took place during the trial of Richard White, for setting fire to the Treasury buildings at Washington: "In the course of the trial the most clever and celebrated thief takers have been examined. and scenes of ingenious villaint have been disand scenes of ingenious vincing rive been dis-closed which have inspired us with wonder ap-proaching to admiration. There was a beauti-ful woman examined, a Mrs. Baldwin, to prove that she overheard White telling her husband that he had succeeded in setting fire to the Treasury. "Where is your husband?" asked the counsel for the prisoners. She paused for a moment, a hand beautifully formed, of ivory whiteness, was passed over her dark eyes, and then in a low voice answered, "he is in the State's Prison in New Jersey." "And were you not in the State's Prison!" "Yes, when I went to see my husband." "But were you not confined there for an infamous offence!" "No." Were you never charged with an infamous of-

The Court suggested to Mrs. Baldwin that she was not compelled to answer that question. She paused as if to summon all her energy, and then litting her head exhibiting a countenance highted up with more than ordinary intelligence and energy, she answered, "I will tell. Yes sir, I was charged with taking to my poor hushand instruments to enable him to escape from prison, and (rabing her arm and her voice at the same time) did it. It you call that an in-timous offence, I do not." There was a sudden and universal burst of approbation from every part of the Court room, to recompense this dis alay of connubial devotion and fidelity, and it ould not be repressed until it had found full
