SUFFERINGS OF THE CREW OF THE DEE.

The following particulars of the sufferings undergone by the crew of the Dee while ship, are given in the Aberdeen Herald:
The Dee arrived in the bay yesterday morning, and at noon entered the harbor. The quay was crowded with anxious spectators, and as the vessel neared the berth, the scene was truly heart-rending. The mourning relatives of the deceased seamen, though previously apprised of the unfortunate fate of those who were near and dear to them, seemed unwilling to give credence to any testimony apart from a positive confirmation by those who had been eye witnesses to their decease. Their weeping widows rushed on board with their helpless orphans in their arms, while parents and friends followed in a equal grief. When a convenient opportunity offered, the surgeon, Mr. Littlejohn, though in a very weak state, kindly and most readily expressed his willingness to give every additional information in his power. The most painful fact in connexion with the loss of the Dee's crew, is the great mortality, compared with the other vessels which were beset at the same time.—Mr. Littlejohn accounts for this on the following grounds:
When the Dee was beset she was among loose ice, the alternate opening and closing of which exposed her to great danger. The crew were forced, constantly exposed, had most harassing duties to discharge, and little or no time to change their clothes. This state of things continued about two months; and so immediate and certain did the destruction of the vessel at one time appear to be, that the beds, chests, provisions, &c. had to be taken on the ice. Here all hands remained for two days; and as a proof that this was the first and chief cause of the fatality which immediately followed, Mr. Littlejohn remarks that almost immediately after they got in went on board they began to complain, and scurvy became more and more prevalent. To add to this, when the Thomas was lost, the greater part of the crew of the Dee went over the ice, a distance of four or five miles, to assist in carrying over part of the provisions. This second exposure had almost painful effect; and that it was the cause of increase of mortality is evident from the fact, that the proportions of the crew of the Thomas, which were divided among the other vessels, fell victims to the disease in far greater ratio than the other men on board. That these were the chief causes is also evident, when we know that none of the other vessels were at all disturbed by loose ice, but, on the contrary, were immovable from the first day that they were fixed until the day that they got clear.
On the 27th of September, the crew of the Dee, fearing a late season, went on half allowance. The mess was 3 lbs of bread a week, 3/2 or 4 lbs beef, and 2 1/2 lbs barley only allowed to make soup for sixty men! But Mr. Littlejohn states that the scurvy was the great cause of the mortality and death, which most certainly have been attended with excruciating pain, the disease having generally begun in the mouth, thus rendering the unfortunate men unable to take victuals. The extreme cold is mentioned in Mr. Littlejohn's letter; but as another evidence, we may add that, even in the cabin, while their hands were over the little fire they had, their backs were freezing. So intense was the frost, that even liquor was frozen, and at times the ink in the glass was solid.
The coals were all exhausted by the end of January, after which staves of casks with any other lumber, were made use of. The want of fire now added to the pain of the sufferers, who were getting weaker day by day. Occasionally, a little refreshing soup was made from foxes, many of which they killed; but the ravage of the disease seemed to baffle every remedy. Spirits were allowed in small quantities, but seemed to do little or no good. A partial relief was, however, occasionally afforded in this way; and in their last moments, some of the men asked for a little grog. No spirits were used after the Dee left the ice, and now death made sad havoc.
From the 16th of March, the day on which she got clear, scarcely as there one man able to assist another, and our readers may form some conception of their deplorable state, when we mention the fact, that two or three were lying together in one blanket, covered with ice, and the blanket underneath literally a mass of vermin. The dying were often lying in the same bed with the dead for days together; and when obliged to consign the latter to the deep, the bodies had to be hoisted up the between-decks with a tackle, and thrown overboard.
Having only the close reefed topsails set when the Dee left the ice, and the remaining portion of the crew being unable to render any effective assistance, she was almost wholly at the mercy of the wind and tide, and at one time drifted so far south as 52 degrees. The temperature now was a pleasing change, but scurvy was more deeply rooted to be eradicated without some more tangible remedy.

concourse assembled at the Court house to hear the solemn sentence of the law. The Attorney General having recapitulated some of the most prominent evidence concluded with this request that the Bench proceed to pronounce the sentence which the law adjudges to the crime of arson. Moonbon being called, rose and heard with stoical indifference a brief sketch of his past but vicious life.
The affecting language of the Judge, his appeal to Moonbon's feelings for an afflicted mother, to his sense of the awful situation to which he had subjected himself in breaking the laws, his request that he would prepare for the early and ignominious death which awaited him, and the final sentence "that he should be hung by the neck until dead" were altogether a scene of intense interest which drew tears from many an eye. Not a muscle of the prisoner trembled at his sentence, and he withstood the gaze of hundreds with as much apparent indifference as if unconcerned, but whether this was owing to ignorance or hardness is a question for a philosopher. Whyanth was acquitted on account of his extreme youth.

A PERILOUS SITUATION.

A few days since, when the waters of Connecticut river were exceeding high, a raft of pine boards, with four men on it, was carried out into the middle current above Bellows Falls, in consequence of the suction of the falls, despite of oars and tiller, and was on the point of going over, when the villagers, alarmed by the cries of the men, went out in a boat and threw them a rope, just in time to save them.

EXTRAORDINARY.

A flock of sheep, 64 in number, belonging to Mr. Edmund Clark, of New Milford, Conn. were every one killed by a single flash of lightning a few days since. They were under a tree which was struck, and the entire flock were stricken dead by the same bolt—several of them being found standing dead on their feet.

A correspondent who adds us from Chicago, under date of the 31st inst. has the following by way of post-script:—Yesterday, one of the canoes which were thrown into the river at the time of the Indian massacre, August 15, 1812, was recovered. It is a brass six pounder, bright and in good order. The carriage on which it is mounted, is, as might have been anticipated, considerably decayed. It was taken from the British during the Revolution."

To the Voters of Anne Arundel County.

Gentlemen:—I have been informed by what I believe to be the wishes of a large portion of the people of this county, and more particularly of the Sixth Election District, to offer myself as a Candidate to represent you in the next Gen'l Assembly of the State. The peculiar circumstances of the times, the political situation of our country, and the inflamed state of party spirit, which, forgetting its legitimate object, seeks now only the aggrandizement of its vot'rs, seem impiously to demand that an effort should be made to place the guardianship of our public affairs in the care of those whose only object and motive can be the faithful performance of that trust. If therefore, I should be elected at the coming election, I shall proceed to the seat of government, untrammelled by party pledges, party engagements, or party views, and with the single determination of promoting the interest of the county, and the honour and welfare of the State.

DR. BRANDRETH

WANTS NO COLLEGE, NO INSTITUTION, NO MONOPOLY, NO CHARTER, HE BEING QUITE SATISFIED TO REST ON THE PATRONAGE OF THE PUBLIC FOR THE SUCCESS OF HIS GRANDFATHER'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS.

THE unprecedented success which has resulted from the adoption of Brandreth's Pills, during a period of upwards of 33 years, the numerous and extraordinary cures which they have performed upon hundreds of individuals whom they have rescued from almost inevitable death, after they had been pronounced incurable by the most eminent of the faculty—justify Dr. Brandreth, the proprietor of this Vegetable Universal Medicine, in warmly and conscientiously recommending it to the especial notice of the public.
Dr. Brandreth wishes mankind to consider this truth, that health solely depends on the state of purity in which the blood is kept, every part of the body being supplied daily with new blood from the food consumed, consequently, according to the purity of that blood, so must the state of the body be more or less healthy. To obtain therefore, the most direct purifier of the blood, is a question of no little importance to every individual.

Dr. Brandreth's Pills are the most direct purifiers of the blood, there will be no doubt when it is considered that they have gained their present very extensive sale by their own intrinsic merit; proven by the numerous cures which they have accomplished in every variety of disease.
The peculiar action of these pills is most surprising; their operations being more or less powerful according to the purity of the circulating fluid. On a person in a fair state of health, who is only costive or slightly bilious, they will be scarcely felt; on the contrary, if the complaint be chronic, and the constitution be much deranged, the effect generally at first is most powerful, until the system be freed from some of its most vitiated and turgid humours. This accomplished, doses sufficient to cause two or three copious evacuations daily, will soon remove the disease, and the constitution will be restored to a state of health and renewed vigor.
As a general Family Medicine, these Pills stand unrivalled. In many of the lingering complaints also, with which the human system is afflicted, they have been highly successful. The use of a few boxes will, in most cases, convince the patient of their beneficial properties. Indeed, a fair trial is all that is needed in their recommendation.

Beware of COUNTERFEITS. If you want the GENUINE Medicine be sure and keep clear of DRUG STORES. No DRUGGIST or APOTHECARY sells the GENUINE BRANDRETH PILLS. Ask to see the Certificate of Agency. All the regularly appointed Agents have one. Price of Pills 25 cents the Box, with full directions.

THE SUBSCRIBER is the regularly appointed AGENT for ANNE ARUNDEL COUNTY, of whom the GENUINE MEDICINE can at all times be procured.
RICHARD WELLS.
I certify that the above named Richard Wells is the accredited agent for the sale of Dr. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills in the city of Annapolis.
