Fourth Your of Waldie's Library, BOOKS BY MAIL! PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW YOL-

without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication furnishes a most valuable desideratum, supplying polite hiterature of a character to enlarge and improve the mind. The time and attention of the cittor, himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procurement of works of an elevated standard of intellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most fasting and become a rallying point for all its members, pronouting social belies lettres reading and consersation. They warrety thus collected from the whole mass of publishes works, mostly new, embraces. Biographys Novales Voyages and Trayels, Sketches. dious, and become a railying point for its members, promoting social belies lettres reading and conversations. The variety thus collected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biographys Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches Tibles, and Sales History, personal regular presents. Tales, and Select History, personal nemoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure. &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty Landon duodecimo volumes is thus annualla furnished in weekly numbers, at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole range of popular lit erature, and the work has now become so uni versally diffused in every part of the Union as to form no inconsiderable pertion of the literature of the country, and with which as acquaintance has been me really necessary to those who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted dissemi-nates books to all parts of the country in from five to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in this way will supply good reading for a whole circle or family; for a cent and a half a day, postage included, a duodecimo book is sent every week, making in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia. One volume of the Library, containing from fifteen to twenty entire works, can be bound at an expense little exceeding that of binding either separately, and constitutes a concentrated collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must always be worth the price that has been paid for it. The most ample testimony his been anontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with minds unoccupied, or thrown into unprofitable and uncongenial society. This immense supply of periodical reading has thus been welcomed every where as a means of improvement, and a substitute for the small talk or iffle li-tlessness so apt to employ a large portion of the time of the ma

A NEW AND CHEAP PERIODICAN Attention is requested from our readers to the following prespectus of a new, and even a cheaper book periodical, which will be issued from this office in the first week of next January. It will not be in so convenient a form for binding as the present, with which it will in no way interfere, but it will make books cheap beyond all precedent. It will contain the works of the day, which are much sought after, but are comparatively dear, and which cannot penetrate the interior in any mode half so repidly as by mail, in which volumes of books are prohibited. A fifty cent American reprint will be furnished entire for from four to six cents; a Marryat novel for twelve cents, and others in propor-

cneaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the uttermost parts of our vast continent, carrying society to the secla ded, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than twofold accessible; we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto library a volume weekly for two cents a day; we now propose to give a volume in the same period for less than four cen's s week, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still further in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as erer so great a favourite, will continue to nake its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same. But we shall, in the first week of January 1837, is-sue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, but on very superior paper, also filled with books of the newest nd most entertaining, though in their seceand most entertaining, though in their segeral departments of Novels. Tales, Voyages Travels, &c., select in their character, joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to entiven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it, at an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner that the most scepical shall acknowledge "the power of coucentration can no faither go." No teck which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the maibus, which will on entirely distinct pariedical.
