Porth Year of Waldie's Library. PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW YOL-UMES FOR 1836.

THREE years have now elapsed since the proprietor of Waldic's Select Circulating Library laid before the public his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the featility of a rapid transpartation by mail. The most ample success har attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading consensity it is believed, have been whole and selected matter, news, literary and selected matter, news, literary. community, it is believed, have been whole-

The time and attention of the editor, himself a reader from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procurement of works of an elevated standard of inellect which may be admitted into every lainly without hesitation by the mos lasti-dious, and become a rallying point for all its memoers, promoting social belies lettres read-ing and conversation. The variety thus col-lected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, embraces Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Statches, Tales, and Select History, personal memoirs of extraordinary individuals, and curious adventure, &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty London duodecimo volumes is thus annually furnished in weekly nursiars, at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole targe of popular lifterature, and the work has now become a universally diffused in every part of the Union as to form no inconsiderable portion of the Union as to form no inconsiderable portion of the Union acquaintance has become really necessary for those who make the surface and the control of the control of the control of the control of the United States, and guarantee the continuous to the other traces and guarantee the continuous to the united States, and guarantee the continuous of its publication, with the certificity of payment to the other work as the control of extraordinary individuals, and curious adwho mix in society.

THE Conductor tenders his acknowledgements to gentlemen, for their kind offices in extending the circulation of the Curthe merits of which it does not become us to speak, we venture to say, there is no periodical of its price, that commins more matter directly useful to the great gricultural interest, than is to be a und in the columns of the Cultivater. One volume contains as much matter, by printer's computation, as five ordinary duodecimos, which sell at 75 to 125 cents each. If, then, as we believe, the paper is both cheap and useful, and calculated to promote improvement in the business of husbandry, every gentleman may be each this community, by a solderate effort to extend its circulation. We plead not for ourselves, but for the great interest which it is our pride and pleasure to serve.

NEW PERIODICAL, of a novel cha racter, bearing the above appellation, will be commenced on the beginning of Jan-1836. While it will furnish its patrons with the leading features of the news of the sy, its principal object will be to serve up ny and pungent sallies which are daily float-ing along the tide of Literature, and which, for the want of a proper channel for their pre-servation, are positively lost to the Reading world. Original wits and humorists of our time will here have a medium devoted to the faithful record of the scintillations of their genius. It is not necessary to detail the many attractions which this journal will pos-wanting to make each succeeding number superior in every respect to the preceding ones.

The Salmaouxdi will be printed on large imperial paper, equal in size and quality to that which is at present used for the Gentleman's Vade Mecum. It is calculated that MORE THAN Philadelphia, November 26, 1836.

TWISE very liberal patronage bestuwed on the SATURDAY NEWS, since its remmencement in July last, and a desire to meet that patronage by corresponding exertions, have induced us this week to publish a Bruble Number—being the largest sheet ofer printed in Philadelphia for any purpose, and the largest literary paper ever printed in which the United States. To those of our friends who are practical printers, it need not be mentioned that this undertaking has involved serious mechanical difficulties. The largest points is used for our ordinary impression—but this would accommodate only a single page of the mammoth sheet, and we were obliged, therefore, to work four forms at different nerious. TT was one of the great objects of "Waldie's Literary," "to make good reading cneaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the attermost parts of our wast continent, carrying society to the secladed, occupation to the literary, information to the literary, information to the literary, information to the literary in the literary handled the more than twofold accessible we gave and shall continue to give in the control library a volume weekly for two cents

bers to the Saturday No as teccive, in addition to their ordinary supply of miscellane loss matter, an English cannal, the largest yet received for the coming seasons and they receive it, moreover, in a form that, from its navelry, given it additional value.

Of the general character of the Marday matters, and a summary of the news sed events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can so still further and calculation that we can go still further in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental foud which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as ever so great a favourite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same But we shall, in the first week of January 1837, issue a hore sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, but on very superior and most entertaining, though in their severai departments of Novels, Tales, Yoyages, Travels, &c., select in their character, joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to enliven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it, at an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner that the most scep-tical shall acknowledge "the power of concentration can no farther go." No best which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.
