Your committee regard the introduction of the silk culture as an object of great and growing importance, worthy the care and aid of the legislature; but whether the plan proposed by he memorialist is practicable, or calculated to promote that object to an extent and in a mode questions upon which your committee have doubts, and upon which it is rlike due to the claims of the memorralist and the interests of ommittee are of opinion that the scheme subtry, and would unite in recommending the grint conditions were of a less decided character .len, Swingley, Rentch, Witmer, Neff, Blocher, is to be acquired by youth in the short space of Huddleson. Boyle, of Car. Shower, Berrett, a year, is a proposition, which, in the view of your committee, is not likely to be realized; while the advantages resulting from a reduction in the price of mulberry cannot be expected to inure equally to our agriculturaliets. The able cultivation of silk is pretty generally admitted; every attempt for that purpose having been crowned with a degree of success more or less calculated to justify the opinion. of our citizens, some in a private, and others in a corporate capacity, have embarked with zeal cess will be a medium of more extensive information, and excite a laudable spirit of enterprise among our people. Apart from these considerations, your committee perceive that a grant of the kind prayed for, involves a queson of policy by establishing a prece der which the claims of others would come up with equal right to indulgence. It is against the policy of the law to recognise any preference among our citizens, or grant to one a privilege or bounty which others hiving equal claims, cannot equally enjoy. Our practico under such a precedent, to be fair, might require an amount or loans wholly inconsistent
