Mr. Carroll called for the previous question. The Speaker decided that the motion was not n order-and assigned the following reasons: An amendment to the bill is pending-a motion is made for the previous question, upon the passage of the bill. It is the opinion of the Speaker, that under the 22d and 23d rules of the house, the previous question is in order, in a case like the present, -but the practice of the house has been differquestion, the Chair would not hesitate to say that the question might be put, and cut off all pending amendments—but practice is precedent for the government of the Chair, and the Speaker in this case, as in several previous cases during this session, decides that the motion is not in order. These are the reasons influen-cing his decision. It is for the house to say whether his constructions of the rules be correct or not, and whether he was right in following the precedents set by his prececessors, instead of his own judgment. From which opinion, Mr. Carroll appealed from the decision of the Chair. On motion of Mr. Roberts, the house was called, and the doorkeeper sent for the absent mem-
