THREE years have now elapsed since the proprietor of Waldie's Select Circulating Library laid before the public, his original prospectus for a valuable library, the great features of which were cheapness, and the facility of a said tenance time. facility of a rapid transportation by mail. The most ample success has attended the enterprise, and the effects upon the reading each year. The entire success of the Library is the best guarantee that can be given of its continuance. It was the first to supply books oy mail at a mere per centage of their former as payment in full for six months. The cost; it has outlived more than thirty puerile terms of advertising are moderate. Letters sive list of patrons who are of the most solid and valuable class of citizens in every part and valuable class of citizens in every part of the Union, as well as in foreign countries. The object of Waldie's Library, the use and purpose, is enjoyment liberal and intellectual. To all who love a mental banquet, without being compelled to depend on places of public resort, this publication fornishes a most valuable desideratum, supplying polite literature of a character to enlarge and improve the mind. The time and attention of prove the mind. The time and attention of the editor, himself a render from inclination as well as duty, are devoted to the procure ment of works of an elevated standard of in-tellect which may be admitted into every family without hesitation by the most asti-dious, and become a rallying point for all its members, promoting social belies lettres read-ing and conversation. The variety thus collected from the whole mass of published works, mostly new, controles Biography, Novels, Voyages and Travels, Sketches, of extraordinary individuals, and curious ad venture &c. &c. An amount equal to fifty London duodecimo volumes is thus annually furnished in weekly numbers, at a cost only equal to one of the London works. The plan thus embraces the whole range of popular lit versally diffused in every part of the Union as to form no inconsiderable portion of the literature of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for literature of the country, and with which an acquaintance has become really necessary for those who mix in society.

The Library as now conducted disseminates books to all parts of the country in from five to six weeks after their issue in London. Five dollars per annum expended in this way will supply good reading for a whole circle or family; for a cent and a half a day, postage included, a duodecimo book is sent every week, making in the course of the year more than three volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia. One volume of the Library, containing from fifteen to twenty entire works, can be bound at an expense little exceeding that of binding either separately, and constitutes a concentrated collection forming a never failing resource of amusement and instruction, and which must always be worth the price that has been paid for it. The ipost ample testimony has been spontaneously afforded that this work has contributed to the pleasure of thousands, who, but for the resource it afforded, must have been left with minds unoccupied, or thrown line a marofitible and uncongenial society.
