A coloured girl jumped from the same window, (in the third story) fell on the flag stones, but broke not a bone, though she fell internally, probably seriously, but may recover. This girl says that a young man by the name of Wm. Eldridge was in the hall, and determined to save some of its contents, and as he jumped from the window saw him fall back to the flames—the roof having fell in.

By letters from Calcutta, dated May 4th, intelligence has been received of the death of Mrs. Morrison, wife of the Rev. John H. Morrison, a missionary of the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church. She died of cholera, after an illness of 12 hours, and soon after her arrival at Calcutta.

Mrs. Morrison was one of the missionary company which sailed from Philadelphia last winter, in the ship Edward. They arrived at Calcutta on the 14th April, and reported as having arrived in good health. No further particulars have been received.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

FROM TEXAS.

The steam packet Columbia, Captain Moore, arrived at New Orleans on the 11th inst. bringing accounts from Houston to the 6th. A ship from the Bulletin puts us in possession of the news brought by her.

A gentleman just arrived at Houston from Goliad, stated that Col. Karnes was killed or taken prisoner by the Mexicans within twenty miles of Goliad, on or about the 20th of July. He was then on his way to Bexar with a quantity of goods, which he had brought from Goliad, and was accompanied by several Mexican servants and one young man from the United States. About twenty miles from Goliad they were suddenly intercepted by a party of twenty Mexican smugglers, who fired upon Karnes and shot him down. The servants instantly fled in all directions, and the young American, seeing Karnes fall off from his horse, and finding himself alone opposed to twenty marauders, immediately turned his horse and escaped in safety to Goliad. Suspicions are entertained that the servants connived at the robbery, as not one of them was injured by the attacking party. A number of the citizens of Goliad visited the place next day, but found only one or two dead cattle lying on the road and a hat of Col. Karnes. No traces were found of Col. Karnes. Possibly, therefore, he may have been wounded and taken prisoner.

The latest news from the western district of Texas, is brought by Col. Caldwell, who reached Houston about the 28th July. He had recently visited the bay of Corpus Christi, and saw the schooner Cumanchee lying there at anchor. The captain of this vessel was captured forty-five miles southwest of San Antonio, who had informed him that the Cumanchee had been lying in that bay nearly two months. She had on board about 600 barrels of flour, and a quantity of lard. The flour was somewhat damaged.—Gen. Filisola had recently sent out a body of 400 men, under the command of Gen. Woll, to protect that port. A division of them had already arrived. He also stated, that the Custom House Officer from Matamoras was then on board the Cumanchee.—As Col. Caldwell had only twenty-five men with him, and a hundred and fifty soldiers were hourly expected from Matamoras, he concluded to release the captain of the Cumanchee, and returned for reinforcements. On his way back to San Antonio, and when within twenty-five miles of that place, he discovered about one hundred and fifty Mexican cavalry in pursuit of him. They, however, kept at a respectful distance, and permitted his party to cross the Nueces, and return unmolested. He learned from some of his spies that Salvarezgo with about seventy men was encamped on a small stream, thirty miles west of the Rio Frio, to which place he had recently escorted thirty Cherokees, who had just been to Matamoras to make a treaty with the Mexican government, and were on their return with a number of mules loaded with presents, consisting of ammunition and clothing. It is said, however, that a treaty was not concluded, but they are to return in a few months and learn the decision of the Mexican government. A Mexican Colonel had been among these Indians, and the Shawnees, during the last spring, endeavouring to excite them against the Texans. It seems, however, that he had not been very successful, as not a single chief was found in the party; probably it was on this account the Mexicans did not treat with them. Col. Caldwell was also informed by his spies, that the Mexican forces do not intend to cross the Nueces, but have received express orders to continue in the vicinity of Corpus Christi, and act on the defensive; a report however, has reached Houston that the Mexicans had shown a disposition to encroach on the Texian territory, and have pushed their posts as far as Live Oak Point, east of the Bay of Corpus Christi. This tumour has created some excitement in Texas, and if confirmed, will lead to offensive operations on the part of the Texans. They certainly will not suffer so to imbibe and despaired to remain masters of one foot of their soil without a struggle for their expulsion.

FROST IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The Essex Register of the 16th inst.—“Yesterday morning some of the low lands in our vicinity were white with frost. No damage was done to vegetation.” The Lowell Advertiser of the 13th inst. states that there was a slight frost in some of the neighbouring towns on Tuesday night last.

HAIR BREADTH ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

As Mr. William D. Smith, engraver, 174 Broadway, seated himself at his desk to write about eight o'clock yesterday morning, he was suddenly confounded by a tremendous crash in the room, occasioned by a fire falling over head falling in one mass about the height of a man, about him nearly touching. The height of the room, (over the shop) in breaking the corner of the mantle piece of the chimney, with several pictures, and some which hung on the wall under the eaves, with the weight of the broken mass of fallen mortar, (some 20 pounds), are sufficient to demonstrate the surrounding danger which threatened Mr. Smith, who received a slight wound on the left side.—N. OBITUARY.

Died on Wednesday morning, after a few days illness, SAMUEL THOMAS, fourth son of S. S. SELLMAN, of South River, aged three years, five months, and twenty-two days.

While my prompts the rising sigh,
With awful power impress,
May this dead truth, “no dust die,”
Sink deep in every breast.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO THE DEAD.

The news of the death of the late HENRY BRAWNER, Esq. of Charles county, reached St. Mary's county during the sitting of the County Court. He had been a member of the bar—he had received the manifestation of the confidence of his citizens—he had been intimate with the best of the people, and was an universal favorite for his assiduity, his zeal, his judgment, and unassuming philanthropy. It was therefore deemed due to his private and public virtues, that the county should, in public meeting, press the following tribute of respect to his memory:

At a meeting of the citizens of St. Mary's county, on the motion of the Hon. C. Dorsey, the Hon. J. STEPHEN was called to the Chair, and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting entertain for the memory of the late HENRY BRAWNER, Esq. of Charles county, the highest respect, and regard to his death as a great public loss, and sincerely sympathize with his bereaved family in this painful dispensation of Divine Providence—and as a copy of this expression of opinion be transmitted to his family.

JOHN STEPHEN, Chairman.

CALVERT COUNTY, (Md.) Aug. 13, 1833.

Upon me devolves the painful duty of announcing the death of Dr. THOMAS H. BOND, of this county, in the 31st year of his age. He came to his untimely end on Saturday night, at the house of his uncle, Dr. Duke, having been struck by lightning, which instantly expired his life. Two of his brothers, his sister, some other friends, and the family of Dr. Duke, were present when this melancholy catastrophe took place, and several of them narrowly escaped death. The house was much shattered, and a young lady struck senseless, who remained so for some time before she recovered. Dr. Bond has been a father to his brothers and sisters, a solace and support to his mother in her declining years, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him for his amiable and gentlemanly deportment. He had entwined around him a large circle of warm friends, who deeply deplore his loss, and will long cherish the recollection of his manly virtues and truly noble character.—Nat. Intel.

PROSPECTUS OF THE AMERICAN PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL & MISCELLANY.

It is a remarkable fact, that while the converts to the belief that Phrenology is true, have within a few years, most astonishingly multiplied, there does not exist on the American continent a single periodical whose object is to advocate its truths, repel the attacks made upon it, or answer the enquiries which even candid persons are disposed to make concerning it. And this is the more surprising since the materials already existing and daily augmenting, with which to enrich such a publication, are almost inexhaustible.

The science of medicine has its appropriate media through which to present to the profession and to students all the new facts which occur, and all the new theories which are advocated in the various institutions of medical science throughout the world; and it is proper that it should be so. The same is true of the other leading professions of law and of divinity. But, notwithstanding the important bearings which phrenologists know their science to have on medicine, and divinity, and law, there is no publication through which, as the appropriate channel, which shall be open for the expression of opinions and the record of principles connected with those facts, is now needed; and a strong feeling of this necessity, together with a belief that such a work is extensively demanded, and will meet with encouragement and support, has induced the publisher to present the prospectus of “The American Phrenological Journal and Miscellany.”

The object of this work will be to preserve from oblivion the most interesting of the very numerous facts, confirmatory and illustrative of the truth of phrenology; to show the true bearings of this science on Education, (physical, intellectual, and moral); on the Medical Treatment of the Insane; on Jurisprudence; on Theology, and on Mental and Moral Philosophy. On all these subjects there is encouragement to hope that contributions from several able pens; while the resources of the editor himself will not, it is hoped, be found inconsiderable.

The religious character of the work will be decidedly evangelical; its aim, to wrest Phrenology out of the hands of those, who in ignorance of its true nature and tendencies, suppose that they find in it an instrument by which to subvert the truths of revealed religion, and loosen the bonds of human accountability, and moral obligation.—A frequent subject of discussion in our pages will therefore be, The Harmony between the truths of Revelation and those of Phrenology. And on the subject of the religious bearings of our science we respectfully solicit the enquiries and objections, not of cavillers, but of the truly candid, and the conscientiously fearful. Such correspondents we shall always welcome to our pages, and they will always be treated with kindness; as, also, will honest and respectful objections to Phrenology. But the captious and cavillers will ensure to themselves our silent contempt; and the ignorant pretender, who seeks to overthrow a science which he will not be at the pains to investigate, may expect a merited rebuke.

As our object is the establishment of TRUTH, we solicit the communication of facts which are supposed to militate against Phrenology; and we pledge ourselves to publish them, in all cases in which we have satisfactory vouchers for their genuineness; and in which all the facts in the several cases are developed—we must, in every such case, see the head or skull, or a cast of it, properly certified to be true to nature.

Original Essays on Phrenological subjects will form part of the Journal; as also, Reviews of Phrenological and Anti-Phrenological works; nor shall we fail to present to our readers such matters of interest and importance as may be found in foreign Phrenological works of standard excellence, and which are not generally accessible to the American public. Our facts we pledge ourselves shall be bona-fide such; and, as often as practicable, we shall accompany our descriptions with illustrative cuts; indeed, we intend and expect that scarcely a number will be issued without two or more such cuts.

To encourage Phrenologists of talent (and especially professional men who are Phrenologists,) to enrich the work with their contributions, we offer for accepted matter, as a liberal compensation per printed page, as is usually afforded by the very first periodicals in our country; but the editor does not promise to endorse all which his correspondents may communicate; nor all which he may admit into the work. To error, if serious, and especially if it affect the interests of morality and religion, he claims the right of correction, in the form of reply, or of the suppression of the objectionable matter; and communications for which compensation is expected, must be so prepared as to be fit for the public eye.

In conclusion, we may be allowed to say, that the pecuniary value of each number will depend much on the extent to which the work is patronized. It is not with the desire or expectation of gain that it is offered to the community, but from moral considerations: from a desire to know and to promulgate truth. Hence should a large subscription list be obtained, a considerable proportion of the profits will be devoted to the enlargement and improvement of the work, without an increase of expense to the subscribers. More frequent illustrations and embellishments will, in that case, be inserted, and the attractions of the work be thus multiplied.

TERMS.

1. The American Phrenological Journal and Miscellany will be issued monthly, commencing on the 31st of October next.
2. Each number will contain at least 32 octavo pages, making a volume of not less than 384 pages; corresponding in point of mechanical execution with the best periodicals of the day.
