ONTEVIDEO-DEFEAT OF THE NA. TIONAL ARMY.

The brig Carroll of Philadelphia brings the llowing letter from an authentic source at lontevideo. It will be seen that the national rmy has been almost entirely destroyed, and nat the government was making extensive proarations for the defence of the city.

"MONTETIDEO, June 23, 1639.
"It is now a matter of certainty that the naonal army have been almost destroyed, and rutus, I think, will show himself in all next reck. Men and boys are being im-ressed, the streets closed up by brick walls, nd every other demonstration of an expected ttack. Gen. Gurando Gomes, the third in ommand of the national army reached town he night before last, accompanied by a small scort. It is said about six hundred men essaped, in small parties, and are now secking heir homes. As near as I can learn, the Gorernment General was outwitted and led into an ambuscade. The battle was found on the other side of the Rio Negro, the strong hold of Don Frutus. The forces on either side may nave been twenty-five hundred men-perhaps neral officers in a council two days before the expose himself by entering the field. The mand was consequently given to Gen. La-Livelle opposing or showing a front of twelve nundred men, while on either flank he had six nundred men in ambush. Gen. Oribe supposing he had the whole army before him, made

MOB AND RIOT. An altercation took place on Thursday night last at a negro Church in Sharp-street between one of the night watches and a band of disorderly negroes, which resulted in the watchman's receiving a severe beating be-fore assistance could come to his aid. Since then, demonstrations have been made by collections of whites to retaliate on the blacks who frequent the church; but nothing decisive occurred until Sunday night, when bout 8 o'clock a considerable mob collected at the corner of Sharp-street and Harvey Alley, and drove out the congregation worshipping there. They then increased in numbers, proceeded to the African meeting house in Sharp street, between Pratt and Lombard streets, and commenced an attack on the house by throwing stones and breaking the doors and windows. Great alarm among the congregation there assembled was the consequence, and they made their exit by rushing through the doors, jumping out of the windows, &c.

Many, we learn, were considerably injur-ed, but not dangerously, by the stones and jumping from the windows. By the time the police had collected in sufficient force to avert the disturbance, the mob had concluded their work and dispersed, so that no arrest took place. Like all other outbreaks of mob violence, the innocent in this case have been made to suffer for the acts of the guilty, even if the mob had a right to chas-tise or inflict punishment upon those who committed the outrage upon the watchman. The innocent and unoffending attendants at the church were mobbed and stoned, because a week since, a band of graceless negroes overpowered and beat a watchman while in
