MAMMOTH SHEET. Office of the Saturday News } AND LITERARY GAZETTE.

Philadelphia, November 26, 1836. THE very liberal patronage hestowed on the SAUURDAY NEWS, since its tommencement in July last, and a desire to meet that patronage by corresponding exertions, have induced us this week to publish a Double Number—being the largest sheet ever printed in Philadelphia for any purpose, and the largest literary paper ever printed in the United States. To those of our friends who are practical printers, it need not be mentioned that this undertaking has involved serious mechanical difficulties. The largest -or one of the largest presses in Philadelphia is used for our ordinary in-pression— but this would accommonate only a ringle page of the mammoth sheet, and we were o-blized, therefore, to work four forms at title bliged, therefore, to work four forms at dif-ferent periods. The care used in preparing the paper-in removing and folding the sheets, &c., can only be estimated by those who have seen the experiment made; and, added to the necessarily increased amount of composition, press work, &c., these supple mentary expenses have made an aggregate cost, which would have deterred many from engiging in the enterprize. A gain of two thousand new subscribers will not repay the actual cost of this single number.

We flatter ourselves that, besides its extraordinary size, this number presents at-It contains the whole of Friendship's Offer-It contains the whole of Friending's Opering for 1837, the London copy of which costs 84, and has 384 closely printed pages of letter press. Distinguished as the present age, and particularly our own country, has been for cheap reprints, we believe this surpasses any former instance. For four cents subscribers to the Saturday News receive, in addition to their ordinary supply of miscellaneous matter, an English annual, the largest yet received for the coming season; and they receive it, moreover, in a form that, from its novelty, gives it additional value.

Of the general character of the Saturday News we need not speak. That has now become so well known as to require no comment. We may take occasion to say, howze and resources we yield to no other publishers in this city or yield to no other publishers in this city or elsewhere, and we are determined that our paper shill not be surpassed. We have entered the field prepared for zealous competition, and we stand ready in every way to realize our promise, that no similar publication shall excel that which we issue. Our articles, both original and selected, we are not ashamely to the prepared to the terminal publication which each be an experience. ed to test by any comparison which can be adopted; and there is no periodical in the United States, monthly or weekly, which might not be proud of many of our confributors.

The issuing of this number may be regarded as an evidence of our intention and ability to merit success. Nor will it be the only effort—From time to time, as opportunity of fers, we proprose to adopt extraordinary neans for the interest and gratification of our TT was one of the great objects of "Waldie's Literary," "to make good reading encaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been account pilshed; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the nitermost parts of our wast continent, carrying society to the seclu ded, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to re-duce prices, and conder the access to a lite-rary banquet more than twofold accessible; we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto library a volume weekly for two cents a day; we now propose to give a volume in the same period for less than four cents a work, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the oish a few cottains of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. POLITICAL.

From the Cecil Gazette. THE ABUSE OF THE EXECUTIVE POWER.

The following very extraordinaty advertisement, which we copy from the Baltimore "Sun" of rinday last, shows the most glaring abuse of the Executive power of granting Nolle Prosequis under the whig rule in Maryland. If this was the only abuse of the kind we might be silent, but so frequent and glaring are these offences that it is time they were noticed and checked by the sovereign power in the State, the people. On the public highway murder is constatted on an unoffending stranger. With out c. use, without provocation, a whig blood of high connections perpetrates the foul deed upon a poor Datchman. The Executive of Maryland places his power between the majesty of the offended laws and shields the guitty criminal from merited punishment by granting him a nolli-prosequi. And why? Because the murdere nd his connections were whigs. A set of debased vagabonds are indicted for gambling.-To them also are nolle prosequis granted. And why? Because they are noisy whigs. It is thus the supremacy of our laws are trampled under foot, and their sanctity violated. For

Or The following letter is published by me, because I consider a duty I owe the public, to the man for whom he presents this claim, would gratify many warm friends of the Governor!
This I do not believe. I myself am a whig, and have always been attached to that party; but I cannot, as a man, acknowledge that such pleas should ever have weight in interrupting the free course of law and justice. With these few remarks I present the subject to the serious reflection.

Trade and business generally languishing? Heavy taxes, and more onerous ones threatening the labour of our people, are the cause. Then let us strike at the root of this evil, make a change in our political state rulers, and ere long a new and cheerful prospect will come over the face of our oppressed people and happiness and prosperity will take the place in impending ruin and political persecution,—Easton Whig.

Governor of Maryland. Sin:- I, with great satisfaction, have understood that it is the intention of the friends of Mr. James G. Storm, to petition your Excellency to grant the said James G. Storm, the State of Maryland writ of nolle prosequi. Mr. Storm was indicted at the last term of Baltimore City Court, for keeping a Faro Table, at which the game of Faro way played, upon the evidence of a miserable creature named Abraham Hyam, a man without character, reputation, or sympathy. The fact is doubtless true, and I preture that the friends of Mr. Storm do not mean to set up as a defence, his innocence. This much I do know, that Mr. Storm is an exceedingly amiable gentleman, with an interesting family wholly dependant upon him for subsistence; and I do est conscientiously believe that he was driven to his present pursuit, by stern and unavoidable necessity. I have known him as a friend and as a political partizan. As the former, Lappreciate him as warm and faithful: as the latter, I know him to be a true and uncompromising Whig; in all respects a gentleman most worthy of your Excellency's elemency. Nothing, I am sure will more delight many of your Excellency's warmest friends and sincere admirers, than the successful termination of Mr. Storm's appli-

WHIG vs. TORY.

We were much gratified the other day by a visit we received from an old Revolutionary Sol-dier, who resides in this county—a real Whig Whigs The old man was in good spirits, and related many thrilling scenes, of which he had been an eye witness—of the privations and hardships he had endured while tighting against the enemies of his country. "We have many an old tory among us now" says the old man; here is one in my neighborhood, who I know fought against his country in the last war-his name is S I called at his house the other day, and he asked me if it was true, that I had received pension for my services; I told bim it was so, and at the same time asked him if he had petitioned for pension yet as he was an Old Soldier. "Oh. no," says he, "I believe 1 shall not, it is so much trouble to get the papers and every thing necessary to draw the

"I would petition, by all means. You are now very old and unable to work, and by drawing pension, you will be able to enjoy some of the luxuries of life."

"I tell you what it is neighbour O., says Mrs. - emy husband fought in favour of the English during the war, and that is the reason why he does not petition."

"A very good reason, surely," says the old man to us But," says he this same man who fought against the liberty of his country is now called a Whig, and I am a tory, although I fought for my country, through the whole last war. In 1831 when the Whig party course of justice, and to divert the execution of came in full power in Maryland there was a judgment from criminals, acknowledged in this very document to be such.
