GEN. HAMILTON'S LETTER FROM LONDON.
Gen. Hamilton has published the following explanatory of the letter which appeared in the Richmond Enquirer, bearing date August, giving a brief account of the attack on our country, at the Birmingham anti-slavery meeting.
To the Editor of the N. Y. Gaz.
On my arrival in the city a few days ago from England, I met the publication of a letter addressed from London, to Mr. Ritchie, Editor of the Richmond Enquirer, bearing date August, giving a brief account of the attack on our country, at the Birmingham anti-slavery meeting.
I placed at Mr. Ritchie's option the privilege of publishing that letter or not, as he thought proper, I wish it to be distinctly understood, that he had no authority for doing and I regret that this should have either been mentioned, or the authenticity of the communication itself. My principal object, however, in making this declaration, is to have it likewise distinctly understood, that I wrote the letter which I refer without the knowledge or consent of Mr. Stevenson in the smallest particular as he would be utterly incapable after acting an accommodation at the hands of an enemy of covertly questioning the truth on which it was founded.
I have no relation to Mr. O'Connell of any kind, either personal or official, as I never saw him or took to him any message, or otherwise, I conceive that I had a right to make what commentaries I might proper on a public correspondence which appeared in the public gazette, and on a peculiar excitement, which all here have explained. If, therefore, I indulged in a course of abuse to such a degree as to offend Mr. O'Connell's own language to his opponents, I am not unworthy my country and myself, cannot but express my regret, if such lan-gave has given pain even to the most fastidious of my fellow citizens, as I conceive that it is the duty of the humblest man who goes abroad to feel that the character of his country is somewhat in his own custody, while absent from his home.

I desire it however to be equally explicitly understood that I specially except Mr. O'Connell from the benefit of this explanation, as I have no apology to make to him after his atrocious assault on our country, on the occasion to which I have reference. That he has no such claim, I shall make sufficiently manifest in a communication I propose addressing to Mr. Ritchie at a moment of greater leisure, in redemption of the pledge which I made in my letter of the 15th August, when I promised that gentleman I would obtain at Birmingham, the proofs of the falsehood of which Mr. O'Connell had been guilty, to exempt himself from a direct responsibility to Mr. Stevenson for his most extraordinary and unjustifiable outrage on that gentleman.
I beg leave distinctly to disavow all intention, in my letter to Mr. Ritchie, to treat the people of Ireland with the smallest contumely or disrespect. I cherish for their genius and courage too high an admiration, and for their sufferings and misfortunes too sincere a sympathy, for one instant to entertain a feeling so entirely opposed to all the associations and attachments of my early life.
I remain, very respectfully,
Your obliged obedient servant,
J. HAMILTON.
P. S. Those papers which have published my letter of the 15th Aug. to Mr. Ritchie, will do me the favour to insert this card.

WEST LOMBARD STREET.
THE DUTIES OF MRS. DE BUTTS' SEMINARY will be resumed the first Monday in September. This Institution possesses its usual advantages; an extra number of talented Teachers and the unremitting attention of the Principal to encourage the efforts of the studious and to stimulate and improve the inattentive or indolent. The School offers double the advantages for a perfect and familiar acquaintance with the French Language; in the English education are comprehended the elementary principles, and the highest branches of science taught in female schools, thus enabling the pupil to enter after the years of infancy, and complete her education under the same influences. The location of the School has every advantage, being healthful and airy, with spacious apartments well warmed in winter. Terms for English Education vary in accordance with the different classes, from $5, 8, 10, 15 per quarter.
Ditto every day $7. Preparatory class every day $5.
Latin, Italian, Spanish $5.
