Perhaps you would like to hear something of the prospects of the democratic party in this My means of information are very comple, as I almost daily see persons from nearly every part of the State. What I now state to received fire hundred and thirty six votes as a you may be relied upon—in no event can Henry delegate to the General Assembly of Maryland, Clay obtain the vote of Tennessee. He has already addressed very large assemblages of the people at Columbia, rough, Franklin, Raleigh, Peris and Jackson: at in in this State-where it will stop it is impos August with the same rapidity that has marked its course for the past four months, Polk must on the spot know that it is nothing but sober truth. Not a day passes that I do not hear of important accessions to our ranks, men of high standing and great influence. Such is the root ed antipothy to Mr. Clay, and so deeply have our leading men pledged themselves against him aim when the struggle lies between him and Mr. Van Buren alone.

"It affords me great pleasure to inform you that General Jackson's health is improving. I had the satisfaction of spending a day in his company last week, and tound him full of life and confidence in the success of democratic principles, and the ultimate triumph of the ad-

ASCENDENCY OF PRINCIPLES. Since the democratic party took the broad and special privileges to none—a strict construction of the constitutional powers of the government, and an economical administration of its affairs, multitudes are coming forth to reassert the principles which they cherished in olden times. In two years from this time, all who have not some selfish interest to consult, will be found arrayed in support of the doctrine that the governmen shall raise no more money than is necessary to its economical support; that when it is collected it shall be sofely kept or rather that it shall be ry through accident, or the neglect or unfaithdisbursed as fast as it is received; and especial ly that it shall not go into banks to be loaned out to favoured individuals where it may not be forth coming when wanted.

In the Legislature the Democrats have also achteved a triumph. The last Legislature stood on joint ballot 45 federalists to 23 democrats; the next Legalature will stand 39 tederalists to Thus it will be seen that the Democracy of New Jersey have aroused. They have acquit. ted themselves like freemen, and taught the "Democratic Whigs" (Heaven save the mark!) a lesson which will not soon be forgotten.

The Cumberland fraud .- A few of the feder ral papers for some days past have been rife with hints that the people would be cheated out of their elected republican candidates for Congress, by some chicanery in Cumberland. This norning the Clerk's return came to the Secretary of State's Office, without the votes of Millville being included in it, or the "list of the return, as the law directs. Millville gave a democratic majority of 106-and by omitting o count her votes, this federal Clerk expects fraudulently to cheat the people out of the cection. He has intentionally, we are inclined to think, omitted to "send the list of votes," so that the Governor and Council shall have nothing before them by which to detect the fraud and correct the return.

He will be disappointed, however. His return being unaccompanied by "the certified list of votes" is defective, and it is made by law the duty of the Governor "forthwith to send express to the Clerk to procure the list of votes at the expense of the State." So reads the aw. Before leaving town for his residence at Newark, we understand Governor Pennington authorised Senator Southard, in his absence, to send such expresses as should become necessa-

We take it for granted that the servants of the people will attend to this most important duty, and that the Clerk of Cumberland will gain nothing by his fraud but the odium.
