TO THE CITIZENS OF CAROLINE COUNTY.

Having been appointed by a meeting of the Van Buren voters of this county to address you upon the conduct of your Senator, Mr. Boss, we present the following review of facts to you consideration:

In reviewing the course of policy which Mr. Boon has carried out in the Senate of Maryland, we witness with astonishment and surprise, the violated faith and honour of this gentleman to his constituents—a circumstance we believe up. paralleled in the history of this or any other State. We have always believed and understood that the fundamental principle of all Re. presentative governments, is based upon the principles of Democracy. The representative to carry out in all acts of Legislation the will of his constituents, whether expressed or implied, When he departs from this role or principle he at once ceases to be a Representative in fact. but assumes to himself the power of a dictator: the servant becomes the master, the creature, the creator. We cannot view Mr. Boon's course in any others light; having departed from his solema pledges to his constituents provious to his election, not one of which has he redeemed, he stands in the unenviable position of a bepeople. The question might here be asked, what are those pledges? We answer, firstholds the following language to the voters of this county, which induced us to place his name at the head of our ticket for the Senate of Marve

TO THE INDEPENDENT VOTERS OF

CAROLINE COUNTY.

At the solicitation of a respectable number of In thus presenting myself before the people, it perhaps would seem more consistent that some fair ground should be assumed so that I may stand justified before the people—My former po-litical course is well known to those with whom I have associated in other days; and it only now said in relation to my course, if elected. The subject of reform in the constitution has been a subject that I have advocated, and in the repeal of the odious Qualification Laws no man went tarther than I did; and so far as the state reform has progressed it has entirely met my approba-tion, and should it be the policy of Maryland to carry this subject any further, I trust that I shall be found acting with the great body of the people, always recognising the will of the majority. As respects my opinion of the policy pursued by the State in her works of internal improvements they are well known to those with whom I have conversed, at all times freely on this subject; it is therefore not necessary to say more on this ment is divided into three distinct departments and as the appointing power is by and with the

> Your obedient servant, JOHN BOON.

Sep. 11th, 1838.

Here we have the gentleman's own language and we now say to the people of Muryland, a. far his acts are in accordance with big pledges to his constituents. Behold the man, who has sacrificed himself and his constituents so far as he can, upon the altar of his unholy ambition, and for what? for a mero mess of puttage, to se. cure the petty office of a committee clerkship in the Senate of Maryland, to his son-in-law, which there was no more use for than the third wheel to a cart, and here we are forcibly reminded of a question once asked by the King of France of one of his ministry: what is the difference between a whig and a tory, the minister replied: That tores were whigs when they wanted office, & whigs were torys when they had obtained

We scall upon the propie of Martial to judge the gentlemen by his acts, his unjusti-isble conduct rendering comment almost use-less. After favouring the Reform effected by the firm und determined atand of the Nineteen electors in 1936, and expressing his determination to carry that reform even farther if desired; Boon, Senator of Caroline coun his ranning last fall upon the ticket with Mr. Keene, one of those very electors, and his support of that ticket, are strange contrasts with his January 31, 1839, does not extist opposition to the appointment of several gentle-opposition to the appointment of several gentle-men recently nominated to diffice by the Go-vernor, and by the S. ante through his in-ty, who was not in nomination. strumentality. Does Mr. Boon suppose his constituents so blind as not to see and remember these things. If so, he pays their intelligence and foresight but a poor compliment, and adds insult to injustice.

But no sooner did the success of the party elevate him to an honourable station, than he basely betrayed their conti ence. People of Maryland, what think you of such a man?

Maryland, what think you of such a man?

Ve appeal to every high minded and honourable man of all parties, and ask them what they think of a politician who can act as Mr. Beon think of a politician who can act as Mr. Heon has done. We had hoped that he would have closed the remaining years of his life with some credit and honour to himself and to his native county. But we are mistaken.

We will further state that a short time before the election Mr. Boon was given to understand that he had not entirely satisfied some of the by transfer back into the handleading gentlemen of the party which was athe course he intended to pursue, if elected.—
Mr. Boon, fellow citizens, waited on them, and did pledge himself most positively in case he was elected, that he would go for and carry out the leading measures of the party, and vote for a De mocratic United States Senator, or if you please, a Van Buren United States Senator. These facts, fellow citizens, can be sustained before Court of Institute States. Court of Justice, if necessary. Could more be asked, or any greater assurances expected?
Were they not such assurances as were every way calculated to win our confidence? Confiding in his integrity we supported him, for which support he has repaid us by a total abandonment of every promise which he made us. Mr. Boon deceives himself if he supposes his conduct meets the approbation of any member of the Democratic party, to which party he is solely indebted for his election. Has he so soon forgotten the efforts that were made to secure him a zealous support upon the faith of his pledges. and the defence that was made for him by th Democratic party, when he was violently assailed by the rancour and jealously of a vindic tire opposition in every section of the county.
Was he not told to his face that he was "politically damned" with the Whig party-that he need never expect any thing from them; but arrange to tell, he has thrown himself into their arms for protection, and they in turn are culo gising and urging him on in his most unjustifi-able course. Cannot Mr. Boon see through the shalow artifice of the Whigs? Does he not shallow artifice of the Whigs! Does he not know it is the sure and safe altar upon which to sacrifice him? When he has forfeited the confidence of those who elected him, the Whig party know that they have nothing to fear from Mr. Boon hereafter.

It is said by the Whigs—those very men who were so hostile to Mr. Boon last fall—that the Democratic party could not have elected sny other man but Mr. Boon. Strange argument this—when it is notoriously known that Messrs. Keene and Hardeastle each received a greater number of vot. s than Mr. Boone, Mr. Keene too being one of the Nineteen Senatorial Electors in 1836, and against whom the Whigs have raised such a clamour. Mr. Keene received the greatest number of votes of any of the can-like event the second of the linkets. the greatest number of votes of any of the can-
