AMERICAN SILK SOCIETY RURAL BCONOMIST.

T a Convention which met'at Ballimore on the 11th of December last, composed of a great number of gentlemen from va-rious parts of the Union, distinguished for their public services, patriotism, and practi-cal intelligence, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the deliberate spinion of this Convention that Silk may be grown in all the United States, not only for domestic purposes, but as a valuable article of commercial export—thereby giving an active en-ployment to American labour, and retaining millions of dollars in our country, that are annually sent out of it for the purchase of silken goods.

Resolved, That a National Silk Journal

In the course of the dis ussions which took place in the Convention, all the difficulties which have been encountered, and which may be grown in the United States, not only for domestic purposes, but as a valuable article of commercial export. The suitableness of our soil and climate to the growth supply its food; the capabilities, the habits, and the genius of our people for conducting the business through its whole process, and the price of American labour as compared with that of silk-producing countries, all were fully canvassed, and the most sceptical became satisfied. The fact is, that our unrestrained freedom in the entertainment and discussion of various and discordant doctrines, religious and political, has imparted verous appetite for knowledge, and a capacity to learn in a few years what cannot be acquired in ages, where all is dull conformity and routine of thought and of action! Thus has it happened in manufactures as in other things; American ingenuity, unrestrained by prejudice or law, has triumphed over difficulies apparently insurmountable! How long, may it be asked, after our first cotton spin-dle was put in motion before Yankee Lowells' were sold at a profit in China? So willit be with silk. The only question is as to how long it shall take us? With a monthly journal to concentrate and diffuse every ray of
