tic purposes, but as a saluable atticle of ca mercial export. There by givit gan actice a millions of dollars in car country, that a mitually sent out of the large larg ilken gonds.

Resolved, I hat a National Silk Jenie

Rescleed, 'I bat' a National Silk Juniought to be established under the supples, the Executive Committee, and all the line over and above the support of said prought to be desorted to the advancement

Under the later resolution . J S. SEINGE postmaster, ut Baltimore, was insited to le come the esistes of the work, and has the sented to do so-su far as may be consistent with the strict performance of his public it

In the course of the discussions which tool which have been encountered, and und which have been encountered, and used may yet be apprehe ded, in the process, of the silk culture, as a great barel of a nerican redustry, were fully considered; as the result was an universal consistence by blene s of our soll afti climate to the grow and health of the worm, and the trees who supply its food; the capabilities, the habit and the genius of our people, for conducting the price of American labour as compain with that of silk-producing countries were fully canvassed, and the most scritte became satisfied. The fact is, that our ti restrained freedom in the entritait neut at discordant dec has it happened to manufactures as in of tics apparently insurmountable! How la. may it be asked, after our first cutton spit ale was put in motion before Yankee day ells' were sold at a profit in China? So will be with silk. The only question is as to less long it shall take us? With a monthly jour nal to con entrate and diffuse every ray is floating light on the subject, it was he opinion of the Convention that we may realize and enjoy, in our own day, the boon which apathy can finally defeat. Let all then who may feel any concerns cultivators, manufacturers, or venders of sill, or as patriots willing to offer suitable occupation and bread to the unemployed and the helpless, come forward in support of a west to be faithfully and honestly devoted to these objects of private happiness, and of national horpenderce.

tinate, but which nothing short of lackies with its production; and all improvements is machinery for its preparation and manufe-ture, will constitute the chief design and aim of the journal, for the s ke of agreeable are useful variety, a considerable portion of i and kindred subjects of agriculture, hotte-cutture, and recal and domestic economy -Hence, the adjunctive title Rural Econo-

The Journal of the American Sitk Society will be published monthly, to pampible for , each number will contain thirty two pages, printed on new type and bandsome paper. with a printed column cover.

Alt persons friendly to the objects of the Journal will please rollert at encourd traismit the names and subscription noisy those who may feel disposed to patierize it. TERMS.

Two Dollars a year, or six regies for Ten Dollars, always to be paid before the welk is first number of the year, and in no case will the work be sent to any subscriber longer than it shall have been paid for.

All Editors of papers who may desire to see Silk notice to the list of American Sta-ples; and who will have the kirdress to in-sert this prospectus, will be cutified to a ca-py of the Journal

Ballimore, January, 1859. DR. ALBERT'G. WELCH. AVING concluded his, tabours at the 2 University M. M. ryland, inferns his triends other the bas seturned to Aviands and resumed the peaking of Plysic et al. Surgery, and effects his prosecute at the second to his fruits and the public life may always be found at his residence pear the Guiserness Home.

verument lloupe.

SHERIFFALTY. I' the freently solicitations of a number of the Voters of Anne Arunnel Counv. the subscriber is induced to offer his setthe daties, if honoured with their confidence, the daties, it noncerior.

150 give satisfaction.

JOHN S. SELBY.

-

The second of the reliable transport of the second of the

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1829.

IOL XCIV. Printed and Published by JONAS GREEN,

A the Brick Building on the Public Price-Three Dellars per aunum.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

IN Nervous diseases, liver complaint, dyspepsia, bi.

In Nervous diseases, liver complaint, dyspepsia, bi.

In Nervous diseases, liver complaint, dyspepsia, bi.

In Seases, piles, consumption, coughs, colds, spit.

In Seases, piles, consumption, coughs, colds, spit.

In Seases, piles, pair in the cheet and side, ulcers, sernal
ting of theed, pair in the cheet and side, ulcers, sernal
ting of theed, pair in the cheet and side, ulcers, sernal
ting of theed, pair in the cheet and side, ulcers, sernal tension, long spirits, palpitation of the heart, ner sernal debility, hodily weakness, chlorneis or green sick sens, faithency, hysterical faintings, hysterics, head, sens, hiecup, sea sickness, night mare, rheumatism, sethes, tic doulouroux, cramp, spasmodic affections, sathes, tic doulouroux, cramp, spasmodic affectio

Principal Office, 100 Chulham st. New

INTERESTING & ASTONISHING
FACTS, are amongs: the nurrerous CURES performed by the use of Dr.

Wm. Evans' Medicines. PRINCIPAL OPPICE, 100 Chatham Street, N. W PRINCIPAL UPFIVE, 100 Chainam Sireet, In-York, where the Doclor may be consulted personally, or by letter, spoat paid from any part of the United States, &c. Persons requiring medicine and advice, must enclose a Bank Note, or Order.

CERTIFICATES. T NORE CONCLUSIVE PROOFS of the extractionary efficacy of Dr. W.M. EVANS celebrated CANONILE and APERIENT ANTI-BILIOUS CANOMILE and APERIENT ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS in alloviating afflicted mankind.—Mr. Robert Can-ron, 101 Bowery. Disease, L'hronic Dysentery, e Blody Flux. Symptoms, unusual flatulency in the breis, severe griping, frequent inclination to go to sook tenessaus, loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, frequency of pulse, and a frequent discharge of a pecularly fettid matter, mixed with blood, great debility, sense a braing heat, with an intolorable bearing down of trapping. Mr. Cameron is enjoying perfect health, and returned his sincere thanks for the catraordinary sensit he had received. bescht he had received.

STANDING.—Mr. Robert Monroe, Schuyikill, afficied with the acove distressing mal dy. Symptoms: field largor, flatdency, distribed rest, nervous headace, difficulty of breathing, tightness and stricture across the breast, dirziness nervous irritability and restlesmes, could not be in a horizontal position without to senation of impending suffication, palpitation of techart, distressing cough, coativeness, pain of the stant, distressing cough, continued in the countricont of recovery, and dire despair and on the countriance of every person interested in his existence or hydrous, till by accident he noticed in a public paper same curse effected by Dr. Win. Ecans' Medicine in his complaint, which resulted in completely removing our symptoms similar to those from which the same or any symptoms similar to those from which his hearts for many law lines are consistent and the sixty of the same TP ASTHMA, THREE YEARS' the same or any symptoms similar to those from which he is happily rostored, may likewise receive the same lestimable benefit.

YEARS' STANDING.—Mrs. Hannah Browne, wife of Joseph Browne, North Sixth st. near Second street, Williamsburg, afflicted for the last ten years with Liver Complaint, restored to health through the treatment of Dr. Wm. Evans. Symptoms: Habitual constipation of the bowels, total loss of appetite, exeruciating pain of the epigastric region, great depression of apirits, lar your and other symptoms of extreme debility, disturbed steep, mordinate flow of the menses, pain in the right side, could not lie on her left side without an aggravation of the pain, urine high coloured, with other symptoms indicating great derangement of the functions of the liver. TLIVER COMPLAINT, TEN this indicating the little relief from their medicins, but received but little relief from their medicins, till Mr. Browne procured some of Dr. Wm. Evans' invaluable preparations, which effectually relieved her of the above distressing symptoms, with others, which it is not essential to intimate.

JOSEPH BROWNE.

City and County of New York, ss.

Joseph Browne, Williamsburgh Long Island, being Joseph Browne, Williamsburgh Long Island, being duly swora, did depose and say that the facts as set forth in the within statement, to which he has subscribed his name, are just and true.

JONEPH BROWNE,

Husband of the said Hannah Browne.

Sworn before me, this 4th day of January, 1837.

PETER PINCKNEY, Com. of Deeds.

A CASE OF TIC DOLOREUX.

A CASE OF TIC DOLOREUX.

Mrs. J. E. Johnson, wife of Capt. Joseph Johnson, of Lynn. Mass. was severely afflicted for ten years with Tie Dolorcux, violent pain in her head, and voniting, with a burning heat in the stomach, and unable to leave her room. She could find no relief from the advice of leaverd plysicians, nor from medicines of any kind, until after she had commenced using Dr. Evans' medicine, of 100 Chintham street, and from that time she began to amend, and feels satisfied if she continue the medicine a few days longer, will be perfectly cured. Reference can be had as to the truth of the above, by calling at Mrs. Johnson's daughter's Store, 389 Grand st. N. Y.

PARALYTIC RHEUMATISM.-A perfect cure effected by the treatment of Dr. W. Etaus. Mr. Join Gibson, of North Fourth street, Wiltimsburgh, afflicted with the above complaint for three fears and sine months; during which time he had to nee crutches. His chief symptoms were exeruci-ting pain in all his joints, but especially in the hip, shoulder, knees and ankl.s; an aggravation of the pain towards night; and for the most part all times from the external heat, an obvious thickening of the fascis and ligaments, with a complete base of muscular power.—
For the benefit of those afflicted in a similar manner, Mr. Gibson especives it mo: to say that the pains have entiraly ceased, and th. this joints have completely resuitraly ceased, and th. this joints have completely re-For the beasen of the first three to say that the pains of the first three completely reentiraly ceased, and that his joints have completely received their natural tone, and his feels able to resume his ordinary business.

EP Mrs. Aune P. Kenny, No. 115 Lowis street, ba-tween Stanton and Heuston sta. affiliated for ten years will the following distructing symptomes: Acid crosta-tion, daily symmetric patter for the head, less of apponight, could not lie on her right olds, discurded east, utter inability of engaging in any thing that demanded viguir or courses, sometimes a visionary idea of an aggravation of her discise, a whimsical aversion to phriscular persons and places, groundless "oprobensions of personal danger and poverty, an interest most and wesriness of life, discontented, disquietade on every slight occasion, also sthictived she could neither die nor live; she wept, lamented, desponded, and thought she led a most miserable life, never was any one so bad, with frequent mental hallscinations.

most miserable life, never was any one sô bad, with frequent mental haltecinations.

Mr. Kenny had the advice of several eminent physicians, and had recourse to numerous medicines, but could not obtain even temporary alleviation of her distressing state, till her husband persuaded bes to make trial of my mode of treatment.

She is now quite relieved, and finds herself not only capable of attending to her domestic affairs, but arows that she snipors as good health at present as she did at any period of her existence.

J. Kenny, husband of the aforesaid Anne Kenny.

Bworn before me, this 14th day of December, 1836,

Peter Pinchney, Coss. of December.

by Dr. Wm. Evans, of 100 Chatham st. N. Y.—Mr. W. W. W. of 160 Eldridge street, was labouring under a disease, which was by many physicians considered incurable, and could find no relief from any source whatever, until he made application to Dr. Evans, and placed himself under his successful course of treatment, from which he legan to find immediate relief, and the few mecha was neffectly cured. and in a few weeks was perfectly cured.

Wm. Evans, proprietor of the celebrated Camomile

Pills:

Dear Sir—Had the immortal Cowper known the medical qualities of the Camomile Plant, he as well as thousands since (besides myself) would have experienced its wonderful effects on the nervous system. The public utility of Cowper was blighted in the land, through the company of the properties of the near the company of the properties. the "atural effect of his nervous debility upon the men-tal por ers, which made it necessary for him to seek re-lief bene. In the rural shade, but the calm retreat gave in stirred in retrees. If some one then had known the sec. at of concentrating the medical virtues of Camomile, the discoverer would have been immor-tained with postic all as the benefactor of suffering man.

The above lines were p-compted from the effect I have experienced from Dr. Win. Evans Camomile Pills have experienced from Dr. Win. Yours, with esteem, She. don P. Gilbert.

Durham, Green Co., N Y.

TF Another recent test of the unricated virtue of Dr. Wm. Econs. Measures.—DYSTEPS1. TEN YEARS STANDING.—Mr.J. Mckennie, 176 Stanton street, was efficied with the above compaint for 10 years, which mean citated him at intereds, for the jecomes, which mean citated him at intereds, for the jecomes.

to perfect health under the silutary treatment of Dr.

"In Ivan"The symptems were- A sense of distention and eppression eiter eating, distressing pain in the pit of the stometh, natsee, impaired appetite, gideliness, palpitation of the heart, great debility and emacistion, depression of sprits, disturted rest, sonetimes a bilious voniting, and pain in the right side, an extreme degree of langour and faintness; any endeavour to pursue his busumess crusing immediate exhaustion and weariness.

Mr. McKenzie is daily attending his lustiness, and none of the above symptoms have recurred since he used the medicine. He is now a strong and healthy man. He resorted to myriads of remedies, but they were all ineffectual. He is willing to give any informa ion to the afflicted respecting the inestimable benefit rendered to him by the use of Dr. Wm. Evans' medieine.

Care Mir Very Diller William Wall the Cure.—Mrs. Mary Dillon. Williamsburgh, corner of Fourth and North streets, completely restored to health by the treatment of Dr W. Ev.ns. 100 Chatham st.

The symptoms of this distressing case were as follows: Total loss of appetite, palpitation of the heart, twitching of the tendons, with a general sposmodic affection of the nuscles, difficulty of levething, giddiners, langour, lassitude, great depression of spirits, with a fear of some impending evil, a sensation of fluttring at the pit of the stomach, irregular transient pains in different parts, great emaciation, with other symstoms of extreme debility.

different parts, great embedation, of extreme debility.

The above case was pronounced hopeless by three of the most eminent physicians, and the dissolution of the patient daily awaited by her friends, which may be authenticated by the physicians who were in attendance. She has given her cheerful permission to publish the above facts, and will also gladly give any information respecting the benefit she has received, to any inquiring mind.

MARY DILLON.

tary sighing and weeping, languor and lassitude upon the least exercise.

Mr. Malmon had applied to the most eminent physicians, who considered it beyond the power of medicine to restore him to health; however as his affliction had reduced him to a very deplorable condition, and having been recommended by a relative of his to make trial of Dr. Wm. Evans' medicine, he with difficulty repaired to the office and procured a package, to which he says, he is indebted for his restoration to life, health and friends He is now enjoying all the blessings of leath.

Persons desirous of further information, will se satisfied in every particular as to this astonishing cure, at Dr. Wm, Evans' Medical Office, 100 Chatham st. N. Y.

A severe case of Piles cured at 100 Chaiham street.—Mr Daniel spanning, of Shrewsbury, Eden Town, New Jersey, was severely afflicted with Piles for more than 20 years. Had hid recourse to medicines of almost every description, also the advice of several eminent physicians, but never found the slightest rei. If from any source whatsoerer, until he called on Dr. Evans, of 100 Chatham street, N. Y. and procured some medicine from him, from which he found immediate relief, and subsequently a perfect cure.

CUTE RMEUMATISM, with an affection of the faings—cared under the treatment of Dr. Win Evans, 100 Childmetr. 1, New York. Mr. Benjamin S. Jervis, 13 Centre str. et., New.rk, N. J. afflicted for four yor re with severe prima in all his joints, which were always increased on the slightest notion; the torgue preserved a steady whiteness; loss of appetite, dizziness in his head, the lowest commonly very costive, the uriae high coloured, and other profuse recessing, unattended by relief. The above symptoms years, also, at

City of New York, so.

Benjamin S. Jarvis being duly sworn, doth deposes and say, that the facts stated in the above cartificate. subscribed by him, are in all respects true.

BENJ. S. JARVIS.

Sworn before me, this 23th of November, 1636.

WM. SAUL, Notary Public, 96 Kassau et.

The above medicine for sale by

J. HUGHES,

Druggist, Annapolis G. W. WILSON, Upper Murlbro' January 17.

POETRY.

From Dugald Moore's Posms. THE DEATH OF CLAPPERTON.

An Afric's sunset;-and he lay Upon his sardy bed. While the broad, sinking star of day Flashed fiercaly on his head; The desert, without shade or sound, Stretched like eternity around. He bent his dim, dilated eye On the approaching night,

Nought but a broad and blistering sky Smote on his fevered sight; A fiery firmament-a sphere Without one shade or floweret near One star arose; -his memory flew Far o'er the ocean's breast, To that proud isle amid the blue, Bright billows of the west-That land where passed youth's hours of glee, Like music o'er a summer sea. He saw her thousand hills again-

Amid the sky's unbounded plain; He saw that Sabbath sleep Which hangs so sweetly o'er each glen He saw the lone and broomy brace; The black bird's cheerful strain, Which cheered him in his boyhood days, Cr. pt to I is soul again! He turned and gazed o'er Afric's sky: The valture only made reply.

. . . The fiery sun went down; the sand Darkened beneath the foot Of Midnight.-In a stranger land That generous heart grew mute; And oh! will dim Oblivion spread Her pall of silence o'er his head! No: honest tongues will speak thy praise In hall and cottage hearth,

For thou hast shed another blaze O'er thy fair land of birth; Though Death has hushed the million's shout, He has not struck thy candle out.

MISCELLANEOUS. From the Ladies' Companion. THE REFEREE CASE.

BY EMMA C. EMBURY.

The outlines of the following sketch were related to me by an aged and horored member of large family connexion; and a man who pos esses an almost inexhaustible fund of legendary lore, and whose most interesting anecdotes and comic tales are but recollections of past scenes, of which he can say in the language of Aencas, "quorum magna pars fui."

"Many years ago," s:id Mr. E---, "I hap pened to be one of the referees in a case which DYSPEPSIA AND HYPOCHON DRIACISM—Interesting Case.—Mr. William Salmon, Groen street, above Third, Philad-lphia, afflicted for several years with the following distressing symptoms—Sickness at the stomach, localized, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, impaired appetite, sometimes acid and putrescent eructations, coldeness and weakness of the extremities, emaciation and general debility, disturbed rest, a sense of pressure and weight at the stomach after eating, nightmare, great mental despondency, severe flying pains in the chest back and sides, costituteness, a dislike for society, or conversation, involuntary sighing and weeping, languor and lassitude upon the least exercise.

Mr. Salmon had applied to the most eminent plant. excited unusual interest in our courts, from the been extremely beautiful, and no less lovely in an honorable man to whom such a step was riage and when his youngest child was but three weeks old, sailed once more to: the West Indics. His wi.e, who was devotedly attached to him, s rrowed at his absence, and found her only comfort in the society of her children and the hope of his return. But mon h after month passed away and he came not, nor did any leters, those insufficient but welcome substitutes errive to cheer her solitude. Months lengthened into years, yet no tidings were received of the absent husband, and after long hoping against hope, the unhappy wife was compelled to believe that he had found a grave beneath the welt ring ocean.

"Her sorrow was deep and heartfelt, but the vils of poverty now were added to her affliction and the widow found herselt obliged to resort to some empl yment, in order to support her helpless children Her needle was her only resort and for ten years she labored early and late for the miss rable pittance, which is ever grudgingly bestowed on the humble seamstress. A mer-chant of New York, in moderate but prospering trea ustances accidentally became acquainted with her, and I ased with her gentle manners, no less then h r extreme beauty, endeavored to improve their acquaintance with friend-hip-After some months he offered her his hand, and tended with considerable difficulty of breathing with a sense of tightness across the chint, likewise a great chant, she soon found herself in the enjoyment of camfort and luxuries, such as she had never The above symptom were entirely removed, and a perfect cure effected by Dr. Wm. Evans.

BENJ. S. JARVIS.

City of New York as tage that wealth and affection could procure. Fifteen years had passed away; the daughter married, and by their step father were furnished with every comfort, requisite in their new avo cation of housekeepers. But they had scarcely quitted his roof, when their mother was taken ill. She died after a few days sickness, and from that time until the period of which I speak the widower had resided with the youngest daughter.

"Now comes the strangest part of the story After an absence of thirty years, during which time no tidings had been received from him the first husband returned as suddenly as he had departed He had changed his ship, adopted nnother name, and spent the whole of that long period of time on the ocean, with only transient visits on shore while taking in or discharging cargo; having been careful, also never to com neurer home than New Orleans. "Why he had acted in this unpardonable manner towards his family, no one could tell, and he obstinately refused all explanation. There were strange rumors of slave trading and piracy affort, but they were only whispers of conjecture rather than truth. Whatever might have been his motives for such conduct, he was certainly any thing but indifferent to his family concerns when he returned. He raved like a madinan when informed of his wife's second marriage and subsequent death, rowing ven gance upon his successor, and territying his daughters by the most awful threats, in case they refused to acknowledge his claims. He had returned wealthy, and one of those mean reptiles of the law, who are always to be found about the halls of justice, advised him to bring a suit against the second husband, assuring him that he could recover heavy damages. absurdity of instituting a claim for a wife, whom death had already released from the jurisdiction of earthly laws was so minifest, that it was at length agreed by all parties to leave the matter adjudged by five referees.

-It was on a bright and beautiful afternoon in spring, that we first met to hear this singular The sunlight streamed though the dusty windows of the court room, and shed a halo around the long grey locks and broad forehead of the defendant; while the plaintiff's harsh features were thrown into,a still bolder relief by the same beam which softened the placid counten-ance of his adversary. The plantif's lawyer made an eloquent appeal for his client, and had we not been better informed about the matter, our nearts would have been melted by his touching description of the return of the desolute husband, and the agony with which he now be-iseld his household goods removed to consecrate a stranger's hearth. The celebrated Auron Burr was counsel for the defendant and we anticipated from him a spendid display of oratory. I had never before seen him, and shall certainly never forget my surprise at his appearance .-Small in person but remarkably well formed, with an eye as quick and as brilliant as an eagie's, and a brow furrowed by care far more than time, he seemed a very different being from the arch traitor and murderer I had been accustomed to consider him. His voice was one of the finest I ever heard, and the skill with which he modulated it, the variety of his tones, and the melody of its caterces, were inimitable. But there was one peculiarity about him, that reminded me of the depths of darkness which lay beneath that fair surface. You will smi e when I tell you, that the only thing I disliked was his step. He gird d rather than walked; his foot had that quie:, steelthy movement, which involuntarily makes one think of treachery, and in the course of a long life I have never met with

"Contrary to our expectations, however, Burr made no attempt to confute his opponent's orafamily, he suddenly resolved to resume his oc tory. He merely opened a book of statutes; and pointing with his thin fingers to one of the pages, desired the referees to read it, while he retired for a moment to bring in the principal wanters. We had scarcely finished the section which fully decided the matter in our minds, when Burr re-entered with a tall and elegant fem d leaning on his arm. She was attired in a simple white dress, with a wreath of ivy leaves encircling her large straw bonnet, and lace veil completely concealing her countenance. Burr whispered a few words apparently encouraging her to advance, and then grace. fully raising her well, disclosed to us a face of proud surpassing beauty. I recollect as well as it it had happened yesterday, how simultaneously the murmur of admiration burst from the lips of all present. Turning to the plantiff, Burr asked in a cold quiet tone, "Do you know this lady?"

Answer. "I do,"
Burr. "Will you swear to that?" Answer. "I will; to the best of my know. ledge and belief she is my daughter." "Burr. "Can you swear to her identity?"

"Answer. "I can." Burr. "What is her age?" Answer. "She was thirty years of age on the twentieth day of April."

Burre "When did you last see her!"

Answer. At her own house a fortnight

Burr. "When did you last see her previous to that meeting?" The plaintiff healtated-sa long paner chauce -the question was repeated, and the answer at length was, "On the fourteenth day of May

"When she was just three weeks old," ndded Ruer. "Gentlemen," continued be turning to us, "I have brought this lady here as an important witness, and such I think she is. The plaintiff's counsel has plended eloquently in behalf of the bereaved husband who escaped the perils of the sea and returned only to find his home desolate. But who will picture to you the lonely wife hending over her daily toil, de-voting her best years to the drudgery of sordid poverty, supported only by the hope of her husband's return! Who will paint the slow progress o heart sickness, the wasting angul h of hope deferred, and finally, the overwhelming agony which came upon her when her last hope was extinguished, and she was compelled to believe herself indeed a widow! Who can depict all this without awakening in your hearts the warmest sympathy for the deserted wife, and the bitterest scorn for the mean, pitiful wretch, who could thus trample on the heart of her whom he had sworn to love and cherish! Wo need not inquire into his motive for setting so base a part. Whether it was love of gain, or licentiousness, or selfish indifference, it matters not; he is too vile a thing to be judged by such laws as govern men. Let us ask the witne the who now stands before us with the frank, fearless brow of a true hearted woman-let us ask her which of these two has been to her a Cather?"

Turning to the lady, in a tone whose sweetness was in strange contrast with the scornful accent that had just characterized his words, he besought her to relate briefly the recollections of her early life. A slight flush passed over her proud and beautiful face as she replied.

"My first recollections are of a small, ill-fur nished apartment, which my sister and myself shared with my mother. She used to carry out every Saturday evening the work which had occupied her during the week, and bring bock imployment for the following one. Saving that wearisome visit to her employer, and regular attendance at church she never left the house. She often spoke of our father and of his anticipated return, but at length she ceased to mention him, though I observed she used to weep more frequently than ever. I then thought she wept because we were so poor, for it sometimes happened that our only supper was a bit of dry bread, and she was accustomed to see by the light of the chips which she kindled to warm her famishing children, because she could not purchase a candle without depriving us of our norning meal. Such was our poverty when my mother contracted a second marriage, and the change to us was like a sud en entrance into Paradise. We found a home and a father." She paused.

"Would you excite my own child against me?' cried the plaintiff as he impatiently wave

The eyes of the witness flished fire as he "You are not my father," exclaimed she vehemently. "The law may deem you such. but I disclaim you utterly. Wha! call you my father! you, who basely left your wife to toil and your children to beggary! Never! never! Behold there my father," pointing to the ngita-ted defendant. othere is the man who watched over my infancy-who was the sharer of my childish sports, and the guardian of my inexperienced youth. There is he who claims my affection and shares my home; there is my father. For yonder selfish wretch I know him not. The best years of his life have been spent in lawless freedom from social ties; let him sick elsewhere for the compinion of his decrepitude, nor dare to insult the ashes of my mother by claiming the duties of kindred from her leserted chilaren!"

She drew her well has ily around her as she spoke, and giving her hand to Burr, moved as if to withdraw.

"Gentlemen," cried Burr, "I have no more to ay. The words of the law are expressed in the book before you; the voice of truth you have just heard from woman's pure lips; it is for you to decide according to the requisitions of nature and the docrees of justice."

I need scarcely add that our decision was uch as to overwhelm the plaintiff with well. merited sname.

SAINT-MARY'S COUNTY COURT. March Term, 1539,

ORDERED BY THE COURT, That the creditors of Abel S. Green well, a petitioner for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws of this state, be and appear before Saint-Mary's County Court, on the first Monday of August next, to file allegations, if any they have, and to recommend a permanent trustee for their benefit. To be published ince a week for three successive months in some paper published in the State of Mary-Jo. HARRIS, Clk.

By order. JO. HARRIS, CIk.

True copy, of St. Mary's County Court's