AMERICAN PHRENOLOGICAL

Il T is a remarkable fact, that while the conthe American continent a single periodical whose object is to advocate its truths, repel the attacks made upon it. or appears the periodical continent and the attractions of the work be thus multiplied. the attacks made upon it, or answer the enquiries which even candid persons are disposed to make concerning it. And this is the more surprising since the materials already existing and daily augmenting, with which to enrich such a publication, are almost inexhaustible.

The science of medicine has its appropri ate media through which to present to the profession and to students all the new facts which occur, and all the new theories which are advocated in the various institutions of medical science throughout the world; and it is proper that it should be so. The same is true of the other leading professions of law and of divinity. But, notwithstanding the important bearings which phrenologists know their science to have on medicine, and divinity, and law, there is no publication in which, as the appropriate channel, bearings may be pointed out. It is true that some newspapers, and also one or two works of a less ephemeral character, do occasionally admit articles in favoar of phrenology: but these do not meet the present ne cessity. A periodical which is avowedly chreaological-one, whose pages shall constitute a permanent depository of facts, and which shall be open for the expression of opinions and the record of principles connected with those facts, is now needed; and strong feeling of this necessity, together with a belief that such a work is extensively demanded, and will meet with encouragement and support, his induced the publisher to neesent the prospectus of "The American Phrenological Journal and Mixellang."

Original Essays on Phrenological subjects will form part of the Journal; as also, Reviews of Parenological and Anti-Phrenological works: nor shall we fail to present to our readers such matters of interest and importance as may be found in foreign Phreno logical works of standard excellence, and which are not generally accessible to the American public. Our FACTS we pledge ourselves shall be bona-fide such; and, as often as practicable, we shall accompany our descriptions with illustrative cuts: indeed, we intend and expect that scarcely a number

In conclusion, we may be allowed to say, that the pecuniary value of each number will depend much on the extent to which the work is patronised. It is not with the de-

JOURNAL:

AMERICAN SILK BOCIETY RURAL ECONOMIST.

T a Convention which met at Baltimore on the 11th of December last, composon the 11th of December last, composed of a great number of gentlemen from various parts of the Union, distinguished for rious parts of the Union, distinguished for their public services, patriotism, and practi-cal intelligence, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That it is the deliberate opinion of this Convention that Silk may be grown in all the United States, not only for domes. in all the United States, not only for domes-tic purposes, but as a valuable article of com-mercial export—thereby giving an active em-ployment to American labour, and retaining millions of dollars in our country, that are silken goods.

Resolved, That a National Silk Journal ought to be established under the auspices of the Executive Committee, and all the funds over and above the support of said paper ought to be devoted to the advancement of the silk cause in the United States. Under the latter resolution, J. S. SKIRKER, postmaster, of Baltimore, was invited to become the editor of the work, and has consented to do so-so far as may be consistent with the strict performance of his public du-place in the Convention, all the difficulties may vet be apprehended, in the prosecution merican industry, were fully considered; and the result was an universal conviction that, now, in the words of the resolution, Silk may be grown in the United States, not only for domestic purposes, but as a valuable and health of the worm, and the trees which supply its food; the capabilities, the habits, and the genius of our people for conducting the business through its whole process, and the price of American labour as compared with that of siik-producing countries, all were fully canvassed, and the most sceptical restrained freedom in the entertainment and discussion of various and discordant doc-trines, religious and political, has imparted to us, as to our English ancestry, an omniverous appetite for knowledge, and a capaci-ty to learn in a few years what cannot be acmired in ages, where all is dull conformity has it happened in manufactures as in other things; American ingenuity, unrestrained by prejudice or law, has triumphied over difficul-ties apparently insurmountable! How long, may it be asked, after our first cotton spin-dle was put in motion before Yankee Lowells' were sold at a profit in China? So will it be with silk. The only question is as to how long it shall take us? With a monthly journal to concentrate and diffuse every ray of floating light on the subject, it was the opinion of the Convention that we may realize and enjoy, in our own day, the boon which indolence and want of concert may procrastinate, but which nothing short of Turkish apathy can finally defeat. Let all then who may feel any concern as cultivators, manufacturers, or venders of sill, or as patriots willing to offer suitable occupahelpless, come forward in support of a work to be faithfully and honestly devoted to these objects of private happiness, and of national

Though Silk, and every thing connected with its production; and all improvements in machinery for its preparation and manufac-ture, well constitute the chief design and aim of the journal, for the sake of agrecable and useful variety, a considerable portion of its pages will be dedicated to the justly copular and kindred subjects of agriculture, horticulture, and rural and domestie economy.-Hence, the adjunctive title Rural Econo-
