JOURNAL & MISCELLANY. HT is a remarkable fact, that while the converts to the belief that Phrenology is tice, have, within a few years, most astonishingly multiplied, there does not exist on whose object is to advocate its truths, repel ed, and the attractions of the work be thus the attacks made upon it, or answer the enquiries which even camiled persons are dis-is true of the other leading professions of law and of divinity. But, notwithstanding the important bearings which phrenologists know their selence to have on medicine, and divinity, and hav, there is no publication tarough vines, as the appropriate channel, those bearing may be pointed out. It is true that some new spapers, and also one or two works of a loss ephomeral character, do occasionally adout articles in favour of phrenology; but these do not meet the present ne cossity. A periodical which is avowedly virenological—one, whose pages shall con-structe a permanent depository of facts, and pinions and the record of principles connectat with those facts, is now needed; and a f stron; feeling of this necessity, together with belief that such a work is extensively demanded, and will meet with encouragement and support, has induced the publisher to present the prespectes of "The American Phrenological Journal and Miscellan,." The object of this work will be to preserve from oblivion the most interesting of the very numerous facts, confirmatory and the very numerous facts, communitary and illustrative of the truth of phrenology; to show! the true bearings of the science on Education, (physical, intellectual, and moral;) on the Medical Treatment of the Insame; on Jurispendence; on Theology, and on Mental and Moral Philosophy. On all these subjects there is encouragement to hope for subjects there is encouragement to ho contributions from several able pens; white the resources of the editor himself will not, oped, be found inconsiderable.

The religious character of the work will be decidedly evangelical: for one prominen object in giving it existence is, to wrest Phrenology out of the hands of those, who, in ignorance of its true nature and tendencies, suppose that they find in it an instruwhich to subvert the truths of revealed religion, and loosen the bonds of human accountability, and moral obligation .-A frequent subject of discussion in our pages will therefore be, The Harmony between the truths of Revelation and those of Phrenology. And on the subject of the religious bearings of our science we respectfully solicit the enquiries and objections, not of cavillers, but of the truly candid, and the conscientiously Such correspondents we shall always welcome to our pages, and they will always be treated with kindness; as, also, will konest and respectful objectors to Phrenology. But the captious and cavillers will to themselves our silent contempt; the pains to investigate, may expect a merit- of useful knowledge.

As our object is the establishment of TRUTH, we solicit the communication of facts which are supposed to militate against Phrenology; and we pledge ourselves to publish them, in all cases in which we have satisfactory vouchers for their genuineness; and in which all the facts in the several cases are furnished to us. But as we must form our own judgment of the cerebral development in all cases on which we express our opinions, it is obvious that we cannot receive, in these instances, the opinions of non-phrenological or anti-phrenological writers, as to the degree in which the several organs are developed—we must, in every such case, see the head or skull, or a cast of it, properly certified to be true to nature.

Original Essays on Phrenological subjects will form part of the Journal; as also, Reviews of Phrenological and Anti-Phrenological works; nor shall we fail to present to

for the public eye.

In conclusion, we may be allowed to say, that the pecuniary value of each number will depend much on the extent to which the work is patronised. It is not with the desire or expectation of gain toat it is offered to the community, but from moral consideragate truth. Hence should a large subscripion list be obtained, a considerable propor tion of the profits will be devoted to the enlargement and improvement of the work, without an increase of expense to the subscribers. More frequent illustrations and embellishments will, in that case, be insert-

Among these schemes, regarded as of obviously d. q gerous tendency, is that of a National Bank, which however harmless or useful it might be in the full strength and unanimity of the republic, would, in a period of danger,—its branches penetrating every part of the country, and in the words of Jefferson, "acting by command and in phalanx,"—have power to inkt. pose serious and alarming obstacles to the operations of government.

The assumption of the right to impose a tariff to yand the duties necessary to supply the constitutions wants of government; the appropriation of the public money upon schemes of internal improvement, and the tions of the States, particularly with the institution of Slavery, will be equally opposed as encroachments up on the constitution and upon the rights of States.

The liability of the Banks to periodical convulsion and their inability to comply, at all times, with the con ditions upon which they are employed by the Treasury as evinced by the suspensions of 1837, render the me sure of dispensing with their agency in conducting the fiscal operations of Government one of obvious neces measure calculated to relieve government tingencies to which its connection with Banks renders it liable—one which will insure stability and uniformity one which will insure stability and uniformity in its fiscal action, and reduce the potent influence the Executive over a league of deposite Banks, to the mere power of appointing the few officers necessary carry out the system.
