

of this great nation have been influenced by of career. That also makes him an object of personal interest, and it is not surprising that the public mind should have been drawn to him by the magnitude of this great city.
The carriage in which Mr. Clay was seated, was preceded by a band of music, and three hundred and ninety-two horsemen. Of the officers not over ten were persons making pretensions to the "first society," and many of them were smoking. Several of the marshals had cigars in their mouths. In the carriage with Mr. Clay was Amos Gore, General Smyth, and Gen. Van Courtland. After this name one hundred and seventy-six wheeled chairs of all descriptions, and a number of carriages. Of these about seventeen were private carriages, five omnibuses, one of the wagons used for bringing granite to the new Exchange, and a number of one horse wagons. After these one hundred and seventy-six carriages, there were sixteen drays in succession. The drays were covered with people, but the number of Indians in the windows of the houses was much less than that which greeted the arrival of the President. When spread out, the end of the cavalcade was at Howard street, while the flag end was at Union Park. Such was the great procession. It was neither more or less, and we trust that our opponents will treat us with equal justice on a similar occasion, should one occur. Our warfare is not a personal one. We believe that an opponent possesses some virtue, integrity and patriotism.

has the following, which the editor says he received from an anonymous correspondent, but which he believes to be authentic.

Fort Brooke, Tampa Bay, 7th August, 1839.

Sir,—Capt. W. Seawell, 7th Infantry, with 40 men, Company G, left this post this morning, in the steamer Oceanic, for the late scene of the outrage committed by the Indians at the trading house (Punta Rooca). He is accompanied by Major Forsyth, Paymaster, and Lieut. W. Gradin, Aid de Camp to Gen. Taylor.
You have doubtless seen an account of the surprise and massacre made by these friendly Indians. The object of this expedition is to see what they may have done, and to perform the last sad rites due those who, in an unsuspected hour were cut off from life. So soon as the boat returns you shall know the result.

ESCAPE OF COL. HARNEY.

The following gratifying intelligence announces the safety of this gallant officer. We take it from the St. Augustine Herald, of the 15th instant.

FROM THE SOUTH.

Major Richard Bennett, Paymaster U. States Army, arrived here on Wednesday, from Key Biscayne, in the steambot Cincinnati—who informs us that Lieut. Col. Harney had reached that place, after making his escape from being massacred by the Indians at Carloosa-hatchie with the soldiers, and Mr. Dallam, and citizens under his employ, amounting to 17 or 18 in all.
Col. Harney was landed at that place on his return from Tampa Bay but a few days previous to the attack. He had been hunting wild hogs for provisions, and returned late at night very much fatigued, and immediately retired to rest, and believes the Indians were not apprized of his return.

About the break of day he was aroused by the firing of guns, and on going out of his tent, found that the Indians had killed a number of men, and were pursuing others who had fled to the water, firing at them; he soon discovered any attempt on his part would be fruitless, and effectually fled with one man by the means of a canoe some distance from the camp. The soldiers who took to the water made their escape by swimming to a small boat some distance from the shore. Col. H. met them and returned to the east that night, and procured some bread left by the Indians, which enabled them to subsist.
Having met with a boat that conveyed him to Key Biscayne, he sent a part of his men to Tampa Bay to report to Gen. Taylor.

Major Bennett also informs us that Chitto Tustenuggee, with his family were at Key Biscayne together with a number of Indians, who were detained by Col. Harney, who sent Chitto Tustenuggee for Sam Jones to meet him—that Sam Jones came to Fort Lauderdale, and that both Chitto Tustenuggee and Sam Jones denied having any participation in that affair, or even knowledge of the intention to make an attack, (saying they were the Spanish Indians), and expressing their willingness in the presence of the commanding officer at Fort Lauderdale, and Major Bennett, to go and fight them.

Both Sam Jones and Chitto Tustenuggee declare that it is their wish to comply with the treaty, and Sam offers to give up his son as an evidence of his sincerity. Col. Harney arrived at Fort Lauderdale just as Major Bennett left, whose intention was to make some arrangements with these chiefs to go against the Indians who made the attack; no arrangement, however, was made previous to Major B's departure from Fort Lauderdale, as he came directly on in the Cincinnati, the boat which brought Col. Harney to that place; the Colonel detained the steambot Santoe at Fort Lauderdale to aid him in his operations.

Major Chitts detained at Fort Ponce three Indians, one male and two females, and sent them to St. Augustine in the Cincinnati.

Capt. Mayo, with the steamer Poinsett, was at Key Biscayne, having received his supply of men, with boats and provisions; he left that place on Monday, the 12th inst. for Key West, intending to establish a post at Carloosa-hatchie to prevent supplies being taken to the Indians, and he intended cruising round as far as Tampa Bay.

AMERICAN INGENUITY IN EVADING THE LAW.

The very first object of the Americans, after law has been passed, is to find out how they can evade it. This exercises their ingenuity; and it is very amusing to observe how cleverly they sometimes manage it. At Baltimore, in consequence of the prevalence of hydrophobia, the civic authorities passed a law, that all dogs should be muzzled, or rather the terms were that all dogs should wear a muzzle, or the owner of a dog not wearing a muzzle should be brought up and fined; and the regulation further stated, that any body convicted of having removed the muzzle from a dog should be severely fined. A man, therefore, tied muzzle to his dog's tail, (the act not stating where the muzzle was to be placed.) One of the city officers perceiving this dog with his muzzle at the wrong end, took possession of the dog, and brought it to the town hall. His master, being well known, was summoned and appeared. He proved that he complied with the act, in having fixed a muzzle on the dog; and further, the city officer having taken the muzzle of the dog's tail, he insisted that he should be fined five dollars for so doing.

[Captain Marryatt's Diary in America.]

FATAL CARELESSNESS.

About 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, a German, named Lawrence Switzer, residing in Mulberry street, in the employ of Mr. Taylor, soda manufacturer, of Broadway, went with a newly charged fountain to a drug store in Essex street. While there, he attempted to draw from the fountain one of the iron bands; while thus engaged, the fountain exploded with tremendous violence. Switzer was thrown down, and when taken up was found to be utterly insensible. He was removed to the City Hospital, when, on examination, it was found that both of his legs were broken below the knee, and that he was otherwise injured by the shock. The right leg was amputated, and other means used for his restoration, but without effect. He survived only till 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The Coroner's jury, in an inquest held upon the body, rendered a verdict of—Death from injuries received by the bursting of a soda fountain.—N. Y. Courier.

CENSUS OF 1840.

According to the average increase of population in the United States, as shown by several enumerations that have been since 1790, it appears that the increase from one Census to another, is about thirty-three per cent. Sup-to exhibit a population of a fraction over se-

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. STREETER'S Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies, SARATOGA STREET, BALTIMORE.

MR. and MRS. HAMILTON having relinquished the Boarding Department of their Institution for the education of Young Ladies, in Saratoga-street, Mr. and Mrs. STREETER, it becomes necessary to submit to their former patrons and the public the arrangements for the ensuing year, consequent on the change which has taken place. In transferring so important a charge to themselves, their pupils and their friends, induce them to express their entire confidence in the zeal, ability, and full qualifications of their successors. Mr. Streeter is a graduate of Harvard University, and has had long experience as Principal in one of the first schools in the city of Boston.
He will unquestionably give the same approbation here with which his labours of instruction have been regarded elsewhere. Mrs. S. is eminently qualified to guide the young of her sex, secure their obedience and command their respect. They are sincerely commended to the continued patronage of the former friends of the establishment, and to the favour of the public.

Mr. and Mrs. STREETER respectfully announce that they will resume the entire charge of the Boarding Department in the Institution formerly under the care of Mr. & Mrs. Hamilton, on Saratoga street, Baltimore, on the first Monday in September next.

Sensible of the importance of female education, and desirous of raising the standard of attainment in all that contributes to elevate the female character and prepare young ladies for the responsibilities of womanhood, and the various relations of social and domestic life; the Principals will employ every resource within their reach for cultivating the mind, elevating the feelings and polishing the manners of their pupils. Regarding education, not so much as an end, as a prospective in its results, they will give careful attention to those branches essential to the formation of a sound intellectual and moral character, and to their grand aim will be to present knowledge in an attractive and light and to render its acquisition so agreeable, as to excite a desire for improvement which will continue after the relations of mere scholastic life have been dissolved, and the pupils have entered on the higher and wider school of human life.

It will be the endeavor of Mr. & Mrs. Streeter to render their house in every sense a home to those who may be placed under their care, and to maintain, as far as possible, an authority strictly parental. All the branches of a solid education, together with those light-and pleasing studies which impart a charm and polish to female manners and intellect, and above all those moral principles, which should form the basis of all character, will receive full attention. The elements of English education will be thoroughly taught, as will also the Latin and French Languages, and literature cultivated by a judicious use during domestic intercourse. "Conversations will also be held at stated periods in the family, under the superintendance of the French teacher, or a French lady, in which subjects of interest and importance will be brought forward, and the double purpose of improving the minds and bidding to the conversational tact of the students.

Of the healthful and advantageous location of the establishment and its great conveniences, it cannot be necessary to speak. More particular information relative to the principles on which the school will be conducted, and the terms upon which boarding scholars will be received, may be obtained of Mr. STREETER at his dwelling, late the residence of Mr. Hamilton, Saratoga-street, Baltimore.

THE DAY SCHOOL, connected with the Boarding School of Mr. & Mrs. Hamilton, will hereafter be under the associated care of Mr. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Streeter, and the next regular session will commence on the first Monday in September next. No exertions will be spared to add to the resources of the establishment, which are believed to be in all respects equal, and in many, superior to those of similar institutions.

The departments of Modern Languages, Chemistry, Music and Dancing, will, as usual, be under the charge of competent Professors; and Mr. Streeter will give attention to those desirous of studying the Latin or Greek Language. Lectures on literary and scientific subjects will be delivered from time to time.

Applications for admission may be made to Mr. S. at his residence in Saratoga-street, (late Mr. Hamilton's) where he will be happy to give any information relative to the terms, &c.

It is earnestly desired that parents will favor their children in attendance as nearly as possible at the commencement of the school, that an early organization may be made, and the publication of the year catalogue best facilitated.

TO CONTRACTORS.

PROPOSALS will be received at the Office of the Engineer, of the Annapolis and Elk-Ridge Rail Road, Brotherton, Anne Arundel county, Maryland, until the 1st of September next, for laying the Rail Track of the said road—the sleepers are generally round sticks of chestnut, or white oak, perhaps 2 of the former, and 2 of the latter—these sticks are required to be dressed top and bottom, and to square six inches upon the ends; each piece is seven feet and one half long, and the ties will be two feet eight inches apart from centre to centre, except those next the joint, which will be two feet four inches; a piece will be cut from each joint, and from a sleeper next the centre of the rail, for the reception of the chairs; the sides of this seat are to be bevelled, and the top of the chair shall always when fixed in its place be flush and in the same plane with the top of the sleepers; the rail is to be fastened to the intermediate ties by wrought iron spikes, six inches long and 9-16 square.
The cross ties rest on mud sills of white pine, from the Susquehanna, 3 x 8 inches, not less than 15 feet in length, and will average about 20 feet; at the meeting of each of the sills a joint piece of the same scantling, four feet in length, is to be placed in proper position and firmly fixed by being well beaten with a Paviors rammer; after placing the joint piece, the mud sill shall be laid in its proper position lengthwise of the road, in a ballasting of sand or gravel, for which about 4 inches digging will be required, and beaten in the manner prescribed for the joint pieces till they are perfectly bedded and occupy an exact horizontal plane transversely of the road, except upon the curves where the outer sill will be raised. Six miles of the road require ballast, and 14 are through sand and gravel where no ballasting will be necessary.

When the sills are correctly placed the cross tie will be laid upon them exactly at right angles to the line of road, so that the upper and dressed part of the tie shall be parallel to the bed, and in the same plane longitudinally as the mud sill is transversely, and firmly fastened to the sill by an oak tree nail eight inches long; upon these sleepers will be fastened in the manner before described, Rolled Iron Bars 18 feet in length, bridge form, weighing 44 lbs. to the lineal yard. As soon as each 100 yards of the track is finished it shall be filled with sand or gravel and well rammed. The whole length of line is 20 1/2 miles, and Bidders may offer for the whole or for a part. The line is divided into 3 mile stations. All digging, for the bedding of mud sills and placing cross-ties, must be done at the expense of the Contractor, and so all filling in where the material has not to be brought more than 150 yards; where the hauling is longer the prices will be fixed by the Engineer.

The materials will be delivered on the line of road at intervals of 100 or 200 feet.
No person need bid who does not expect to finish the contract in the best mechanical manner and style of workmanship. The specifications of the manner of laying, with drawings and models of the Rails, Chairs and Spikes, may be seen at the place above mentioned. Bidders unknown to the Engineer must give satisfactory reference.
