

The Maryland Gazette.

ANNAPOLIS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1839.

No. 48.

VOL. XXIV.

Printed and Published by JONAS GREEN,
At the Brick Building on the Public Circle.

Price—Three Dollars per annum.
Dr. W. Evans' SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.
Prepared by himself.

TO NURSERS AND NURSES.

The passage of the Teeth through the gums produces unpleasant and dangerous symptoms. It is known by nurses that there is great irritation in the mouth and around during this process. The gums swell, the secretion of saliva is increased, the child is seized with frequent and sudden fits of crying, wincing, starting in the arms and spasms of peculiar kind; the child shrieks with extreme violence, and thrusts its fingers into its mouth. If these precursive symptoms are not speedily relieved, spasmodic convulsions universally supervene, judgment, and the dissolution of the infant. If no other means have been tried, apply Dr. William Evans' Soothing Syrup, which has preserved hundreds of infants when thought past recovery, from being suddenly attacked with that fatal malady, convulsions.

A REAL BLESSING TO MOTHERS.

Dr. W. Evans' Celebrated Soothing Syrup, for Children Cutting their Teeth.

This infallible remedy has preserved hundreds of children, when thought past recovery, from convulsions. As soon as the Syrup is rubbed on the gums, the child will recover. This preparation is so inoffensive, and so pleasant, that no child will refuse to take it. Its gums be rubbed with it. When infants are at the age of four months, though there is no appearance of the gums, to open the pores. Parents should use it before the child teeth. If a child waxes in the night with pain in the gums, the Syrup immediately gives ease by opening the pores and healing the gums, thereby preventing Convulsions, Fevers, &c.

Proof Positive of the Efficacy of Dr. Evans' Soothing Syrup.

To the Gentl. Dr. Evans' Soothing Syrup. Dear Sir, The great benefit afforded to my suffering infant by your Soothing Syrup, in a case of protracted and painful dentition, must convince every feeling parent of its essential early application of this Syrup. My infant is now in a state of perfect health, and my child teething, experienced such acute suffering, that it was attacked with convulsions, and my wife and myself supposed that death would soon release the little from anguish till we procured a bottle of your Syrup, which we so as to be applied to the gums. A wonderful change was produced, and after a few applications the child displayed obvious relief, and by continuing in its use, I am glad to inform you, the child has completely recovered and no recurrence of that awful complaint has since occurred, the teeth are coming in daily and the child enjoys perfect health. I give you my cheerful testimony to make this acknowledgment public, and will gladly give any information on this circumstance.

WM. JOHNSON.

Dr. W. Evans' Soothing Syrup. Dear Sir, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Soothing Syrup, and to state that it has proved itself to be a most valuable remedy in the case of my infant, who was suffering from the pain of teething. I have used it several times, and in every case it has produced the most beneficial effects. I am glad to inform you that my infant is now in a state of perfect health, and that the teeth are coming in without any further pain. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, Wm. Johnson.

A SEVERE CASE OF TEETHING, WITH SUMMER COMPLAINT.

The infant of the late Mrs. M. was born on the 10th of July, 1839, and was a healthy child until the 15th of August, when it was seized with a severe case of teething, which was attended with a summer complaint.
The infant was attended by Dr. W. Evans, who prescribed his Soothing Syrup, and in a few days the infant was entirely recovered. The mother of the infant, Mrs. M., is a lady of high rank and position, and her infant was one of the most valuable acquisitions to her family.
The infant was born at No. 8, Madison street, and was attended by Dr. W. Evans, 100 Chatham street, N. Y., who prescribed his Soothing Syrup, and in a few days the infant was entirely recovered. The mother of the infant, Mrs. M., is a lady of high rank and position, and her infant was one of the most valuable acquisitions to her family. The infant was born at No. 8, Madison street, and was attended by Dr. W. Evans, 100 Chatham street, N. Y., who prescribed his Soothing Syrup, and in a few days the infant was entirely recovered.

IMPORTANT TO NURSERS.—Children generally suffer much uneasiness from cutting their teeth. Whatever dangerous or fatal symptoms attend this process of nature, they are produced by a variety of causes, the most common of which are, the inflammation of the gums, and the inflammation of the bowels. It is of importance to the nurse and parent, that they should be able to distinguish the symptoms of these diseases, and to apply the proper remedies. Dr. W. Evans' Soothing Syrup is a most valuable remedy in all these cases, and it is of importance to the nurse and parent, that they should be able to distinguish the symptoms of these diseases, and to apply the proper remedies. Dr. W. Evans' Soothing Syrup is a most valuable remedy in all these cases, and it is of importance to the nurse and parent, that they should be able to distinguish the symptoms of these diseases, and to apply the proper remedies.

DIRECTIONS.

When children begin to teethe, rub a little of the Syrup on their gums, three times a day. When the teeth are cutting through their gums, mothers should immediately apply the Syrup; it will prevent the children from having a fever, and undergoing that painful operation of having the gums, which always makes the next teeth harder to come through, and sometimes causes death.
Sold at Dr. W. Evans' Office, 100 Chatham street,
New York; and by all Agents throughout the Union.

Agent,

JEREMIAH HUGHES,

Annapolis, Md.

September 12.

DR. WM. EVANS, proprietor of the newspaper called "The Doctor," hereby publicly requests all Proprietors and Publishers of Newspapers who send their papers to his Office, to direct them to the Editor of "The Doctor," No. 100, Chatham street, New York.

April 25.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

Nervous diseases, liver complaint, dyspepsia, bilious headaches, piles, rheumatism, consumption, coughs, colds, spitting blood, pain in the chest and side, ulcers, female weakness, all delicate and mercurial diseases are successfully treated at Dr. Evans' Medical Office, 100 Chatham street, New York.

AN ORDINANCE to authorize the Annapolis and Elk-Ridge Rail Road Company to introduce and continue its Rail Road within the limits of the City of Annapolis.

[Passed September 9, 1839.]

SECTION 1. Be it established and ordained by the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council of the city of Annapolis, That the Annapolis and Elk-Ridge Rail Road Company be and it is hereby authorized to introduce, connect, locate and construct, a rail road or roads over and through any street or streets, or lot or lots of ground within the limits of the city of Annapolis, except over and through West street and Church street in said city.

Sec. 2. And be it established and ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the said Annapolis and Elk-Ridge Rail Road Company be and it is hereby authorized and permitted to work and use locomotive or steam engines on any road or roads so introduced, connected, located and constructed, at its pleasure; provided, that the speed of any locomotive or steam engine so worked and used shall not exceed the rate of four miles per hour; and provided also, that it shall be the duty of the said Company to provide for,
and cause to be kept and used, at all times, spark catchers, of the most approved pattern, on and with all the locomotives or steam engines so worked and used on any such road or roads as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. And be it established and ordained by the authority aforesaid, That if it shall become necessary for the purpose of locating and constructing any such road or roads as aforesaid for the said Annapolis and Elk-Ridge Rail Road Company to use and occupy any lot or lots of ground or other property within the limits of the said city belonging to individual citizens, the said lot or lots or other property may be so used and occupied upon the same restrictions, terms and conditions, and subject to the same obligations mentioned in the charter of the said Company for the use and occupation, purchase or condemnation of the land used for the line and tracks of the road of the said Company from its intersection with the Baltimore and Washington Rail Road to its terminus beyond the limits of the city.

Sec. 4. And be it established and ordained by the authority aforesaid, That the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council aforesaid hereby reserve the power at any and all times hereafter to modify by ordinance or ordinances the rights hereby granted or intended to be granted of locating and constructing said road or roads, and of working and using locomotive or steam engines thereon as aforesaid, or to repeal the ordinance hereby enacted, upon giving six months notice thereof to the said Rail Road Company; provided that in case of any such modification or repeal the Mayor,
Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council aforesaid will and shall guaranty to the said Company a sufficient indemnity for the expense incurred by the said Company in constructing said road or roads and other improvements connected therewith on and through any of said street or streets, lot or lots of ground or other property as aforesaid.

Sec. 5. And be it established and ordained by the authority aforesaid, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council aforesaid from enacting at any and all times hereafter any ordinance or ordinances to regulate the way and manner in which any locomotive or steam engine as aforesaid shall be allowed to pass through any street or streets or through which the said road or roads may be located and constructed as aforesaid; provided that in case it shall be deemed necessary by the Mayor,
Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council aforesaid to change the location of any such road or roads as aforesaid, or any part or parts thereof, for the benefit of the city of Annapolis, all the expense consequent thereon, or to be incurred thereby, shall be defrayed by the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Common Council aforesaid, any thing contained in this ordinance or any other ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding.

JOHN MILLER, Mayor.

POETRY.

THE BIRDS IN AUTUMN.

BY MR. STODOLSKY.

November came on, with an eye severe,
And his stormy language was borne to hear—
And the glittering garland of brown and red,
Which he wreath'd for a while round the forest's head,
With sudden anger he rent away,
And all was eberleis, and bare, and gray.

Then the homeless grasshopper told his woes,
And the humming bird sent forth a wailing for the rose,
And the spider, that weaver of cunning so deep,
Roll'd himself up, like a ball, to sleep;
And the cricket, his merry horn laid by,
On the shelf, with the pipe of the dragon fly.

Soon voices were heard at the morning prime,
Consulting of flight to a warmer clime,
"Let us go, let us go," said the bright-winged jay—
And his gay spouse sang from a rocking spray,
"I am tired to death of this hum-drum tree,
I'll go—if 'tis only the world to see.

"Will you go?" asked the robin, "my only love?"
And a tender strain from the leafless grove
Responded—"Wherever your lot is cast,
Mid summer skies, or the northern blast,
I am still at your side, your heart to cheer,
Though dear is our nest, in this tricket here."

The oriole told, with a flashing eye,
How his little one shrunk from the frosty sky:
How his mate, with an age, had shaken the bed,
And lost her fine voice by a cold in her head,
And their eldest daughter an invalid grown,
No health in this terrible climate had known.

"I am ready to go," said the plump young wren;
"From the hateful homes of these northern men,
My throat is sore, and my feet are blue—
I'm afraid I've caught the consumption too!
And then I've no confidence left I own,
In the doctors out of the southern zone."

Then up went the thrush, with a trumpet call,
And the martins came forth from their box on the wall,
And the owl peep'd from his secret tower,
And the swallow conven'd on the old churchtower;
And the council of blackbirds was long and loud—
Chattering and flying, from tree to cloud.

"The dahlia is dead on her throne," said they:
"And we saw the butterfly cold as clay;
Not a worm is found on the russet plains—
Not a kernel of ripen'd maize remains—
Every worm has hid—shall we longer stay,
To be wathed with famine! Away!—away!"

But what a strange clamor on elm and oak,
From a bevy of brown-coated mocking-birds bold,
The theme of each separate speaker they told,
In a shrill report, with such mimicry bold,
That the eloquent orators started to hear
Their own true echo so wild and clear.

Then tribes afar tribe, with its leader fair,
Swept off, through the fathomless depths of air,
Whom marketh their course to the tropics bright!
Who netheth their wing for its weary flight?
Who guideth their carvan's trackless way,
By the star at night, and the cloud by day?

Some spread o'er the waters a daring wing;
In the isles of the southern sea to sing;
Or where the minaret towering high,
Pierces the gold of the western sky;
Or amid the haunts of the fabled
Their lodges to build, and their nurseries rear.

The Indian fig, with its arching screen,
Welcome them into its vistas green;
And the breathing buds of the spicy tree,
Thrill at the burst of their revelry;
And the bulbul starts 'mid his carol cheer,
Such a rushing of stranger-wings to hear.

O wild-wind wanderer! how far away
From your rural homes in our vales ye stray!
But when they are wak'd by the touch of Spring,
We shall see you again, with your glancing wing—
Your nests 'mid our household trees to raise,
And stir our hearts in our Maker's praise.

Harford, Conn. May, 1839.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A FALL OF LOCUSTS.

Speaking of natural exhibitions, a fall of locusts is beyond all comparison, the most awful I have ever witnessed, and I may perhaps be excused for digressing from the immediate thread of my narrative to give my readers some account of that dreadful scourge, which is considered in eastern and southern countries, the most unailing manifestation of the wrath of God.

Travelling along the western coasts of Africa, I once beheld this terrible infliction. These creatures fell in thousands and tens of thousands around us, and upon us, on the sands upon which we were riding, and on the sea that was beating at our feet; yet we were removed from their most oppressive influence; for a few hundred yards to our right, thickening the air, the great innumerable host came on slowly and steadily advancing in a direct line and in a mighty moving column. The fall of locusts from his central column was so great, that when a cow directly under the line of flight, attempting ineffectually to graze in the field, approached her mouth to the grass, there rose immediately so dense a swarm that her head was so, a moment almost concealed from sight; and she moved along, bewildered by this worse than Egyptian plague, clouds of locusts rose up under her feet visible even at a distance, as clouds of dust when set in motion by the wind on a stormy day. At the extremity of the field I saw the husbandmen bending over their staffs, and gazing with hopeless eyes upon that host of death which swept like a destroying angel over the land, and con-

S100 REWARD.

RAN AWAY from the subscribers' of the SEVERN RIVER, in Anne-Arundel county, a Negro boy called DICK SPARROW, dark skin, and not very tall though well set; he is about 18 or 20 years old. I will give Fifty Dollars if taken in Anne-Arundel county, or in the city or county of Baltimore, and One Hundred Dollars if taken elsewhere.

R. S. STEWART.

A MANAGER WANTED.

FOR the ensuing year, on the Farm of the subscriber, on the North side of the Severn river, near Annapolis. A person that can come well recommended for sobriety and industry, and a complete knowledge of Farming, will find a desirable situation. None other need apply.

HENRY E. BALLARD.

September 12.

The Sentinel, Centreville, and Whig, Easton will insert the above for four weeks, and forward their accounts to this office.

November came on, with an eye severe,
And his stormy language was borne to hear—
And the glittering garland of brown and red,
Which he wreath'd for a while round the forest's head,
With sudden anger he rent away,
And all was eberleis, and bare, and gray.

Then the homeless grasshopper told his woes,
And the humming bird sent forth a wailing for the rose,
And the spider, that weaver of cunning so deep,
Roll'd himself up, like a ball, to sleep;
And the cricket, his merry horn laid by,
On the shelf, with the pipe of the dragon fly.

Soon voices were heard at the morning prime,
Consulting of flight to a warmer clime,
"Let us go, let us go," said the bright-winged jay—
And his gay spouse sang from a rocking spray,
"I am tired to death of this hum-drum tree,
I'll go—if 'tis only the world to see.

"Will you go?" asked the robin, "my only love?"
And a tender strain from the leafless grove
Responded—"Wherever your lot is cast,
Mid summer skies, or the northern blast,
I am still at your side, your heart to cheer,
Though dear is our nest, in this tricket here."

The oriole told, with a flashing eye,
How his little one shrunk from the frosty sky:
How his mate, with an age, had shaken the bed,
And lost her fine voice by a cold in her head,
And their eldest daughter an invalid grown,
No health in this terrible climate had known.

"I am ready to go," said the plump young wren;
"From the hateful homes of these northern men,
My throat is sore, and my feet are blue—
I'm afraid I've caught the consumption too!
And then I've no confidence left I own,
In the doctors out of the southern zone."

Then up went the thrush, with a trumpet call,
And the martins came forth from their box on the wall,
And the owl peep'd from his secret tower,
And the swallow conven'd on the old churchtower;
And the council of blackbirds was long and loud—
Chattering and flying, from tree to cloud.

"The dahlia is dead on her throne," said they:
"And we saw the butterfly cold as clay;
Not a worm is found on the russet plains—
Not a kernel of ripen'd maize remains—
Every worm has hid—shall we longer stay,
To be wathed with famine! Away!—away!"

But what a strange clamor on elm and oak,
From a bevy of brown-coated mocking-birds bold,
The theme of each separate speaker they told,
In a shrill report, with such mimicry bold,
That the eloquent orators started to hear
Their own true echo so wild and clear.

Then tribes afar tribe, with its leader fair,
Swept off, through the fathomless depths of air,
Whom marketh their course to the tropics bright!
Who netheth their wing for its weary flight?
Who guideth their carvan's trackless way,
By the star at night, and the cloud by day?

Some spread o'er the waters a daring wing;
In the isles of the southern sea to sing;
Or where the minaret towering high,
Pierces the gold of the western sky;
Or amid the haunts of the fabled
Their lodges to build, and their nurseries rear.

The Indian fig, with its arching screen,
Welcome them into its vistas green;
And the breathing buds of the spicy tree,
Thrill at the burst of their revelry;
And the bulbul starts 'mid his carol cheer,
Such a rushing of stranger-wings to hear.

O wild-wind wanderer! how far away
From your rural homes in our vales ye stray!
But when they are wak'd by the touch of Spring,
We shall see you again, with your glancing wing—
Your nests 'mid our household trees to raise,
And stir our hearts in our Maker's praise.

Harford, Conn. May, 1839.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A FALL OF LOCUSTS.

Speaking of natural exhibitions, a fall of locusts is beyond all comparison, the most awful I have ever witnessed, and I may perhaps be excused for digressing from the immediate thread of my narrative to give my readers some account of that dreadful scourge, which is considered in eastern and southern countries, the most unailing manifestation of the wrath of God.

Travelling along the western coasts of Africa, I once beheld this terrible infliction. These creatures fell in thousands and tens of thousands around us, and upon us, on the sands upon which we were riding, and on the sea that was beating at our feet; yet we were removed from their most oppressive influence; for a few hundred yards to our right, thickening the air, the great innumerable host came on slowly and steadily advancing in a direct line and in a mighty moving column. The fall of locusts from his central column was so great, that when a cow directly under the line of flight, attempting ineffectually to graze in the field, approached her mouth to the grass, there rose immediately so dense a swarm that her head was so, a moment almost concealed from sight; and she moved along, bewildered by this worse than Egyptian plague, clouds of locusts rose up under her feet visible even at a distance, as clouds of dust when set in motion by the wind on a stormy day. At the extremity of the field I saw the husbandmen bending over their staffs, and gazing with hopeless eyes upon that host of death which swept like a destroying angel over the land, and consigned to ruin all the prospects of the year; for wherever that column winged its flight, beneath its withering influence the golden glories of the harvest perished, and the leafy honours of the forest disappeared. There stood those ruined men, silent motionless, overwhelmed with the magnitude of their calamity, yet conscious of their utter inability to control it;—while farther on, where some woodlark lay in the immediate line of the advancing column, heat set on fire, and trees kindling into a blaze, testified the general horror, of a visitation which ill-fated inhabitants endeavoured to erect by such a frightful remedy. They believed that the smoke arising from the burning forest, and ascending into the air, would impede the direct march of the column, throw it into confusion, drive the locusts to sea, and thus deliver the country from their desolating presence.—Portugal & Galicia, by Lord Caernarvon.

REAL KNOWLEDGE OF CHRIST.

A believer, though he be ignorant of other learning, yet by the knowledge of Christ will be a blessed man, whereas all the learning in the world, without this, will leave a man miserable. To know the whole creation, and to be ignorant of the Creator, to know all his histories and antiquities, and to be unacquainted with our own hearts; to be good logicians to other purposes, and in the mean time to be cheated by Satan with paralogisms in the business of our own salvation, to be powerful orators with men, and never prevail with God; to abound with worldly wisdom and to be destitute of the fear of God, which maketh wise unto salvation—is all but a better kind of refined misery: the devils have much more learning than all this comes to, and yet are damned forever.—Bp Reynolds.

TO CORRECT DAMAGED GRAIN.

Musty grain, totally unfit for use, and which can scarcely be ground, may, it is said be rendered perfectly sweet and sound by immersing it in boiling water and letting it remain till the water becomes cold. The quantity of water must be double to that of grain to be purified. The musty quality rarely penetrates through the husk or bran of the wheat. In the hot water all the decayed or rotten grain swims upon the surface, so that the remaining wheat is effectually cleansed from all impurities, without any material loss. It is afterwards to be dried, stirring occasionally on the kiln.—New England Farmer.

DR. WM. EVANS' CELEBRATED FEVER AND AGUE PILLS.

These pills, so admirably adapted to afford uniform relief in the different modifications of these distressing maladies, are particularly recommended to public notice. On the accession of the cold stage, when the face and limbs of the sufferer become pale, and the sensation of cold and languor is felt pervading the whole system—their administration is accompanied with astonishing success—they soon lessen the subsequent distressing shivering and violent shaking, and by continuing in their use, (as directed) will ultimately cure the most obstinate ague. These pills are of signal utility in those distressing cases, where there is a salterness of complexion, pain in the region of the liver, tension and distress in the epigastric region, with other symptoms indicating the existence of morbid action, or chronic disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, mesentery or spleen, which consequences so generally supervene from protracted intermittents. They permanently overcome these diseases—at the same time give tone to the stomach, cleanse and strengthen the bowels and impart health, vigor and energy to the system. Many persons emigrate to the rich and fertile soil of the West, in the hope of attaining a future competency, but alas! ere long that hope becomes blasted, when they appear with impaired and enfeebled constitutions, resulting from attacks of that fatal fever of the West, Fever and Ague. If such persons had resorted to the use of the above pills, the broken and enfeebled constitution would have been restored to its former health, the vital energy re-established, and the whole system purified and invigorated. They are now regarded as an inestimable public blessing, and independent of the health, comfort, and even the best property of the inhabitants of many portions of our western country.

In all cases of Bilious and Nervous Fever, Hypochondriacal, Low Spirits, Palpitations of the Heart, Nervous Irritability, Nervous Weakness, Flax Aloes, Seminal Weakness, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Side, Limbs, Head, Stomach or Back, will invariably be removed by the use of the Pills.

On first feeling the premonitory symptoms occur, it is advisable at once to clear thoroughly the stomach and bowels. In no way can this be better and as inconve- niently effected, than by taking a few doses of the value and well-authenticated virtues of which medicine have been, and still are, too apparent to call for further comment. They tend to promote a healthy action of the Bile, and render the system capable of receiving with benefit the Invigorating and Strengthening Pills.

DR. EVANS' PURGING PILLS,

Directions are as follows:—Take four or more of the Purging Pills on the first accession of Fever, and continue the same number every other night, till with the additional use of the Invigorating Pills, a permanent cure is obtained.

Take three of the Invigorating Pills in the morning, three at noon, and three in the evening, on the days when the attacks do not occur.

Price One Dollar a pack, containing both kinds of Pills. Sold at Dr. Evans' Medical Establishment, 100 Chatham street, N. Y. and by his authorized Agents throughout the Union.

Agent,

JEREMIAH HUGHES,

Annapolis, Md.

September 26.

COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That persons indebted for Taxes in the Second Collection District, may make payment to Messrs. Adam & John Miller, Annapolis, who is authorized to receipt for the same.

ABNER LETHBRUM, Jr. Collector

Sep. 26—4t.

PRINTING
Neatly executed at this OFFICE.