It would not be a bad idea for the city authorities to make some kind of arrangements with Jupiter Pluvius to keep the streets clean. He would be a howling success, judging from the condition of the streets last Tuesday morning.

The Afro-American League has met in Philadelphia and adjourned, still lynching goes on. It will take a convention of angels to stop lynching backed up by a delegation from the infernal regions to stop "Pitch-fork Ben's" tongue. He and the proprietor of Hades are one and the same.

The color line in the Emancipation Committee of the G. A. R. at Cleveland seems to give Editor Smith of the Cleveland Gazette no small amount of dissatisfaction, and rightly so. Editor Smith is a brave man and has the courage of his convictions. He is liable at anytime to speak out in meeting.

The Pittsburg Independent rises to say: "The Southern white man believes in white supremacy, matters not how ignorant the whites may be." Step light up there in Pittsburg, for a Southern white man's ignorance is his personal rights and don't trample on them or you may get a hemp neck-tie party.

Charles Cecil Fitzmorris, the "globe trotter" of Hearst's Chicago American, who recently won the prize offered by the globe in sixty days, speaks highly of the services rendered him by Hon. R. T. Greener, U. S. Consul at the port of Vladivostok, Russia. And he says not a word about Mr. Greener's color either.

A recent newspaper article says that "Laborers in the South are in great demand, and that the Negroes are better paid than they have ever been in their lives before." We are certainly glad to hear it. The Negro in the South has a hard row to hoe and if he is getting good wages to help him along, it certainly is some gratification to know it.

THE APPROACHING CAMPAIGN.

In a few weeks from now the campaign will open and from the end of this State to the other will be heard the voice of the campaign speaker. The election this fall will be fraught with much that is interesting to the average citizen whether he be white or black. The science to disfranchise the colored man will not only disfranchise the colored man but the white republican as well. With twenty or thirty thousand colored voters disfranchised, the white Republicans will stand no more show of getting elected to office in the State of Maryland than they do in South Carolina or any other Southern State. With the State in the hands of the Democratic party and the Negro disfranchised, we would like much to know what will become of the Republican and Independent voter? What would become of good government? We know what the State and city has suffered in the past at the hands of these men, and we can conjecture what it will suffer in the future if they once again get the government of the city and state in their hands and the Negro disfranchised.

It then becomes a matter of grave import to the intelligent white voter as well as the illiterate Negro. As a matter of fact the white voter will suffer far more than will the colored voter. The colored voter will lose his franchise, but the white voter will lose his liberty and franchise as well. He will be bound hand and foot and at the mercy of the gang that will be in control.

To use the words of the great Severn Teackle Wallis: "The hoof of an unclean beast will be upon your necks" and it will need another revolution to shake it off. The white voter may leave the Negro to his fate, but as sure as the night follows the day the time will come when he will regret it, and then it will be too late, and the fault will be his.

ASKING FOR MORE MONEY.

The Sunday School Union of the African Methodist Episcopal Church is asking the children of the church for more money to pay for new presses and other printing material for the use of the Sunday School Union. The Sunday School Union and the Publishing Department of the A. M. E. Church in Philadelphia put us in mind of Christian and the Slough of Despond in Bunyan's Pilgrim Progress. Said Evangelist to Pilgrim, in reference to the Slough: "Thousands of cart loads of good and wholesome instructions have been swallowed up in that place, and it is no better now than before." And so say we in reference to these two departments of this church: thousands of dollars have been swallowed up in these two publishing houses and still they are crying for more. Any good business man would have taken either of these departments, without a dollar, and with the constancy that each of them boasts, not only built up a great business house, but long since would have declared a good and sufficient dividend. But as long as the church persists in putting men in these places whose only ambition is to be elected...

Now that Editor Adams has been elected president of the Press Association for the third time, we will get the Appeal occasionally. The Afro-American Press Association held its session in Bethel Church in Philadelphia. We wonder how many dead papers reported. Two white men got one year in the 'house' for assault on white women while a colored man would likely have got his neck stretched. And this is justice? Former Senator Chandler is in doubt "Fighting Bob" Evans is in doubt by this time he has been doing with the business end of a...

make their way to the bishopric, and the sooner they got there the sooner they made way for the next fellow that wanted the same job. Building up the institution was not their idea of doing things. They received their salaries whether the establishment received a dollar or not. We do not believe the children of the church should contribute a dollar towards paying for these fixtures. Enough has been spent along that line, now let the manager do the rest himself, and if he cannot do it let him step down and out and let some one else take it who can.

The colored man must learn to do business and stop forever yelling for some one to put money into his schemes from which they will never receive a cent. Put five or ten thousand dollars into this scheme and in five years you will be asked to put in as much more. A halt must come somewhere and it may as well come now as at some other time.

In all the departments of human activity and energy periodical seasons of recuperation are fixed necessities. The lawyer, the clergyman, the teacher and the working man find much solid benefit and pleasure in such refreshment, and from these benefits it would be a bit cruel to exempt the hard working editor whose continuous mental exertion demands such relaxation. And hence, a portion of our editorial staff is now enjoying the delightful diversions of Atlantic City, and if perchance during two or three weeks, the editorial columns of the Afro-American Ledger seem to suffer it is because they may, in the future, be far more bracing and stimulating on account of the rest and recreation of the producer of editorial thought.

Incidentally, such cessation of labor gives our readers a rest from solid and thoughtful reading that they may profitably peruse readings of less weight and seriousness.

THE DOMESTIC SERVICE QUESTION.

The improvement of Domestic Service is a question of intensely practical interest not only to a large class of the population who are concerned as employers, but of equal importance to that large army of wage earners who look to this honorable and useful employment for support and subsistence. Our purpose at present is simply to call attention to the urgent and extreme importance of the subject, with the hope that a consideration of it may be the means of bringing to light valuable hints and suggestions calculated to improve the service and render the workers more efficient. When it is remembered that no considerable number of our people are directly dependent upon this industry for support the importance of the matter is at once evident. There have been and are complaints with respect to the extreme difficulty of securing efficient domestic helpers, and it is just possible that this difficulty, at least in a degree is occasioned by inadequate wages, or an unfortunate mis-understanding with respect to the prerogatives of the employer on the one side and the employed on the other. At any rate the whole subject is worthy of most serious attention and study. There is no disgrace whatever attached to the position of a domestic helper. It is an honorable and necessary employment, and those who enter therein to gain for themselves a livelihood should be adequately prepared for the duties and responsibilities which the position imposes. We can but believe that just in proportion as the standard is elevated, and better and more satisfactory work is rendered, in like proportion will the pay attached to such position be increased, and greater consideration, kindness and attention displayed in the direction of improving the environments of all those engaged in such necessary but honorable industrial work.

These national affairs give the opportunity for some big fellow to shoot off something and get his name in the papers and that is the end of it. It is time for us to learn some sense and get down to business. The Afro-American Ledger of Baltimore closed its ninth year with its current issue. The Ledger is one of our most valued exchanges and we note with pleasure the many evidences of its permanent success.—The American Baptist. The Latest Government Maps. In its series of Topographic Atlas sheets the United States Geological Survey has just issued a number of new and interesting maps. They cover sections of several States and Territories, and are distributed as follows: Three in Indian Territory, one in Montana, two in Washington, one in California, two in Wisconsin, three in Wyoming and one in West Virginia. Most of them are on a scale of one half inch to the mile, and all of them besides showing the ordinary features of rivers, towns, routes, etc. also exhibit the relief of the country by means of contours or lines running through points of equal elevation. Those of Indian Territory, known as the Stone-wall, Talequah and Tuskahoma Quadrangles, from the names of the most important towns in each, are of interest in showing the physical features of that little known country. The whole series of the maps of this Territory are now coming out rapidly, and will be of value in connection with the political reconstruction which is at present going on among the Indian tribes, which will ultimately lead to a larger development of this country. The Hamilton Quadrangle, of Montana, includes a portion of the Bitter Root Mountains, which form a part of the border between Idaho and Montana. It is an exceedingly wild and unexplored region, and with the adjoining territory, has been set apart as the Bitter Root Forest Reserve. The second section included is remarkable for a series of narrow and almost perfectly straight canyons, which are admirably depicted on the map. The Chelan Quadrangle, in central Washington, shows the topography of the lofty mountain wilderness about the shores of the southern portion of the beautiful mountain enclosed lake of that name, which is one of the scenic features of the West, and the Ellensburg Quadrangle of the same state, gives an idea of the mountainous country about, and to the southwest of that town. The Wisconsin sheets, the Muskogee and Waukesha Quadrangles, which get their names from the lake and town of those names, illustrate well the moraine character of a large part of the State of Wisconsin. The three Wyoming sheets are interesting; they are the Newcastle, Cloud Peak and Dayton Quadrangles. The first five gives the region lying about Newcastle, on the western slopes of the Black Hills country. The second covers part of the Big Horn Mountains and the Forest Reserve of the same name in the vicinity of Cloud Peak, and is of especial interest as exhibiting four distinct glaciers on the sides of this mountain, which has an altitude of 13,165 feet. The Dayton sheet shows with great clearness the bluff eastern escarpment of that section of the Rocky Mountain Range. The Nicholas Quadrangle is a section of the Western slopes of the Allegheny Mountains. Topographically it is an excellent example of a well-matured region, with a fully developed and complex drainage system. Besides being an accurate map of the locality, its characteristics as a physiographic type ought to make it useful in educational work. Special interest also from an educational standpoint is the Mount Lyell, California sheet. The country it covers is in the very heart of the Sierra Nevada, and includes part of the Yosemite National Park and the lower end of Lake Mono. A number of the rugged Sierra Peaks are to be found, and the series of profound canyons which have made this region famous. The celebrated Mono Craters, the remnants of extinct volcanic action; several hanging valleys of the Rush Creek Canyon, are also to be found, as well as the Mt. Lyell Glacier, the Conness Mt., Dana Mt., and Parker Creek Glaciers, remnants of the great ice sheet which formerly covered this section, and are fully described by the reports of the Survey. All of these maps can be had at five cents a piece, on application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

THE FORUM.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due. Mr. Editor: In view of the fact that in the recent issue of your paper you called attention to the fact that certain merchants on Pennsylvania avenue were inclined to the fact that they were receiving largely patronage from colored people took steps to keep them from having the school on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Dolphin streets. You mentioned the fact that Mr. Jenkins was one of them, but you did not mention the name of Mr. Heldman who was also one of the party. This gentleman has expressed himself as openly as did Mr. Jenkins. But I wish to call your attention to the fact that Mr. W. H. Sullivan, also a merchant on Pennsylvania avenue, and who has a large patronage from the colored people, positively refused to be a party to the movement to keep the colored people from the school mentioned above. I only wish to give credit to whom credit is due. Trusting you will give this a place in your journal I am yours For Bono Publico.

Colored people are not the only ones enamored to the luscious watermelon. A white man in Virginia stole a cart load of the "red-to-the-rine" fruit and on returning for a second load was met with a load of buckshot which put him out of the game. There is but a small demand in England for books and periodicals compared with the United States, which, coincidental with its material progress, is now the book market of the world.

Strange Trees to Look at. Willowood, the resort on the Jersey coast where the ceremony of casting flowers upon the sea on Memorial day, in memory of naval heroes, was inaugurated, has a good reason for its name. It is located upon an island, which is separated from the mainland by Grassy sound. For about two miles a grove of trees, perhaps the most remarkable in the world, fringes the sound. The place takes its name from the trees, which have been shriveled and distorted into all kinds of fantastic shapes by the gales which swept over it from the Atlantic for centuries. The coast is exposed to the full sweep of the east and northeast storms of the winter rage for several months. Some of the trunk trees have twisted into numbers of the alphabet and others which give the grove the appearance of being haunted among some negro servants and ignorant people who live in the locality, tree, which must be fully 50 years has been bent over until it forms the figure 8, looking at it from one side, while from another point of view it is a perfect oval. From the lower left-hand corner projects a branch which startlingly resembles a snake's head, with the tongue sticking out. Two of the largest trees started to grow up from the ground, then changed their minds and bent downward, shaping their trunks into the form of the letter W. Still another tree has grown in the form of the letter N, two trunks starting from the same root below ground and a third growing from one to the other in a diagonal direction. Another consists of two trunks running straight up and parallel to each other. At no less than five different points branches or stubs have grown from one trunk into the other, forming a sort of natural ladder, for a distance of thirty feet from the ground. The warm southeastern breeze brought nourishment to Willowood, and vines and plants grow luxuriantly. Some of the grapevines are of mammoth size and, trailing along the ground, have run up into trees and expanded until they seem like immense boa constrictors. Even the upper branches of the trees have been twisted into curious shapes, and a number have been cut out in the form of different articles. Three of them are almost exactly the shape of a triangle, a harp and pitcher. In walking through the grove one can scarcely find a tree which has not some odd form about it. A large holly can be seen which really consists of two trunks twisted about each other. Each trunk is fully a foot in thickness and it is supposed that when young two slips were blown around in this way and have gradually grown together. The spiral separation can be traced from the roots fully forty feet from the ground.—Philadelphia Record.

Dear Brethren: We the Shiloh Baptist church of Salem extend to you a cordial greetings and heartily welcome you into our midst. We have looked forward with pleasure and eagerness to your coming and verily our hearts have made to rejoice, now that you are present. We feel honored to have you as our guest, believing that only good can result from having such a dignified and Christian set of men within our gates. We welcome you to our town which is the pride of the Roanoke Valley, with its fertile lands equable, temperature and beautiful moonshine. To Salem, the fair Switzerland of the South, we welcome you, and may you find opportunity while here to take in some of the beautiful scenery that surrounds us. A visit to Twelve O'clock Knob, Hanging Rock, Glenn Springs and other vicinities will convince you that our tribute to the town is not a vain one. While other sections of the country have been visited by the severe heat and both man and all vegetation have suffered for the want of rain, we have been wonderfully blessed with the most refreshing showers, and can assure you that our gardens have blossomed as the rose, and now you need only to behold the full ear of corn, the cabbage from the stalk and the potato sprouting from the ground to give you a taste of what awaits you. We throw open our doors and welcome you with security into our homes, by our hearthstones and at our tables. And while we notice that great deal of cackling and crowing has proceeded in the and chickens have curried their lives with a mysterious air of solemnity if they knew there was danger ahead because the preachers were coming. All we can assure you that your appetites will be fully satisfied, because there are chickens galore; and the hens and incubators are hatching out more every day.

The good people of Salem are noted for their generous hospitality and you are back for a good good and drink. We can certainly furnish you with an abundance of bright sparkling water, which is not measured by meters, but by dogheads. If you prefer free stone we have that, and if limestone, so much the better. We can even supply you with sulphur and iron if you do not object to taking a nice invigorating constitution to rest it. And lastly we welcome you into our church. It is yours, take full possession of it; and within its walls may we be united family. We trust that the fitting of the Association may be the most profitable and prosperous one in the history of this distinguished body. May all of your transactions be conducted with peace, harmony and good will, and may God's most benediction and benediction rest with and may your having been here be the edification of each individual, the promotion of the spiritual life of the church, and above all to the glorification of God.

We say to all welcome, welcome and we welcome. We remained there three days, heard the big excursions come in with big people. Met, Prof. G. W. Hayes, saw 100 people together at one time and returned to Baltimore Saturday to the home of Bishop Handy, where the pleasure of shaking his hand at that of his wife. I am not going to more about him now, but will answer time. Last Sunday I had the pleasure of visiting many people in this part of the city and went to the church where Eggleston preaches. I was there at afternoon. But I have told you about Mary Ellen Randolph; well I told you before, she is the my private secretary and came spend a day with her, so the two to go out sight-seeing with them to say that they have heard of it, Memorial Church before, and we heard that it is a fine church that they wanted to go and so I went along with them, and one of the prominent seats in church, and I never thought church was a place to go to see, serve God, and since they were going, I believe that I liked to dis of them in that fine church, to sleep and snored so loud I almost gave myself up. They brushed me, but I have left me had it not been for me to come out of church.

I had the pleasure of... A. and listening... some of our dis... this is a... about... on... ent... be it... not... the... chery... the... are of... and I... my... I am... I... at and... all mail... I have... I have... at when... world, but they tell me if I come I will have crabs with the devil in them, and since I want to see the devil I must go to that place.

My private secretary seems to be getting along all right in her new job and I can afford to board her for she only eats one meal a day.

WILL ATTEND ANNUAL SESSION.

The Annual Session of the R. W. Grand Council of the Independent Order of St. Luke will be held in Chesapeake City, Va. August 27, to 30th. A large number of delegates from Baltimore will be present, among whom are: R. W. P. G. Chief, Mrs. Sarah E. Crane; R. W. G. Deputy James Frey; of King Solomon Council, No. 1; Mrs. Jennie Ross, Olive Branch, No. 2; Mrs. Mary Priest and Mrs. Mary Pratt, of Dorcas, No. 35; A. W. Jefferson and Mrs. Eliza Howe, of Mt. Zion, No. 38; James F. Randall, Elmira Grant and James Peyton of St. James No. 39; Miss Lily Fisher, of the St. John Club, which will in the future be known as St. John Council will accompany the delegation.

The Order of St. Luke was organized in this city a number of years ago by Miss Mary Prout, well known at that time as one of the most progressive colored women of this city. The Order has since been established in Virginia and other Southern States, and is in a prosperous condition. The Order numbers in the neighborhood of 300 in this city and State.

The following are the grand officers:— R. W. Grand Chief, William James, Deep Bottom, Va.; R. W. G. V. Chief, Joseph Pratt, Baltimore, Md.; Thomas H. Hatstead, R. W. G. Rec. Sec., Norfolk, Va.; R. W. G. Fin. Sec., Miss Emma Randolph, Baltimore, Md.; R. W. G. Treasurer, Washington Diggs, Pocombe, Va.; and R. W. G. Mother, Catherine Smith, Chesapeake City, Va. St. John's Council is a new council recently organized by the R. W. G. Deputy, James Frey, and have the following officers: Levy Passy, John Davis, Matilda Dorsey, Robert Brown, Edith Ross, Thomas Walter, Albert Seywell, Daisy Dancy, Alfred Brown, Louise Smallwood, William T. Webb, Mary Williams, W. Ayers.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Thunder and Lightning Break up a Camp Meeting—Thinks the Lord Will Send Punishment Upon the Campers.

(Special to The Afro-American Ledger.)

Cambridge, Md., Aug. 11th—Camp meetings are the talk of the neighborhood and hundreds of people are coming down from the cities to meet their friends on the camp ground.

The people of East New Market will always remember the 11th day of August and will look upon the day as a visitation of God's displeasure upon them. During the campmeeting Sunday, while hundreds of people were on the ground looking at about ten preachers who occupied the platform, and while at the lower end of the camp, those who kept the lunch and confectionary stand were in the act of selling and buying, "to make the camp a success," while services were being held, a flash of lightning was seen and a clap of thunder heard, which brought silence upon the whole audience and caused men and women to tremble. Then all of a sudden the voice of a man was heard crying: "O Lord, Look what the Lord has done," and when the people gathered around him they found that the lightning had struck his shoe, split it open and lightly touched his legs. When they looked further they found that two mules were instantly killed and hundreds of horses were neighing and prancing, trying to break their harness. Of course that broke up the camp and the men and women went home with fear upon their mind, and promising not to indulge in buying and selling on the Lord's day again.

That ought to warn men and women of the evil but so many will not hark-en until God sends severe punishment upon them.

Mrs. Sarah J. Smith, who has been quite sick for a few weeks, is much better and will soon be able to attend to her duties again.

Rev. E. E. Hughes and family are visiting in the neighborhood. They are tenting on the camp ground.

Dr. I. L. Thomas of Washington, D. C., is a guest of Rev. A. L. Martin. He preached at Bethel Camp, last Monday night.

The open air Evangelistic Meetings at Bethel Church Lawn is meeting with much success. Crowds attend and souls are coming to Christ. The people enjoy the meetings and seem to encourage the visitors.

BE NOT DECEIVED
TO THE COLORED PEOPLE OF AMERICA.
King of all Hair Tonics,
"OZONO."

Recognizing the fact that there are many 80-CALLED hair-growers and hair-straighteners now on the market, and knowing to a certainty that many of these are frauds pure and simple, we wish to make a straight-forward, honest statement to the colored race through this great paper. In the year 1871 our late secretary, Mrs. S. M. Moore, through a fortunate circumstance, acquired the receipt for OZONO. It was not offered for sale or purchase to any extent until 1875, when it was put upon the market and met with marked success. After a thorough test by the colored people of that time it was pronounced an honest, legitimate remedy, true to all that was claimed for it, and worthy in every respect of the confidence of every member of the colored race, because they found it to cause the hair to grow long and straight, soft and fine, and as beautiful as an April morning. Now, whenever a genuine article appears upon the market there are always a number of people who imitate and make capital out of the merits of other people's goods. Seeing our marked success, numerous firms have entered the market, offering hair-growers and hair-straighteners, many of which are worthless, causing the hair to fall out and doing great damage to the hair and scalp, and the colored people are buying these spurious compounds, which are filled with animal fats, and do the hair more harm than good. To those let us sound a warning—be careful what you use on your hair. Do not be deceived by flaring advertisements and big words. Buy the King of all Hair Tonics, to be used on the scalp. And, lastly, to prove our liberality, we will put in a pint package of Anti-Odor, a positive cure for Sore Throat or Mouth, all forms of Womb Diseases, Chills, Sore and Frotted Feet; also removes all smells and odors arising from the human body, such as feet, arm pits, etc. The actual value of this Grand Aggregate is $4.00, but we let you have it for $1.00, simply to introduce honest goods. In order to protect the public in general from imitations of our goods, and to avoid mistakes, we have placed upon our coupon our Trade-Mark, one head showing Short Hair and the other head Long Hair. The U. S. Government has granted us this trade-mark, and it is registered in the Patent Office at Washington; so if the coupon has this trade-mark on it, you will make no mistake. Use only the coupon having the two heads on it. As to our responsibility, we refer you to the Editor of this paper or to the Metropolitan Bank of Richmond, Va. We have thousands of testimonials we have not space to publish. Here is a sample of one:

Boston Chemical Company:
 Dear Sirs,—You are at liberty to state in any newspaper that I have used OZONO, and give it my most hearty recommendation. I have been fooled so often, it does me good to recommend the most honest goods.

Here is another:
 Gentlemen,—After using OZONO a short while only, I am glad to say that my hair is already straight and growing finely.

MISS BESSIE POWERS,
 233 Missouri street, Toledo, O.

A last word. OZONO is absolutely guaranteed to straighten hair and cause a beautiful and luxuriant growth. If your hair is already straight, you can use it to secure a glossy long growth. Buy only the genuine "OZONO." Send us $1.00 at once, and the goods will be sent the same day we receive your order.

OZONO,
 which is sold with an iron-clad guarantee to do all that is claimed for it, or we will forfeit $50.00. Now, we ask you a plain question—would we absolutely agree to forfeit $50.00 if you are dissatisfied with our preparations, if they were not true to all we claim for them? We have advertised for several years under this guarantee, and we are glad to say that every one who has used Ozono has been satisfied in every respect. 20,000 people are to-day using our preparations, and every purchaser recommends Ozono as the King of all Hair Tonics. Ozono will positively take the Kinks out of Knotty, Kinky, Harsh, Curly, Refractory, Troublesome Hair. It will make short, harsh hair long and straight. It will cure your head of all itching, worrying scalp diseases. Itch, Eczema, Dandruff, and Scurf can not live after Ozono has been applied. It will stop your hair from falling out. It will restore gray hair to its natural color, making the hair long and soft.

Now, right here, let us make a statement. Many firms are advertising remedies to straighten hair, but when they send the preparation they tell you to use hot iron. Friends, do not use hot irons; they will burn up the life of the hair, and cause it to drop out. Ozono straightens without any outside assistance. Nothing but Ozono is necessary, and the hair stays straight forever. You can stop the use at any time. The good effects of the hair are seen in a day or two after the first application.

The price of Ozono is 50c. a bottle—4 boxes do the work. We make this liberal offer, which is good at any time: Cut out this coupon and send to us, enclosing with it the sum of One Dollar, and we will forward to you four large boxes of Ozono and one large bottle of Electrical Skin Refiner, which makes black skin bright, rough skin soft and pliant, and cures all skin diseases. Also removes all facial imperfections, and actually removes small-pox pits. We will also include one fancy jar of our Electrical Skin Food—Nature's great beautifier—removes wrinkles, moth patches, freckles, and all facial blemishes; makes the old look young and the young look younger.

We will also include one package of our celebrated Scalp Soap, which is absolutely CHEMICALLY PURE, and no soap but a pure soap should ever

SAVED BY ANOTHER BEAR.

One Bear Was Drowning His Mate When a Third Interfered.

But for the energetic and almost human action of one of the bears in the cage at City Park yesterday afternoon, here would have been a death by drowning in the colony. One of the bears in the cage held the head of another under the water until the first was nearly asphyxiated and would probably have held the victim there till he died had not a third bear in the cage become alarmed at the struggles of the drowning animal and rushed to the rescue, getting him out of the water barely in time to save his life. As it was, the water-soaked bear was nearly smothered and the rescuing bear had to roll him about considerably before he showed any signs of life. After he had recovered, the bear which nearly caused the casualty became conscience-stricken over the possible serious results of his prank and during the rest of the afternoon showed by his deferential manner and solicitous demeanor that he was thoroughly penitent.

There are seven animals in the bear pit at the park, three being on one side and four on the other. During the heated weather a hose is sprayed constantly into the pit. On one side of the pit is a trough which is full of water and in which the bears roll and toss throughout the day. Yesterday afternoon two of the three bears in one compartment, after playing around in the cage for some time rolled into the water, where they continued cuffing and flailing each other about evidently in play. After a scuffle one got the other's head in his paw and, throwing the weight of his body on him, pushed his body, head and all, under the water, holding it there firmly. The victim struggled hard, but the top bear had him absolutely under control and he was unable to raise his head out of the water to breathe. The third bear watched the antics of the top bear for some time in an apparent disinterested manner until it appeared to suddenly dawn upon him that there was some danger. Then he jumped into the trough and pushing the top bear away dragged the recumbent and almost lifeless form of the under animal out of the trough into the cement floor of the cage.

For a short time it appeared as though the bear was really dead, and the offending bear was commencing to whine pitiously when the nearly drowned animal snorted and opened his eyes. Within half an hour all was serene in the cage, but the two bears did not play in the water any more.—Denver Republican.

Boon For London's Small Boy.

Too long has the susceptible stomach of the London boy been a dumping ground for the microbes of the not-over-clean Italian vendor of ices. We know him—the oleaginous motive-power of a barrow, selling frozen concoctions manufactured in the cellars of Saffron Hill, where the ice machine lives with the monkey of the organ man and the decaying vegetables of a colony of lodgers. We know his trick of catching the penny that burns in the pocket of the small boy, luring it from its safe concealment by the seductive "taster"—a preliminary free gift which is as insidious and demoralizing as the prospectus of a bogus company.

"London ices for the London boy." That is the motto of the British company which has been formed to sell penny ices, guaranteed pure and wholesome manufacture, from clean barrows, attended by clean British salesmen in clean white coats. Every ice will be served in a paper cup with a metal spoon, both intended to be thrown away when once used, so that the propagation of disease by repeated washings of ice-glasses in water that is far from reputable may be avoided.

It is no jesting matter, this selling of unwholesome ices by peripatetic Italian vendors. As each summer comes around we have the half-penny ices of the street, the same neglect of the warning by careless children, the same record of deaths directly to the ice-barrow.—London Express.

Stone Mansion Moved Twenty Miles.

Because New Castle was ungrateful, as he thought, the millionaire manufacturer, John Stevenson, withdraw his capital from the town, and moved his $100,000 stone mansion to Sharon. He is now occupying the dwelling. Stevenson helped to organize the Sharon Steel Company, the independent giant which the trust trust has rendered harmless for five years by buying up its product.

"I am going to move my house to Sharon," he said. "What will it cost, and how long will it take?" The contractor was stunned. Stevenson's house was a massive stone affair, costing about $100,000, and Sharon is about twenty miles away. Finally he estimated that the job could be done for $25,000. "Then move it," said Mr Stevenson.

The house was moved. The polished hardwood furnishings were removed, the great stone blocks were lifted from their places, numbered, and loaded on freight cars a mile down town, and within a few weeks the dissected mansion was lying on the grass of a fine residence site on Sharon's most aristocratic street. Within a few more weeks it had been put together again, and the contractor got his check. In all, the operation cost about $30,000. A hole in the ground marks the spot where the handsome dwelling stood on Neshaunock Crescent, New Castle, and a larger hole in the wealth of New Castle is commemorative of a capital that once helped to make the wheels of industry hum there.—Philadelphia North American.

A Feature of Swiss Funerals.

The mourning urn is a feature of Swiss funerals. When the death notice is published, there is appended to it a plea for sympathy which states that the mourning urn will be on exhibition at a given hour on a certain table covered with a black cloth which rests a black urn is set in front of the afflicted house. Into the friends of the mourning family their black-bordered cards, the inquiring friends inscribing a few words of sympathy. Only men ever go to the churchyard, and they must make the journey on foot, no matter what the distance.

ACUINALDO'S LIFE IN PALANAN.

The Little Village Which Hid the Fugitive Filipino Leader.

Palanan is a little village of houses built of bamboo and thatched with nipa, situated on the banks of the river which bears the same name, and some six miles distant from the seashore, says Emil Aguinaldo in Everybody's Magazine. It is in one of the most isolated places in the province of Isabela, northern Luzon. There are no ways of communication with the outside world except through rough trails or paths that lead over the mountains to the west, to Haglan, or south to Urgan, and its peaceful population of some twelve hundred souls has heard very little of the tide of war which for four years has desolated our country. Nevertheless when I first went there with my companions and our little band of followers, in the month of September, 1900, I was received with enthusiasm by these simple, hospitable people, and everything that they had was placed at my disposal. I was accompanied by Dr. Santiago Barcelona and Colonel Simon Villa, my chief-of-staff.

We had some seventeen soldiers, who had followed us in all our wanderings over the mountains and through the forests of northern Luzon. Barracks were furnished for these soldiers, and a house was set apart for the residence of myself and my companions.

We lived here quietly for several weeks, enjoying the few diversions in the way of amusement that the village could offer. There was a fairly capable band of music, and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons it was accustomed to give concerts in the plaza in front of my house, next to the church, for the young people of the village.

A Pretty Royal Custom.

A pretty custom dating from the wedding of the late Queen Victoria, a contributor to the Spectator says, has ever since pertained in the royal family. A sprig of myrtle which formed part of the bride's wreath was carefully cultured, and in due time planted out. When the Princess Royal was married sprigs were cut for her bridal wreath from this myrtle tree. The Princess, following her mother's example, had one of the sprigs cared for till it became a full-sized tree, which served for her daughter-in-law's wreath at the wedding of the present Emperor of Germany.

The custom was observed in the marriage of the Prince of Wales and daughter of Queen Victoria's children and grandchildren. There is already, as a result of the organ man and the decaying vegetables of a colony of lodgers. We know his trick of catching the penny that burns in the pocket of the small boy, luring it from its safe concealment by the seductive "taster"—a preliminary free gift which is as insidious and demoralizing as the prospectus of a bogus company.

"Hand-to-Mouth" Livers Are Slaves.

One of the paradoxes of waste is that the persons most addicted to it are not men and women of independent means, who can support themselves in spite of their extravagant expenditure, but the poorer classes. There is hardly an uneducated laborer who might not be financially independent, if he would carefully husband his receipts and guard against the little leaks of needless expense. But, unfortunately, this is the thing which the workman finds it the hardest to do. There are a hundred laborers who are willing to work hard to every half-dozen who are willing properly to husband their earnings. Instead of hoarding a small percentage of their receipts, so as to provide against sickness or want of employment, they eat and drink up their earnings as they go, and thus, in the first financial crash when mills and factories "shut down," and capital is laid up their cash instead of using it in great enterprises they are ruined. Men who thus live "from hand to mouth" never keep more than a day's march ahead of their actual want, are little better off than slaves.—Saturday Review.

Drudgery That Made Geniuses.

Paderewski, when told by her Highness, Princess Victoria, perhaps most accomplished musician of all members of the royal family, that he "surely inspired," answered: "Your royal highness will be surprised when I tell you, I remember the day when I was an indifferent player. I was detestable, however, to be what the world genius—and to be genius I felt that I must first be a drudger, and drudgery always goes hand in hand with genius"—and Paderewski added: "is three-quarters of that what genius is."—Practical Drudgery.
